

British Columbia Radio Hams Contact Russian Operators

Vancouver, B. C., Apr. 11—(U.P.)—British Columbia amateur radio operators said today they pierce Russia's iron curtain nearly every day.

Hams on Canada's west coast contact radio hams inside Russia regularly, but the Russians won't talk very much.

Ernie Savage, Vancouver ham who frequently talks with the Soviets, said "They'll talk about the weather, talk about their equipment, and tell you where they live and work, but they stop right there."

"We rib them sometimes, saying we're making $400 or $500 a month, own a big car and a boat, but we never get a rise out of them," he said.

Cards Mailed
Roy V. Parrett, president of the Victoria short wave club, said the Russian amateurs did not seem to be bound by any different regulations than those existing in most countries.

When two hams contact one another they mail verification cards to each other with their names, home town, call signs, frequency, and other technical information.

The Russian cards also carry propaganda. Some have printed colorful pictures of Russian buildings, cities and public works, others of Russian men. One had a picture of A. S. Popov, claiming he invented radio on May 7, 1895.

The Grange

Upper Rogue Grange

Upper Rogue Grange met in regular session April 8 with Master Herb Carlton presiding. Bruce Grieve reported on agriculture activities and Harold Barber reported on legislation and urged everyone to be sure and register so they can vote in the coming election and as some of the precincts have changed each person is asked to be sure and find out where their new precincts are. Kermit Larson reported on road conditions. He stated the Tiller-Trail road is in bad condition but passable with caution. Mrs. Ray Prichard reported on education giving the names of several radio programs which are good for youngsters to listen to. Carl Richardson reported on wild life. Roy Vaughn reported on the progress of the new dining room stating it is up to the ladies now to decide where and how they want the new cupboards and built-ins. Ed Huston reported on 4-H clubs. Agnes Berry, H.E.C. chairman, reported on receipts of the recent dance and also the play, stating that all Saturday night dances would now be under supervision of ways and means committee. Square dances are to be discontinued and there will be square dance instructions for Grange members only. The date will be announced later. Instructors will be Arlee Ragsdale and Ray Briggs. Next H.E.C. meeting will be at the Grange hall Thursday, April 13, each lady is to bring her own sandwich and coffee will be served during the lecture hour. We were entertained by C. C. Bennett of Medford with magic tricks.

Child Evangelism Conclave Slated Here This Week

The Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Ellis, Portland, state directors for the child evangelism program for Oregon, will be in Medford Thursday and Friday for the first southern Oregon child evangelism convention. Also here for the meeting will be Miss Louise Ladd, director of the program for Cotrell, Ore., and Miss Myra Stover, Salem director.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis

Thursday the convention will open with a 6:30 p.m. covered dish dinner at the Friends church, 2525 Merriman road, and Friday's sessions will be at the First Baptist church, beginning at 9:30 a.m. All Sunday school teachers and workers are invited to attend the Friday morning and afternoon sessions and it is stated that many helpful ideas for such workers will be presented.

A mass meeting is set for Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Baptist church, with the Ellises in charge, and anyone interested is invited to attend.

Delegates and evangelism workers from Klamath Falls, Grants Pass, Central Point, Ashland, Gold Hill and Medford are expected to attend the sessions, according to Mrs. George Bailey, Medford, district director.

Aureomycin May Benefit Mankind

Philadelphia, Apr. 11—(U.P.)—The "golden drug" aureomycin, a potent germ killer, may prove a further boon to mankind by speeding the growth of undernourished children and boosting the world's meat supply, it was disclosed today.

A report to the 117th national convention of the American Chemical society places the drug in the added role of a powerful growth stimulator.

"Aureomycin may hold enormous long-range significance for the survival of the human race in a world of dwindling resources of expanding populations," the paper said.

Aureomycin increased the rate of growth of hogs, chickens and turkeys by as much as 50 per cent, according to a report by two scientists from the Lederle laboratories, Pearl River, N. Y.

The effects of the drug "far exceed" those obtainable with any known vitamin, Dr. E. L. R. Stokstad and T. H. Jukes said.

Rogue River

Rogue River, Apr. 11—Henry Charles Diess arrived at the home of his parents Thursday with his new bride, Helen Krohn of Roseburg. Henry, an airplane mechanic, second class, stationed at San Diego, Cal., was on weekend leave. The couple were married at Roseburg April 5 in the same church and by the same minister who married Fred and Betty Diess on June 3, 1948.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Graves of Douglas, Wyo., were guests of Martha Cary and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Friedenthal last Wednesday and Thursday. They had been visiting in California for the past two months and were returning home by way of Oregon to visit relatives at Reedsport, Portland, Seattle and other points.

Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Klomhaus accompanied by Gretchen and Gilbert, motored to San Francisco to spend the Easter holiday.

Bob Worrall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Worrall of West Evans creek spent the Easter vacation at Sun Valley, Ida. Bob is a student at Whitman college, Walla Walla and was in Sun Valley for the skiing.

Regular meeting of the school board was held Thursday evening and the board announced an open meeting will be held Monday, April 17 at 8 p.m. in the high school to discuss the bond issue to be voted on April 20. According to Mrs. Reed Carter, member of the school board, the same teachers will be employed next year, with exception of Everett Jenne and Millard Webb. Mrs. Carter stated the board will receive applications for bus drivers.

