

In the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS

The teletypes chattered out this statement:
"The United States is indulging in an Indian summer day-dream while a business storm is brewing."

YOU'D think, naturally, that statement was made by some hard-boiled, reactionary republican. It wasn't. The speaker is Dr. Edwin C. Nourse, former chairman of the U. S. council of economic advisers to the president. He was participating in a panel discussion arranged by the American Society of Tool Engineers in Philadelphia.

"If we are to avoid a depression EACH SEGMENT OF OUR ECONOMY MUST PUT THE COUNTRY'S WELFARE ABOVE SHORT-RUN GAINS FOR THEIR PARTICULAR CONSTITUENTS."

If the best use is to be made of our resources, so that sound prosperity may continue, Dr. Nourse went on, "business, financial, agricultural and labor leaders must help develop and carry out an INTEGRATED policy of private and public economic activity."

But, he added, that isn't being done. Instead, he told his hearers:
"THEY ARE BEING ENCOURAGED TO FEEL THEY CAN USE ORGANIZATION AND POLITICAL POWER TO GET SEPARATELY MORE OUT OF THE SYSTEM THAN THEY ARE SEVERALLY PUTTING INTO IT."

WHAT we need, Dr. Nourse is telling us, is TEAMWORK. That suggests a question: Did you ever do your spring plowing with a three (or maybe five) horse team? If so, you'll remember that at the beginning your horses were all prima donnas. Each thought it was the whole works and the others were merely hitched in to provide an audience. If there were three horses in the team, they went three different ways at the corners. If there were five horses, they went FIVE ways. All the way around, they worked against each other instead of with each other.

As a result you didn't get much ground plowed the first few days. If you turned under an acre and a half a day, you were doing pretty well.

But, as the days passed, things began to go better. Your horses slowly began to work AS A TEAM. When you came to a corner, they would swing just far enough out into the plowed ground to give you turning room without spoiling your furrow.

(Usually, by the way, one horse would act as a kind of foreman. This would be some animal that was SMARTER than the rest. It would figure out what you were driving at and would chivy the others around so that the corners would be turned with the least loss of time. That is what in industry we call organization.)

As soon as your horses began to work as a team, your efficiency would RISE and in a little while you would be turning over your three or maybe three and a half acres a day, which was pretty good going in those benighted days before the internal combustion engine was invented, thus making the tractor possible.

ANYWAY, Dr. Nourse is telling us that if we want to accomplish a lot in this country—PRODUCE a lot, that is, so that everybody can have a lot—we must work as a team instead of working as separate pressure groups, each seeking to get for itself the bulk of the cream, leaving only the skim milk for the other groups.

LORD MACAULEY, the great English historian, told us the same thing a century and a half ago, using somewhat different words and putting it in a somewhat different way.

In one of his fascinatingly interesting letters to an American friend he said (ineffect, that is; these are not his exact words):
"Your American system is the most wonderful thing that ever came into the world. As it is working now, it is producing for Americans more satisfactions and more comforts than any governmental system ever produced since the world began."

It will continue to do that until your people learn that by ganging up in pressure groups they can use their voting power TO GET FOR THEMSELVES

SPECIAL PAYMENTS AND SPECIAL CONSIDERATIONS OUT OF THE NATIONAL TREASURY.
When that happens (Lord Macauley said) your American system will cease to produce for everybody as it is going now (he was speaking a century and a half ago).
His words were at least prophetic.

Railroad Seeking Owner of Valuables

Portland, Ore., Apr. 13—(U.P.) Special agents for the Union Pacific railroad today are looking for an elderly man whose name was found in an abandoned suitcase containing gold coins and bond coupons aboard the City of Portland streamliner Sept. 16, 1949, when the train reached Chicago.

August Wemme, Wabash hotel, Portland, was the name and address found in the large metal suitcase, but a check with the hotel was negative. The suitcase was opened this week.
Last February 14 Portland police were asked to find an August Wemme, 80, who was last known to be living at the Wabash hotel. The request came from George Sauppe of Pasadena, Cal., but Sauppe gave no relationship data in connection with the alien of German descent.

Visitors Unwelcome At Nudist Convention

Oregon City, Ore., Apr. 13—(U.P.)—Sightseers will not be welcome during the July 4 holiday convention of nudists from Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, and British Columbia, D. E. Countryman said here today in announcing the date of the region conference.
Countryman said snoopers will be dealt with if they are caught by any of the 500 members at the sunbathers' Squaw mountain ranch near Estacada, Ore.

Klamath Agriculture Income in Decline

Klamath Falls, Ore., Apr. 13—(U.P.)—Klamath County Agent Charles Henderson reported today that Klamath basin agricultural income continued its decline during 1949 from its 1947 peak.
Henderson's figures showed crop-livestock income in the basin for 1949 at $29,541,276. By comparison, the 1948 income was $30,844,427 and the 1947 income peak was $36,915,794. Last year's crop-livestock income was about the same as that for 1946.
Klamath basin's major farm products include beef cattle, brewing barley, alsike clover, russet potatoes, alfalfa, wheat, oats, grass seed, onions, poultry, dairy products, hogs, and sheep. The big four products of cat-

Dikes in Columbia Below Standard

Portland, Ore., Apr. 13—(U.P.) Columbia river dikes and levees are below government standards in view of expected high water next month, the corps of engineers reported here today.
Col. Donald S. Burns, district army engineer, said many districts had made improvements on dikes and levees during the past year, but that more repairs must be completed if considerable damage is to be avoided in May. Burns said a written report has been sent each district on its individual deficiencies in dikes and levees.

The Library of Congress is 150 years old.
