Benno Rabinof, violinist, and Sylvia Rabinof, pianist, will be in Medford Saturday night to give the final concert of the season for the Jackson County Civic Music association. The concert is set for 8:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The violinist will open the program with the familiar "Air for the G String," by Bach, with "Vivace," by Haydn-Auer, following. Following intermission Mrs. Rabinof will play three numbers, "My Beloved," by Chopin; "Dance of the Gnomes," by Franz Liszt, and "Grande Polonaise Brillante in E Flat," also by Chopin.

Survey Shows Women Purchasing Smaller Percentage of Goods

Miami, Fla.—(U.P.)—A survey by seven universities would suggest that "mom" is losing her grip on the nation's purse.

The survey did not uphold the old contention that women do 80 per cent of the buying in the United States.

Actually, she buys only 55 per cent of all consumer goods for the family and exerts influence on only 57 per cent of the family purchases.

The figures were compiled by University of Miami, Alabama, Nebraska, Illinois, New York, Pittsburgh and Washington State.

Other results and conclusions: Men buy 30 per cent of the family's consumer goods, husbands and wives together 11 per cent, and the children, four per cent.

The shorter work week probably is responsible for the jump in male purchases during the last 10 years. The fact that more wives have jobs outside the home also influence the percentages.

Men buy 80 per cent of gasoline and oil, 75 per cent of their own clothing, two-thirds of the electrical appliances, one-fourth of the jewelry, and one-fifth of the groceries.

Husband and wife jointly buy 55 per cent of the furniture but women have something to say about 82 per cent of furniture

Benno Rabinof and his wife, Sylvia, will appear in concert Saturday, April 8 at the senior high school auditorium at 8:15 p.m. The Rabinofs, violinist and pianist, will present the final concert of the 1949-50 season for the Jackson County Civic Music association. Rabinof is considered one of the nation's leading violinists and his wife is said to be the only accompanist on the concert stage who uses no music but plays entirely from memory. While the Rabinofs have made 10 transcontinental tours in recent years, this will be their first appearance for either musician in Medford.

Sunday School Record Of Thirty Years' Set

Pittsburgh, Pa. (U.P.)—Mrs. Alice Boyles, 71, set an impressive record by attending her 1,560th consecutive Sunday school class.

The occasion marked 30 years of Sunday school without missing a single meeting. She hasn't missed a regular church service at the Blackadore Presbyterian Church, either.

The aged widow was presented with a memorial pin by fellow members of the congregation.

Mrs. Boyles has been a member of the Blackadore church for much longer than 30 years, but her attendance record was broken a few times before 1920. She was present for services when the church was just a tent in Pittsburgh's east end district.

Advertising Pays for Engineering Student

East Lansing, Mich. Apr. 6—(U.P.)—Art Miller, Michigan State college engineering student, believes in advertising.

The job-hunting senior, who will be graduated in June, created a 14 by 7 foot sign, extolling his merits as a mechanical engineer.

In huge red letters on a white background, Miller advised prospective employers he was an "industrial mechanical engineer trained in better methods." He also included his telephone number.

"I had two phone calls four hours after I put up the sign," Miller said. "It looks like this advertising stunt may pay off."

Red Cross Chapter Chairman Makes Production Report

Mrs. Harold Tolle, chairman of production and supplies for Jackson county chapter, American Red Cross, reports that 10 complete layettes, hospital jackets, sweaters and socks have been made this month by local units and individuals and are now ready for shipment to army, navy and veterans hospitals. Draperies for the card room at the domiciliary center, Camp White, have also been made, as well as afghans and many small articles for the center. Twenty-seven cushions were sent recently to the veterans hospital at Roseburg.

In addition to the many individual sewing and knitting for Red Cross members of the Colony club, Medford, the Ashland Civic club, the Ashland Knitting club, and the Women's Welfare club of the Seventh Day Adventist church, Ashland, are also working. Quilts, baby comforts and layettes have been made by these various volunteers for the local emergency closet and many families and single men have been outfitted with clothing from the emergency closet, which is under the supervision of Mrs. Margaret Fabrick. Clothing for this purpose is all donated by people of the community, and at the present time infants garments, such as shirts, diapers, planning blankets and socks are badly needed, the chapter reports.

Washington Solon Favors Rent Control

Washington, Apr. 6—(U.P.)—Rep. Hugh Mitchell (D., Wash.) said today congress should continue rent control for another year to protect "family welfare and economic stability."

In a speech prepared for house delivery he said that to end controls "with one quick blow at the end of June" would hit millions of families who will have to trim other expenses if their rents go up.

Mitchell said congress should continue the present law permitting local government bodies to end controls. He said less than 20 of 90 cities with more than 100,000 population had ended controls under the law.
