Medford Woman, Son Plan Extended Tour Of European Countries

Mrs. George Coddling, 1015 Queen Anne avenue, will leave Medford Saturday, April 8 to spend the next six months on a leisurely tour of European countries with her son, George Coddling Jr. Mrs. Coddling will board the Queen Elizabeth at New York for the Atlantic crossing.

Young Coddling has been attending Institute Universitaire, de Hautes Etudes Internationales, in Geneva and is receiving his doctorate in political science. The two travelers plan to tour England, Holland, France, Italy, Spain and North Africa. They will attend the music festival at Strasbourg, Austria, the famous Passion Play at Oberammergau, Germany, and also plan to visit many castles and art galleries.

Roseburg Meet Held By DAV Auxiliary

A district conference for Disabled American Veterans auxiliaries of district six was called in Roseburg, March 26 by Mrs. Paul Olsen, commander of the district.

Delegates were present from units in Klamath Falls, Medford, Grants Pass and Roseburg. Many visitors also attended.

Attending from Medford were Mrs. James Lille, state department commander; Mrs. Olsen, Mrs. Cliff Heeter, unit commander; Mrs. Edward Neff, state executive committee woman and Mrs. Lucius Kincaid, delegate.

Mrs. Nancy Wulf of Roseburg was nominated at the conference for district commander. One more district meeting will be held in Grants Pass in May, when election will be held for a district commander who will be installed at the state convention in June.

What's New at BELL'S

Just arrived—decorative treasures in the popular Chinese motif. A mandarin and maid in black, white and gold would be striking with any color scheme. For a whimsical touch, a pair of cunning Chinese children sit on a whatnot shelf with their trousered legs hanging over the edge. Cigarette boxes with ash trays to match come in several colors. In Chinese imports, we have some lovely pieces in pewter, brass and porcelain.

We have received some polished aluminum trays and bowls that are new and different. Copper handles and trim are in effective contrast, and both aluminum and copper are lacquered for lasting beauty. These are in several sizes, from small snack tray to large lazy Susan.

Among new items for your yellow kitchen are canister sets, bread boxes, dust pans and step-on cans, all gaily decorated with spring flowers. Those useful Ecko kitchen tools have blossomed out with yellow handles, and Dazey juicers and can openers are here in yellow too. To protect that new drainboard, we have Rubbermaid draining trays in—yellow and white. And to show that we aren't in a rut, we have all these kitchen helps in other colors.

Shown following their wedding March 25 at Medford's First Presbyterian church are Mr. and Mrs. Arlon E. Skinner. The bride is the former Phyllis Anne Wendt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Wendt, Old Stage road, and Mr. Skinner is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Skinner, 1004 East Main street. (Shangle photo).

Miss Phyllis Anne Wendt Wedded to Arlon Skinner

Miss Phyllis Anne Wendt became the bride of Arlon E. Skinner at one of the largest of the valley's spring weddings, more than 300 guests having attended the ceremony held Saturday, March 25 at 8 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church here. The Rev. Holly Roy Jarvis of the First Christian church officiated.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wendt wore a powder blue crepe gown with pink maline hat and pink gloves. Her bouquet was of gardenias and pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore grey crepe with cape of blue lace and blue maline hat and white gloves. Her flowers were also pink rosebuds and gardenias.

Mr. Skinner and his bride traveled to southern California for their honeymoon, the bride wearing a navy blue suit with white pique hat and her wedding orchid. The bride has been attending Oregon State college, where she was a member of Sigma Kappa sorority. Mr. Skinner attended Oregon State college for two years and later was graduated from General Motors institute in Michigan. He is a member of Toastmasters and Lions clubs. The newlyweds will live at 710 King street in this city.

In Medford for the wedding were Miss JoAnne Chase, Portland; Miss Helen Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Obenchain and Carolyn Jean, M. H. Obenchain and Mrs. Frank Obenchain Sr., all of Klamath Falls.

Wedding Date Set By Valley Couple
Invitations will be in the mail this week for the wedding of Miss Patricia Jean Lawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd K. Lawson, 1418 Reddy avenue, to Robert William Sutton. The rites have been set for April 23 at 3 p. m. in the First Methodist church.

Both young people are graduates of Medford high school and later attended Southern Oregon college. Mr. Sutton recently completed a tour of duty in the navy. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sutton of Ashland.

