Medford Man Wins Farm In Drawing At Idaho Project

Caldwell, Ida., Mar. 27—Melvin Eugene Hilkey, Medford, was was of the individuals whose names were drawn in a fish-bowl lottery for new farms on a reclamation project in Idaho, last week.

A Klamath Falls man, Paul E. Stockard, was number one in the drawing, which was held here Saturday The drawing was to decide the ownership of 47 new homesteads opened by the bureau of reclamation on its Black Canyon project.

3,000 Attend

Some 3,000 persons attended the drawing, which was held in the Caldwell rodeo arena. Nearly 200 applied for the farms, and war veterans were given preference.

R. J. Newell, retired regional director of the bureau, drew the first number. The second number awarded a farm to John R. Hansen, Sanish, N. C.

Eligibility requirements include at least two years of farming experience, recommendations as to character and farming ability, and $3,700 in working capital.

Ashland Budget Group Holds First Meeting

Ashland, Mar. 27—First in a series of meetings of the city's interim budget committee, council finance committeemen and city department heads was held here Friday evening to study the budget proposed for the city for the fiscal year 1950-51.

It became apparent at the meeting, according to City Recorder J. B. Austin, that the budget will exceed the six per cent constiutional limitation on increases this year. This will require a vote of the people to approve the budget.

Austin said that the limitation would be exceeded no matter how expenses are cut, and he said that increasing costs and greater service demands have left no alternative to greater costs.

Communications Reservists' Subject

The last of three lessons on service communication zone will be given at the meeting of the 6310th logistical training division of the organized reserve corps at 7:30 p. m. today at the federal building, 33 North Riverside avenue.

Instructors will be Maj. George K. Bruce and Capt. John H. Hunter. Administrative officers of the division stated that a high percentage of attendance is needed to influence the rating of the division for the ORC program that will be instituted in April.

Col. Russell Snyder, chief of the Oregon military district, was in this area last week inspecting units and facilities in connection with the new reserve program.
