Daughter Here

Mrs. Paul Rothermel of Vancouver, Wash., is in Medford to spend a few days with her mother, Mrs. A. B. Hinck, West 11th street.

Georgia grows four times as many commercial nuts as any other state.

SEEING EYE SCORES

Omaha—(U.P.)—Detectives pulled a fast one on some gamblers. Two officers walked through an establishment, looked around and found no play in progress. They left, but a third detective hid in a dark hall and watched as the boys started making bets and spinning wheels again.

WORKS O.K., NOT DEEDS

Providence, R. I.—(U.P.)—It would be all right to yell "kill the umpire!" under a bill proposed in the Rhode Island legislature, but to hit him would bring a minimum jail sentence of 10 days.

CHICKS GIVE ASSIST

Lambert, Miss.—(U.P.)—When John Oakes made a temporary chicken brooder of his bathtub until the wiring on the regular brooder was fixed, his two small children had one happy comment. "Good, we won't have to take any more baths."

TUNNEL TAKES WALK

Hull, Mass.—(U.P.)—The wind moved a railroad tunnel 10 feet, but no one was injured and damage was slight. The 50-foot tunnel was built of wood for a miniature railroad in a Nantasket beach amusement park.
