

Negotiations Stalled
In Transportation Tiff

Portland, Ore., Apr. 20—(U.P.) Negotiations in a strike that might tie up bus transportation in five western states were at a standstill today, but union and management officials said they had hopes for an agreement before the Friday strike deadline.

The motor coach employees union is demanding a pension plan which President R. J. Walsh of the Union Pacific's Greyhound division said it cannot meet.

Legion To Aid AMA in Fight Against Social Medicine; New Beds Seen Here

Camp White, Apr. 20—The American Legion's support will be given to the American Medical Association's fight against "socialized medicine," according to Robert C. Dillard, Seattle, national field secretary for the legion, who was a visitor here yesterday.

He also said that addition of 500 beds at Camp White is getting nearer.

"The American Medical Association has decided that the plan proposed by the Hoover commission for a united medical organization is impractical of application and will prove more costly," Dillard said. "In return for this support of the viewpoint of veterans' organizations," Dillard said, "the American Legion, for one, will support the fight of the AMA against socialized medicine."

500 New Beds

Within a year two new hospitals will be in operation in the northwest, Dillard said, one at Spokane, the other at Seattle. He added that when this enlarged program is working, it will mean 500 additional beds.

"However," Dillard said, "the queer quirk is that there will be actually 75 fewer beds available for disabled veterans, because Barnes General hospital will then be closed. Barnes has more beds occupied now than will be in the two new facilities."

"Fight Near Success"

In discussing Camp White, Dillard said that the fight being waged by the Legion for more than a year for 500 additional beds, seems to be nearing success. All that remains, he said, is for congress to make the appropriation and that seems to be "just around the corner."

Dillard had high praise for the Camp White management and its personnel. "Manager Paul Hatton and his staff have worked wonders here," Dillard said, adding, "It's hard to believe so much has been done in so short a time."

The timber was appraised at $255,507.10. Eleven of the 13 parcels were sold above their appraised value, Goldy said. Successful bidders for the timber, located in Lane, Douglas, Coos, Jackson, and Josephine counties, were:

Double Source of Revenue Brings Term

Roseburg, Ore., Apr. 20—Circuit Judge Carl E. Wimberly yesterday sentenced Ray McElravy, 59, Winston, Ore., to six months in the state penitentiary for collecting money simultaneously from two state sources.

In passing sentence, the judge told McElravy, "Let this be a lesson to you and all other racketeers collecting money from two state sources."

McElravy pleaded guilty to a charge of false representation to the state industrial accident commission in order to get benefits. He admitted collecting from both the industrial accident commission and the state employment commission.

Monterey, Cal., Apr. 20—(U.P.) Funeral services were being arranged today for Hugh McClung, California radio station owner and former newspaper publisher, who died of a heart attack last night. He was 56.

Wife Persuades
Errant Husband
To End Own Life

Bedford, Pa., Apr. 20—(U.P.) Mrs. Thomas A. Tully believed her husband, errant son of the late hobo writer Jim Tully, didn't deserve to live.

So she talked him into carrying out a suicide pact with her on a lonely country road.

A woodcutter discovered the bodies of Tully, 39, a convicted rapist, and his wife Margaret, 43, yesterday, locked in final embrace in their sealed auto.

Used Carbon Monoxide

They apparently died four days ago from carbon monoxide gas piped into the car through a hose running from the exhaust pipe to a rear window stuffed at the edges with rags.

A New York neighbor of the Tullys revealed how his wife planned a double suicide after her husband violated a parole for rape by trying to rape the wife of a fellow-employee at Bellmore, N. Y., April 3.

"We can't go on living like this," Mrs. Tully was quoted as having told a New York neighbor after police sent out a 13-state alarm for her husband.

Police charged he broke into the Bellmore home of Mrs. Margaret Bates, 24, and attempted to rape her.

Mrs. Tully said it meant a "long stretch" for her husband, on parole from a one to 50-year sentence for raping a 16-year-old California girl. He also had a record of four previous arrests on rape charges between 1931 and 1935.

"He's not fit for the world, but I love him so much I can't live without him," Mrs. Tully told her neighbor, Mrs. Jean Garner.

"If I find him I'm going to talk him into ending our lives. It is better for us to die."

She left her apartment last Sunday, found her husband and drove with him to Pennsylvania.

Bridges Continues
Charge of Frameup
In Perjury Trial

San Francisco, Apr. 20—(U.P.) Harry Bridges, CIO longshore leader recently convicted of perjury and conspiracy, told a mass meeting last night his trial was a "frameup."

Bridges, his co-defendants, J. R. Robertson and Henry Schmidt, and their lawyers, Vincent Hallinan and James MacInnis, appeared before 6,000 persons in civic auditorium to denounce the trial.

Bridges assailed the government prosecutor, F. Joseph Donohue, as the "savior from the east" who "poses as the rescuer of San Francisco and the west coast from communism, radical influence and bloody revolution."

"Will the job he has done enable more ships to sail through the Golden Gate?" Bridges asked.

A collection was taken up from the audience to help defray the expenses of appealing from the court decision sentencing Bridges to five years in prison and his co-defendants to two years each.