Mr. Charles Shinn and Mrs. Raymond Morton, who lighted the candles, wore identical white marquisette frocks and carried nosegays of roses around tapers. Harold Skinner was best man for his brother, and ushers were William Wall, Warren Wendt, brother of the bride, and Winston E. Carl.

The reception which followed was in the church parlor. Mrs. John Niedermeyer cut the wedding cake, assisted by Mrs. Otto Niedermeyer. Both are aunts of the bride. Mrs. H. E. Conger, another aunt, served coffee and Mrs. Dale Harlan, cousin of the bride from San Francisco, served punch. Miss Patricia Barnum took charge of the guest book. Others assisting with the reception were Mrs. E. B. DeVoe and Mrs. E. G. Randolph and Miss Marie Obenchain, cousin of the bride from Klamath Falls, provided piano music.

An arrangement of pink and white snapdragons centered the bride's table and a garland of sweetpeas encircled the punch bowl. Other spring flowers completed the reception decor.

Miss Dolores Wilkinson was maid-of-honor. She wore a white taffeta frock with bouffant skirt and carried a nosegay of American beauty roses. Bridesmaids were Miss Betty Jean Hase, Miss Barbara Niedermeyer and Miss Charlotte Niedermeyer, the Misses Niedermeyer being cousins of the bride. The bridesmaids' gowns, designed to match Miss Wilkinson's dress, were of American beauty taffeta and they carried nosegays of white roses. The attendants all wore halos of carnations, and white mitts.

Society Announces Next Concert Date; Program Is Varied

The Philharmonic Society of Southern Oregon has announced April 18 as the date of its final concert of the 1949-50 season, and the event will be held in the high school auditorium beginning at 8 p. m.

The program, although of considerable length as planned, will be of great variety and interest, comprising works from light and grand opera, as well as operatic ballet with Colleen Hope and selected dancers from her classes, according to Richard D. Werner, director.

Selections from the "Merry Widow" by Lehár will open the program and the offering of the chorus for this light opera portion of the program will be Victor Herbert's "March of the Toys" from "Babes in Toyland" with the orchestra accompanying.

First part of the ballet section of the concert will be "Hymn to the Sun" from "Le Coq d'Or" by Rimsky-Korsakoff, and the second section of this part of the program will be the ballet from "Aida" by Verdi.

The grand opera portion of the program will be presented by both soloists and chorus and will include selections from "Pagliacchi" by Leoncavallo, from Bizet's "Carmen" and selections from "Tannhauser" by Wagner.

Another operatic feature will be four short choruses from the opera "Linda" by the director, Mr. Werner. These choruses are Negro in character, and simple in construction, being used in the opera as local color. One, "Treat Me Right" is a real Negro spiritual which the librettist, E. M. Andrews, picked up from an old slave in Alabama.

The rest, original music by the composer, are "Hallowe'en Song," "Banjo Song" and "Lament."

Artists Prepare For Spring Shows Dated In Portland
Local artists are preparing for the annual spring art exhibitions to be held again this year in Portland. The first showing will be for active members of Oregon Society of Artists from April 17 to 22 in the Meier and Frank auditorium. Original works in oil, watercolor, pastel and other graphic arts may be entered.

Medford artists who have entered paintings to the selection committee, which will pass on all works before they are hung in the exhibition, are Hal Bishop and Clifford Platz.

Mr. Platz has entered two paintings, one a winter scene in the newer medium of casein, and a landscape in water color. "Oregon Country" is the title of Mr. Bishop's entry. The painting is in oil and depicts emigrants of a wagon train stopped on top of the Siskiyou looking over the country.

Eugene Bennett, local artist now attending Chicago Institute of Art, will enter two of his paintings in the exhibition of work of the artists of Oregon to be held in the Portland Art Museum, April 22 through May 21. The two paintings he is submitting will be remembered here from Mr. Bennett's Medford exhibit last summer. Both are water colors and they are entitled "Mississippi Mansions," and "Sailboats."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wendt wore a powder blue crepe gown with pink maline hat and pink gloves. Her bouquet was of gardenias and pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore grey crepe with cape of blue lace and blue maline hat and white gloves. Her flowers were also pink rosebuds and gardenias.
