Radio Patter by Pat

Women played a big part in the founding and settling of the west and this fact is brought home forcibly when "The Lone Ranger" and Tonto are accused of a crime they did not commit. They face an angry posse and it takes a "Woman of Courage" to turn the mob away. In "The Lone Ranger," adventure of that title to be heard over Station KVJC tonight at 7 p.m. over Station KYJC. Sharing the spotlight with Miss McLean will be Sonny Weldon, popular be-bop pianist, and Bob Byrnie, trombonist, both of whom will join Buddy in a jazz session.

The young couple to be married on the "Bride & Groom" program over KVJC tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. have an interesting story to relate. The young couple are from Detroit and were college sweethearts.

Can a girl, with a prison term behind her, fight her way back to a worthwhile place in life? Janet, beaten by circumstances, prays for courage in this unusual story to be dramatized on "My True Story" to be aired over Station KVJC Thursday at 10:30 a.m.

Hear Dr. A. Erin Merkel in a five minute talk on the subject of "Cancer" Thursday at 12:40 p.m. on Station KVJC.

COURIER 65 YEARS OLD
Grants Pass, Apr. 5—The Grants Pass Courier celebrated the 65th anniversary of its founding Monday. It was founded in 1885 as the Rogue River Courier, a weekly. It was acquired 12 years later by Amos E. Voorhies, who still heads the organization. In the paper, which was established as a daily in 1910.

ITCHING MAY BE CAUSED BY PILES

Itching in the region of the opening of the rectum if often a stubborn, persistent and annoying symptom. It may be due to a number of causes. The term "itching piles" is often heard which indicates that piles actually itch, and that any itching in the rectal region is due to piles.

Many persons with severe piles have no itching whatever, but quite often the two may co-exist. Itching may occur when the victim is free of piles in many instances. Skin tags, which are small folds of excess skin found adjacent to the rectal opening, are often mistaken for piles. These tags may be the site of chronic itching. Presence of these tags together with itching, is probably the source of the "itching piles" notion.

Actual piles may be the source of itching without themselves being "itchy." A pile, ordinarily, is quite insensitive, but may provoke irritation and discomfort by its mechanical effect upon local circulation and adjacent tissues. Chronic itching may be permanently relieved in many cases by the obliteration preferably by the ambulant method, of piles, where the piles are the sole source of the itching.

I specify the ambulant method for many reasons, the one in point being that the treatment is so mild and painless that even if the itching is not entirely relieved thereby, the unnecessary ordeal of a surgical operation is avoided. It would be unfortunate to submit to the pain, expense and loss of time involved in undergoing surgery with the hope of relieving itching, to find the itching still present if the operation failed in its purpose. The ambulant treatment consists of a number of treatments given in the doctor's office—perhaps a half dozen or so—which are painless, require but a few minutes to administer, and leave the patient immediately free to carry on with his usual routine. The treatment is effected by skillful use of a hypodermic needle, and, in capable hands, results in permanent cure.

The total cause of itching may be difficult to determine in a given case. It follows that whatever is found to be abnormal should be corrected in a progressive effort to eradicate the difficulty. The ambulant method lends itself to this effort and does not impose the hazard upon a patient which is necessarily inherent in all surgical procedures. Diabetes may cause this type of itching. It is one of the possibilities which must be disposed of, in any case. Fungus disease, such as may be found in the variety of ailments dubbed "athlete's foot," may be present in this area and prove to be the source of the itching.

Allergy or hypersensitiveness to various food stuffs, wearing apparel, chemicals, soaps, toilet preparations and a host of other substances may be involved in the cause of the itching.

The ease with which piles may be eradicated by the ambulant method would suggest that if piles are present in cases of itching, they should be disposed of as a preliminary, and possibly final, step.

In intractable cases of itching, tattooing is sometimes effective. Extensive surgical undermining of the skin is necessary in others.

Finally, itching may be caused by other disorders of the rectum and rectal outlet, apart from piles. Fortunately, these conditions often can be handled successfully by a skillful physician in his office, instead of surgical treatment carried out in a hospital.

California Approves Slot Machine Seizure

Sacramento, Apr. 5—(U.P.)—Two slot machine seizure bills won final approval in the California legislature today.

The assembly sent the bills to Gov. Earl Warren for signature by unanimously accepting minor amendments added by the senate.

The upper house passed the bills late yesterday by 33 to 2 and 32 to 0 votes. One senator said slot machine operators were spending millions of dollars in bribing law enforcement officers to allow them to run.

The bills would allow the seizure of the machines under any circumstances.

Earlier, the governor told a press conference he would sign the bills as he understood them. He added that the bills "would be of great assistance in the fight on organized crime."

Norwegian Commies Denied U. S. Entry

Oslo, Norway, Apr. 5—(U.P.)—The Norwegian-American liner Stavangerfjord was delayed here today when the American embassy refused to grant U. S. entry visas to four crew members said to belong to the Norwegian communist party.

A spokesman for the Oslo branch of the Norwegian sailors union said the Stavangerfjord postponed her departure to permit a delegation from the crew to visit Oscar Gudersen, Norwegian minister of justice.

The spokesman said they wanted to know whether the U. S. embassy's action was legal since Norwegian citizens on a Norwegian ship are involved.

The embassy confirmed that four sailors had been refused visas, but had no further comment.

Hog Prices Pushed Higher at Chicago

Chicago, Apr. 5—(U.P.)—Farmers pushed hog prices slightly higher today by reducing their shipments to market in the absence of price supports.

Only 52,000 hogs were placed on sale at the 12 major cornbelt markets, compared with more than 70,000 a week ago, before price supports lapsed.

Prices opened steady to 25 cents per hundred pounds higher.

Market analysts believed some farmers were holding hogs off the market until congress decides whether to appropriate funds for renewal of price supports.

Smallpox Vaccine Flown to Glasgow

Glasgow, Scotland, Apr. 5—(U.P.)—Royal air force planes flew more than 300,000 units of smallpox vaccine to Glasgow today to help build up stocks for possible mass immunization of every person in western Scotland.

Dr. Stuart Laidlow, Glasgow health officer, said he would order mass vaccinations if more than a few secondary cases appear after the eight-day incubation period ends today.

"By tonight we should have a pretty good idea of how bad the outbreak is," he said.
