

Opera, Musical Comedy Given Monday Night For Musical Society

Medford Musical society met at the home of Mrs. John Day, Monday evening, and were entertained with a program arranged from the files of light opera and musical comedy. Program chairman for the evening was Mrs. Otto Frohnmayer, who briefly outlined the development of these musical forms, and presented numbers illustrating them.

Fred Buehner, baritone, from Southern Oregon college, sang "Night and Day," from Cole Porter's "The Gay Divorcee," "So Far" from "Allegro," "Embers and Hammerstein," and "Remember You," from George Gershwin's musical comedy, "Girl Crazy." His accompanist was Miss Colleen Teigs.

Mrs. Howard Bush, Medford soprano, with Mrs. C. R. Adams at the piano, offered two numbers from earlier operettas, "My Hero," from Oscar Strauss' "Chocolate Soldier," and "When You're Away," from "The Only Girl," written by Victor Herbert. These were followed by songs from more recent musical comedies, "One Kiss," from Romberg's "New Moon," and Noel Coward's ever-popular "I'll See You Again," from "Bittersweet."

The closing group of numbers was presented by Roosevelt Mothers' chorus, directed by Mrs. Frohnmayer, with Mrs. Richard Payne accompanying. They sang "One Enchanted Evening," from Grieg's "Song of Norway," "The Donkey Serenade," from Friml's "Firefly," and two numbers from the current Broadway show, "South Pacific," "Bali Ha'i" and "Wonderful Guy." The latter numbers were arranged for women's voices by William Stickle.

Following the program, the members enjoyed informal singing of musical comedy favorites, with Mrs. Rawles Moore and Mrs. Frohnmayer at the piano. Mrs. J. C. Collins presided over the brief business session. Mrs. Day, hostess, was assisted by Mrs. William McAllister, Mrs. Virgil Bolton, Mrs. Fred Burich and Mrs. Eloise Winkler as social committee.

Mrs. Prentice, Pupils Return from Portland

Mrs. Eve Prentice returned Saturday from Portland and Olympia, Wash., where she spent a few days on business. Mrs. Prentice went to Portland with a small group of her accordion pupils who presented a program at a Shrine club luncheon. They also played in the Shrine hospital in Portland and gave a program at the veterans administration hospital.

The young people returned Friday while Mrs. Prentice continued to Olympia. Making the trip to play were Miss Joan Anderson, Miss Carol Davis, Miss Charlotte Grigsby, Miss Barbara Ragsdale and Dale Ward.

Rogue River PTA Show Plays to Full House At School Wednesday

Rogue River—The talent show sponsored Wednesday evening by Rogue River Parent-Teacher association played to a full house and ticket holders who arrived late found standing room only. Though chairs from three class rooms were brought in, there were not enough seats.

The circus theme was cleverly carried out with the peanuts and popcorn and its haunting aroma while the elephant, clowns and other performers wandered through the crowd giving a true circus atmosphere.

Twenty-one acts, the brass band and the clowns with their trick bouquets made by Lu Young combined into a circus length program and Manager McGarvie wisely prohibited encores. Only an accurate applause meter could have told which number was the most popular with the audience. Acts of the professional and local talent from the youngest midget in the rhythm band to jig dancer, George Irwin, age 76, were equally appreciated.

Jacksonville Group Elects New Officers; Program on Reading

Jacksonville—Mrs. Paul Matheny was elected president of the Jacksonville Parent-Teacher association for the coming year at a meeting of the group Wednesday evening. Mrs. Paul Culbertson, the present president, was elected vice-president; Mrs. Melvin Hall, secretary, and Mrs. Herbert Sutton, treasurer.

Mrs. Culbertson, who had been elected vice-president last year, has served as president since resignation of Mrs. H. L. Markwith, who was unable to serve because of illness. Group singing at the meeting was led by Mrs. George Wendt. Mrs. Lina Wright of the primary department and Mrs. Ely Walker, school librarian, presented the evening's subject, "That Big 'R'—Reading."

Mrs. Maude Hardy's third grade room won the room prize. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Bryant requests officers to wear formal gowns, and states that members also may dress formally if they so desire. Visiting Rebekahs are invited to attend.

Central Point—Girl scout day was observed by the Central Point Parent-Teacher association Tuesday, when a history of scouting was presented by all scout and Brownie troops in Central Point. The history had been written by Mrs. W. T. Parsons who also directed the troops in the presentation.

Mrs. Don Patterson assisted Mrs. Parsons in planning the day's program. A Russian dance was presented by Mrs. Douglas Sawtelle's Brownie troop. Mrs. Doyle Stockton's Brownie troop sang two songs, "Molly Malone," and "The Crocodile."

Guests included Mrs. M. N. Hogan, regional director; Mrs. Marjorie Hopkins, scout executive; and Mrs. Michele Rossi, chairman of program planning.

Rogue River Gardeners Plan Meeting Tuesday; Visit Historic Garden

Rogue River—Next regular meeting of the Rogue River Garden club will be held Tuesday, April 18 at the Live Oak Grange hall. During the garden tour meeting at the country home of Mrs. Margie Dunham last Wednesday, members voted to meet on the third Tuesday of each month.

The horticulture report was given during the tour of the famous flower gardens on the historic Savage ranch. The old home and its garden started years ago by pioneer members of the Savage family is situated on a small knoll. Through the years the flowers have spread and the gardens now surround the picturesque old house and its flanking log cabins. Scattered about, partially buried in the rich red soil, many rough boulders have been laid in their natural positions and flowers of all colors and varieties have crept around and among these weathered stones. Green mountain slopes sweep down to the knoll on all sides except that bound by the rushing creek, and seem to beckon the wandering flowers to stray away from the old gardens.

A short business meeting was held after the tour, then beverages were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Dunham and Mrs. Savage.
