Demaret Wins Title At Masters

Augusta, Ga., Apr. 10.—(U.P.)—Jovial Jimmy Demaret today donned a crown that outdazzled even his own fancy pants—the unprecedented triple championship of the Masters' Golf tournament.

And as he did so, the crooning links veteran from Ojai, Cal., explained that he won the coveted title for the third time because he was able to murder par on one particular hole—the lucky, for him, 13th.

Picks Up Six

As he marched around the course four times en route to his winning 283 total, jaunty Jimmy picked up six strokes on par on that particular hole with two eagles and two pars.

But the same 13th hole was a nightmare for Jim Ferrier, the runner-up from San Francisco with a 285 total. For it was there that his fame fell apart in the final round as victory seemed assured—he had five bogles in the last six holes to blow the title—although he reached the 13th three strokes ahead.

For Ferrier it was one of the most heartbreaking defeats he has suffered while picking up a lot of money since coming here from Australia in 1940.

Hogan Falls

A sad sidelight was Ben Hogan's failure to sustain his tortured stamina after staying within two strokes of the leader for three rounds. The comeback Bantam, only three months back in competition after a year off due to a near-fatal accident, went up to 78 on his final round.

Hogan tied for fourth with Byron Nelson, Roanoke, Tex., at 288, and Sam Snead, who never really figured although the pre-tournament favorite was third with a 74 and 287.

Belcastro Selects Partner in Tag Team

Pete Belcastro, the wild Weed assassin, announced today that he has selected Arne Skaaland, the good-looking Norwegian kid, as his partner in the tag team wrestling match scheduled at the armory Thursday night.

"I made a special trip to Klamath Falls last week to see Skaaland in action," Belcastro said, "and after watching his speed and all-around grappling skill, I decided he's the boy I want."

The Weed veteran added that there probably are available wrestlers who are rougher and tougher than Skaaland but Pete said he believes Skaaland to be a comer in the profession and fully capable of holding his own in the tag affair.

The Great Atlas, captain of the other team, telephoned yesterday to say he had not yet made up his mind on a partner.

"I don't want any of those 'sissies' who have been wrestling in southern Oregon since I left there," the Atlas said. "I realize I can't find anyone as good and as tough as I, but I'm going to get the toughest I can find."

Meanwhile, Promoter Mack Lillard said he has signed Ted Bell, fast midwestern muscle stretcher, to take on roughhouse Leo Wallick in the opening scrap, going to the mat at 8:30 p.m. Both matches will be for one hour or two out of three falls.

Tickets are on sale at Brown's cafe, 101 East Main street, and will also be on sale at the armory Thursday when doors open at 7:30 p.m.

Minneapolis Wins Pro Hoop Crown

Syracuse, N. Y., Apr. 10.—(U.P.)—The Syracuse Nationals can slow down George Mikan for a few minutes but they can't stop him for an entire game and that failure may give the Minneapolis Lakers their third straight professional basketball title.

The Nationals, almost unbeatable on their home court, defeated the Lakers, 91 to 85, at Syracuse last night. They evened the best-of-seven series for the National Basketball Association playoff crown at one game apiece.

The Nationals beat the Lakers by holding the six-foot, 10-inch Mikan to 10 points in the first half while building up a 44 to 31 lead. However, they didn't stop Mikan in either the weekend games at Syracuse's State fair coliseum and now the teams switch to St. Paul, Minn., for the third and fourth games Friday and Sunday nights.

Four Children Hurt As Bus Overturns

Four children, students of the Church of the Golden Rule school at Lake Creek, were treated for lacerations, abrasions and possible rib fractures yesterday at the Osteopathic hospital. Hospital attendants said they were told a church truck, carrying 15 or 17 students, turned over Sunday afternoon someplace near Medford. State police and the county sheriff's office said they had had no report of the accident.

All four children were treated and released, the hospital reported.
