Girl, 7, Accidentally Slain by Brother

Chicago, Apr. 7—(U.P.)—Funeral preparations were made today for a seven-year-old girl accidentally shot and killed by her nine-year-old brother during a "shooting game" while their mother was out shopping.

The girl, Mary Pibolis, died yesterday. A single bullet from her father's .38 caliber pistol had entered her abdomen.

Her brother Teddy told police that he found the gun under a pillow. Mary aimed her finger at him and shouted, "bang, bang." He gestured with the real weapon and accidentally pulled the trigger.

Jack Francis Cody, 22, and Jack R. Richey, 21, posted $25 bail each with city police Tuesday night after officers were called to evict them from the Rialto theater. They were booked on disorderly conduct charges for annoying others in the audience and police said they were caught drinking beer in the loge section of the theater.