Rogue River business men met at the VFW hall Thursday where an excellent steak dinner was enjoyed by 39 members. Guest speakers were A. A. Meier of Grants Pass and Lew Graves of Shady Cove. Meier, customers relation manager of Credit Bureau Inc., of Grants Pass, spoke of the importance of credit in conducting business and told of the service which his firm furnishes to the business men.

Graves commented the business men on their active campaign to interest industries in this locality and advised cooperation with the other cities of Jackson county in this work as well as in a concerted effort to further the tourist trade by publicizing and marking all historic points in the county and thus establishing an interesting travel route for tourists, from Jacksonville along the Old Stage road to the other historic points.

The possibility of manufacturing the automatic stop light patented by Robert Worrall, electronics engineer, was mentioned by Charles Roley of Roley Motors. The stop light is connected with both the brakes and accelerator of the car, said Roley, and flashes when the foot is lifted from the accelerator as well as when the brakes are applied, giving added protection to the car.

Two small models of the trailer invented by H. R. Randleman were exhibited. Larry Meyer, an experienced trucker, explained the trailers and their actions on the road. The leverage principal and the coil springs used on the trailer will stabilize the load and avoid the shifting of weight on turns and it will float the load around the curves, said Meyer.

The shock absorbing action of the spring assembly is perfect and neither the tires nor the load is subject to the shock of fast starting or stopping. The coil spring, said Meyer, is far superior to and outlasts a flat spring and it has the added advantage of being much lighter weight.

A letter from the Bentrise Manufacturing company of Portland was read, stating the trailer had been equipped with Warner electric brakes and tested as to loads, speeds and miles enough to wear out one set of tires. "We found that the action of the trailer was absolutely perfect when being brought to a halt by the electric brakes. We examined skid marks 150 feet long without a bounce," was the report.

Randleman a berry farmer in Rogue River, built two trailers which he has been using about his farm for three years and he has been very generous in offering use of them to his friends and neighbors, thus the Rogue River men have had an opportunity to test the trailers in action and all are enthusiastic over the plans to manufacture the trailer here.

Table Rock

Table Rock, Apr. 11—A county weed sprayer was through here one day last week, spraying weeds and grass along the roadsides, which it is believed will do away with the usual summer mowing job.

Farmers in this section are seeding a much larger acreage to alfalfa and clover this spring than usual.

Job PERTI has recently finished grading and graveling the lane on the Baker farm.

Prof. Robert Sage returned Wednesday from Portland, where he attended as a delegate a meeting of the Oregon Educational association. He was accompanied by his brother, Dan Sage, of the Talent school.

Edwin Taylor, owner and operator of the Taylor pickle factory is doing extensive clearing and drainage work by which he expects to reclaim and put into crops some rich "beaver dam" land heretofore idle.

Donald S. Richardson of the Green, Landye and Richardson law firm of Portland arrived here Sunday night to appear in an injunction suit Monday in circuit court at Medford. Richardson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Richardson of this place and spent Sunday night at the home of his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sharp of Portland were Easter Sunday visitors here with Mrs. Sharp's folks at the Roy Doran home.

Easter services of Table Rock Sunday school at the school house last Sunday were largely attended by parents and children. All enjoyed the fine program and the kiddies especially enjoyed the Easter egg hunt.

Next meeting of Table Rock Ladies' club will be held Wednesday, April 12, at the home of Mrs. O. T. Wilson in Central Point.

North Bend Man Asks Radio Station Permit
Washington, Apr. 11—(U.P.)—Bartley T. Sims of North Bend, Ore., has applied for a license for a new standard broadcast station, the federal communications commission said here today.

Sims' applications asked for a frequency assignment of 1340 kilocycles, 250-watt power and an unlimited hours schedule.

Randleman is planning to exhibit the model trailers in a commercial display at the coming Spring Flower show to be held at the Live Oak Grange hall in Rogue River, April 15. A large trailer will be available for inspection also.

Moving stairways, automatic, built-in color television all in prospect for the home of the future. Despite the presence of the statute upholding the right to administer punishment jurists are taking the opposite viewpoint.

Typhoid Fever Victims Treated at Anchorage

Anchorage, Alaska, Apr. 11—(U.P.)—Twelve victims of typhoid fever were under treatment today with at least another 21 persons ill from the disease.

The outbreak appeared to be centered in the suburban district of Spenard, health department officials said, where all but one of the cases originated.

Doctors' offices were jammed as residents sought immunization of the disease through inoculation.

Members of the Spenard public utility board said they believed the spring thaw had contaminated wells in the district.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines estimates that Wyoming had original coal reserves underground of 620,723,000,000 tons, more than any other state in the union. Only one-tenth of one per cent of Wyoming's reserve has been mined.

Minister Loses Notes On 12 Years of Work

Portland, Ore., Apr. 11—(U.P.)—City police today were looking for the thief who stole a number of religious books from a car belonging to the Rev. Martis C. Scalf of Seattle.

The minister said three Bibles stolen contained notes on 12 years of his work.
