

Adventist Evangelism Services Sunday Eve

Special revival services which have been conducted at Adventist church for the past few weeks are now being conducted on Sunday evening only.

The subject this week as announced by Pastor O. E. Schnepfer will be entitled, "The Sign of Adoption."

Wednesday evening illustrated Bible studies are being conducted. In these studies Bible texts are projected on the screen together with color pictures and other illustrations. Many enjoy this method of Bible study and find it very helpful.

All services begin at 7:45 p.m. and the public is invited.

Revival Services To Continue Next Week Local Church

Revival services will continue through the coming week at Temple Baptist church, with Chaplain Henry W. Anderson, evangelist. He has pictured characters and incidents of the Old Testament in application to present day emphases.

Messages of the coming week will center about the Christian family and its activities in the life of the church.

Sunday Messages
Sunday morning the message will be "With One Accord," and theme for the evening, "Super Power—from God."

Monday evening, family night, the theme will be "The Christian Family and the Home Beautiful"; Tuesday is men's night and the theme, "The Christian Family—God's Man in the Home"; Wednesday, Sunday school night, "The Child in the Midst"; Thursday will be women's night, "The Christian Mother—God's Guardian Angel"; Friday, training union night, "Bible's Supreme Example of Faith"; Saturday, youth night, "Be Yourself"; Sunday morning, April 23, "Carry On—with Power"; Sunday evening, "What Shall the Harvest Be?"

Closing Day Features
Features of the closing day, Sunday, April 23, will include participation in the "Baptist Hour" broadcast over KYJC at 12:30 p.m. with 8,000 other Baptist churches. Ordinance of baptisms will be observed for candidate at 3 p.m.

Chaplain Anderson will conclude the services with the closing message, "What Will the Harvest Be?" at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited to come early and enjoy the inspiration led by E. V. May beginning at 7:30 each evening.

Springfield Manager Discharged by Council
Springfield, Ore., Apr. 14—(U.P.)—Springfield's city council last night fired City Manager Fred Cheatham.

Cheatham had long been at odds with Mayor B. P. Larson, who is up for recall at a special election today. The council took action by a 4-2 vote on the eve of the recall.

Today's voting will be conducted in 11 precincts.

GRANT APPROVED
Portland, Ore., Apr. 14—(U.P.) Word received here from Rep. Homer D. Angell's Washington office said today that a federal grant of $100,000 was approved this week by the U. S. public health service to assist in construction of a $300,000 state hygienic laboratory in Portland.

News of 4-H CLUBS

Junior Booster club of Eagle Point met April 12 to work on our sewing projects. At an earlier meeting we entertained the mothers with a song by the Starkey sisters and a discussion of the 4-H pens by Patsy McCaslin and Sandra Farlow. The mothers inspected the work that has been completed and were served tea and cakes.

A Nichols' Worth of— Comment On This and That

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Feature Writer

Washington, Apr. 14—(U.P.)—Rugs are like walls—sometimes they have ears.

At least that is the theme of the carpet people who are about to sponsor a rug fashion show here.

They give you what they like to call the "conversational" series.

Rugs that fit the mood.

I got all this stuff from a rug man named Pat Pasquella, president of the local rug outfit and who works for a concern called Art Loom.

You can go into a rug store says Pat, and get a carpet that will give you the hush-hush feeling of a nursery, the hi-de-ho of the rumpus room, or the let's-sit-down-and-take-it-easy feeling of the living room at martini time.

Called Forest Moss
A "conversational" rug on display will be one called "forest moss." It was designed by Russell Wright, who ordinarily does not design rugs. His line is dishes, "The inscription alongside said: 'An unusual texture effect inspired by the uneven growth of nature's own carpeting moss.'"

That's one for the family living room. Complete quiet.

The idea is that you get no loud business from the rug, psychologically, but the idea of a whisper from the pine or moss, which should lull the old man into a nap like the bubble from a brook.

For the rumpus, or raise-hell room, the rug folks have an all-hair pad with rubber underneath. Instead of making a noise like a rumpus room ought to, it puts the quietus on same.

Beige For Library
For the library, we find a dead beige, or camel hair, with a tendency toward the gray side. The idea in this case is to lean toward the silent, or quiet, side.

You could sit in that room with even the radio on and read Shakespeare for hours and maybe not hear a sound, account of the rug.

For the nursery, the people who want to sell you carpets say, you ought to have a felt base. Hard surface, it has, they say, nothing to do with loud small talk. No guarantee there.

Flying Bixbys Plan Another Record Try

Camarillo, Tex., Apr. 14—(U.P.) The flying Bixbys planned another round-the-world flight today as they rested from their last attempt to break the record of the late Bill Odom.

Their mechanic, meanwhile, was checking the plywood airplane, the Huntress II.

The Bixbys, Bod and Dianna, landed at Los Angeles International airport last night after flying in from San Francisco where they ended their first world hop yesterday.

They said their decision on whether to try once more would depend on the condition of their converted Mosquito bomber and on weather conditions.
