VICTOR Says:

Have you ever gone into a store and just wandered around looking and browsing and have a clerk come up to wait on you—then you told the sales person you did not want to buy anything but the clerk went ahead and showed you several new items? Even though you didn't make a purchase, she was gracious and seemed very happy just to show you something. When you left, she smiled and asked you to come back soon and you left kinda wishin' you had needed something because she was so pleasant.

We have just that kind of girls in our place—our own Mary Jo and Vera. Besides a nice hairdo when you leave you will have that glowing feeling of well being and you'll be glad you came here.
