

2 Commissioners Named to Housing Authority Here

Two new commissioners have been named to the housing authority of Jackson county by the Jackson county court and at a meeting last week the authority commissioners elected new officers for the coming year.

Chairman will be Robert A. Duff. Elwood Hedberg was named vice-chairman and Mark Goldy as executive director and secretary. H. S. Deuel is the other present member and the two new commissioners are R. B. Thierolf and O. T. Ewaldsen.

The new commissioners replace R. K. Kyle and Karl Janouch, who have resigned due to the press of private business, it was reported. The new men, both of them younger war veterans, were named to the authority by the court to provide veteran representation, a spokesman said. The authority is the supervising body over the housing project on the west side of town.

Serve Many Years
Both Kyle and Janouch have served many years on the authority and have been active in its management during the time it has completed a record of making the highest percentage of repayment of any housing project in the northwest.

In comparison to the original cost of $300,000, some $140,000 has been paid back to the federal government, in addition to payments for maintenance and payments in lieu of taxes to city, county and school district taxing units.

Adolf S. Sterton has been named superintendent of the project and Mrs. Sara Sterton manager since it was completed in February, 1944.

Rogue River

Rogue River, Apr. 15 — Mrs. Dave Gelvin left Thursday for Los Angeles with Mr. and Mrs. Al Meahl of Highway 99, where she will spend a two weeks vacation.

LaVerne Redstone of Wimer is painting the newly remodeled shop on the east side of the barber shop building and will open the LaVerne beauty shop on April 18.

The Lions Auxiliary met at the home of Pauline Hart, Tuesday evening and enjoyed a turkey dinner. The members planned a food sale to be held at Gelvin's Groceteria on Saturday, April 22.

Larry Meyer and H. R. Randleman left Tuesday for Los Angeles where they will attend the Trailer Coach show. They took the Randleman trailer models to the show.

When the old oak tree that grew in Mrs. Julia Myers back yard fell without damaging the surrounding buildings and she remarked that God had done a better job of falling the tree than men could have done, her son, Arthur Myers and Ray Moore accepted the challenge. The next week end they cut the other big tree in the back yard. They were confident they could fall the tree in a certain place, but it swung to the left and crashed across neighbor Ed Friedenthal's woodshed completely demolishing it and its contents. Last Wednesday evening after work Friedenthal decided to try his hand at tree trimming. One large limb, quite high on his tree, shades the garden in summer. He climbed a ladder and when he had sawed about half way through the limb it split off and knocked him to the ground where he landed face downward. Ray Moore, who was sawing wood in the Myers' back yard at the time, picked Ed up and rushed him to the doctor. No bones were broken, but Ed's skin was, reports his wife, and he spent the following day in bed. There is one huge old tree still standing in the front yard of the Myers home, and one in the street.

TALE GOES OVER
WATERTOWN, S. D. — (U.P.) — Sidney Ulven testified in court that his erratic driving wasn't caused by too many drinks of whiskey but by the burning pain caused by swallowing chewing tobacco when he slammed on the brakes to avoid hitting a black cat. The jury could not agree on whether to believe his story and he was discharged.

Annual Cattlemen's Convention Slated At Klamath Falls, May 8, 9 and 10

The annual convention of the Oregon Cattlemen's association is expected to draw a large delegation from Jackson county when it convenes in Klamath Falls May 8, 9 and 10.

W. B. Tucker, one of the county agents here, said yesterday that any stockman who is not yet a member of the Jackson County Stockmen's association, a group affiliated with the state cattlemen, can sign up at his office in the courthouse by paying a year's dues.

Demand Sets Prices
Livestock producers in Jackson county, Tucker states, do not make their own market but depend on selling prices set up by public demand and public understanding of meat production, and he says the local association promotes a better understanding and appreciation of the industry. There are now 144 members in the county.

The state association keeps its officers busy publicizing all matters that affect livestock producers. Usual activities include cattle marketing, livestock diseases, legislation, brand inspection and theft cases, administration of public grazing lands and information on the use of meat and opinions of the consumers.

All these questions will come up for discussion at the Klamath Falls convention next month.

Cattlemen Welcome

The first day will be devoted to committee meetings. All cattlemen and their wives will be welcomed whether or not they have been members in the past.

The second day will start off with the traditional buckaroo breakfast and the rest of the day will be spent in general assembly meetings. Speakers will be Loren Bamert, president of the American National Livestock association; Sprague Carter, Oregon state representative from Pendleton; Lowell Stoen, president of the Oregon Farm Bureau; Ben Day, president of the Jackson County Livestock association, and Gov. Douglas McKay. It will be the largest convention the association has ever held.

PHILADELPHIA STYLE

PHILADELPHIA — (U.P.) — The Philadelphia Zoo has acquired a pair of foxes that like to change their styles with the seasons. The animals, Arctic foxes, are pure white. When winter comes, their coats will change to brown. Next winter they'll be white again.

YOUTH CRUSADER — The Rev. J. L. Newman, Spokane, above, will conduct the Eagle Point "Crusade for Christ" in the Community church there April 16 to 23. Well known throughout the northwest as a leader in the Youth for Christ movement, Mr. Newman has served as associate director of the Spokane rally for several years. The crusade at Eagle Point will continue nightly except Saturday at 7:45 p.m.

Realtors Hear of Convention Plans

Ray J. Schumacher, president of the Oregon Association of Real Estate Boards, told of plans for the state convention to be held in Medford September 29 and 30, at a meeting of the Medford Realty board Friday noon.

It is estimated that attendance at the convention will be larger than any previous one, Schumacher said.

Spring Agenda Told

C. Lyall Fidler, president of the local board, listed for members an agenda of spring activities. They included April 21, meeting of convention committees with convention bureau of Chamber of Commerce; April 28, Realty board's 21st birthday dinner, with wives invited, the program to include motion picture of lumber industry and ending of membership drive; May 1, real estate clinic in Grants Pass.

Considerable optimism in the real estate business was expressed by board members, and a quotation from the Wall Street Journal was read which indicated that throughout the nation lots have increased in price from 10 to 100 per cent due to the building boom.

Speeding on U. S. streets and highways last year killed 10,000 men, women and children.

China Missionary to Speak at Phoenix

Phoenix, Apr. 15 — The Phoenix Presbyterian church will have Dr. Donald A. Irwin as guest speaker at 8 p.m. Thursday, April 20. Mr. Irwin has been active in educational and evangelistic work of the Presbyterian missions in China since 1920. He has been in charge of the academic department of the Industrial school at Yihsein, and has taught in the Commercial college at Cheefoo. He organized a "Youth for Christ" campaign in Cheefoo among the middle and primary schools and the young men in business.

Through his close association with the youth of China, Dr. Irwin has acquired an exceptional understanding of the political and social problems of modern China, church leaders said.

After the close of World War II, Dr. Irwin returned to China and has been working in student evangelism at Hangchow.

He and his wife are now being held in this country by the political situation in China, and the missionary board has given him a temporary assignment to work among foreign students on the campuses in the western area. He was born in Tienchow, China, the son of missionary parents.
