News Notes From Medford Hi

By Robene Starcher

Barbara Manley and Warren Wendt were named winners of the annual BPOE awards for outstanding students at an assembly held March 29 in the auditorium. Barbara's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Manley and Warren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wendt. Barbara is president of the association, and Warren is student body president. Both are members of the varsity basketball squad. Both are seniors.

Morris Leonard, past exalted ruler of the Medford BPOE lodge, presented Barbara with a check for $35 and Warren with a check for $25. Frank Van Dyke, member of the lodge, and Ernest Scott, secretary, were also introduced.

The high school orchestra, under the direction of Miss Melba Chehak, played "Bohemian Song," prelude to Act III of "Lohengrin," and "Pavanne," as well as two string numbers, "Menuet" in which the five string sections demonstrated their different parts, and "Pizzicato Caprice."

Barbara Burns, narrator for the program, read the story for a novelty number entitled "The Cat and the Fiddle" and the concluding number was "A Fox Hunt."

Basketball letters were presented to the varsity team members by Frank Roelandt, basketball coach.

An assembly March 22 in the auditorium, featured Vinson Brown, of the National School assemblies. Brown told many interesting and colorful stories of the jungles of Costa Rica and Panama. He illustrated his lecture with slides and showed a map of the area in Central America in which his ranch is located.

Brown told how to tell the difference between alligators and crocodiles, saying that an alligator has very weak jaw muscles; a child can hold his mouth shut. A crocodile, however, has very strong jaw muscles and can easily kill a man. The speaker also told how a large, black jaguar entered his cabin, one night, and of attempts made by other people to find and bring out a large collection of jewelry accumulated by an ancient tribe of Indians and believed to be located near his ranch.

Seniors were measured for caps and gowns during both lunch periods March 29, 30 and 31. Girls assisting during the first lunch period each day were Joan and Gerrie Haring and Barbara Green. Those assisting during the second period each day were Barbara Manley, D'Ann Beck, Muriel Tolle, Diane Fries and Elaine Leach.
