Sunday worship services at the First Baptist church will be conducted by laymen of the church in accordance with an annual custom. The Men's association will have charge of the morning service and in the evening the young people will be in charge.

The men will present two speakers on the sermon theme, "Salvation with Harry Walker discussing 'What Must I Do To Be Saved' and Lester Wilcox Jr. talking on 'What I Should Do Now That I Am Saved.'"

A men's choir will be directed by J. R. Cochran and special music will include a tenor solo by S. T. Brannock and a duet by Cochran and Don Platt.

Scripture will be read by Arthur Graham and Frank Guber. Others taking part will include Ted Graham, Robert Gillmore, Ralph Raymond, J. M. Littrell and D. M. Minear.

Theme for the 7:30 Youth Night service will be "The Glorious Challenge of Fellowship with Christ." Speaking on the theme will be Robert Semon, Janet Blum and Douglas Brannack. A young peoples' choir will sing and a girls' trio will present a special musical number.

The public is invited to attend both these services.

A new series of weekly sermons, "Seven Great Bible Events" will be begun Sunday at Central Church of Christ, it was announced today by Don H. Byers, minister.

The first sermon, "The Creation," is scheduled for Sunday worship hour of 11 a. m.

Minneapolis — (U.P.) — Charles Olson was walking near his home in the dark hours of early morning when a stranger approached and, without a word, struck Olson in the eye. Still without comment, the man walked away. "Never saw him before in my life," Olson said.

PHONE GIVES ALARM

Three Rivers, Mich. — (U.P.) — Ray Hasbrouck began wrestling with two men who tried to rob his filling station. A telephone was knocked over. Mrs. Millie Knaub, telephone operator, heard the noise and called police, who arrived before the fight was over.

Weiners for Children Contain Horse Meat

New Orleans, Apr. 21 — (U.P.) — Children in the Orleans parish public school cafeterias have been getting horse meat in their weiners, Supt. Lionel J. Bourgeois charged today.

Bourgeois said tests by the city board of health showed the weiners sold to the school contained horse meat. He consulted the school board about turning over the case to the district attorney.

On the Side—By E. V. Durling

Well, we really stepped out last night. We went to the greyhound races. The track at West Palm Beach is the most compact and comfortable plant of its kind I ever saw. It has a clubhouse that is nothing less than luxurious. As at most dog tracks, the majority of fans present were trying to win quinellas. I played the solid dog for show and did all right. The greyhound races at West Palm Beach end this week. However in Miami the dogs run until June 1.

Note it stated Frank Buck once knocked out an orang-outang. Quite a feat that. Still it was all a matter of hitting the animal in the right place. That's why I have always claimed Arthur Brisbane could have been wrong when he said a gorilla could lick both Tunney and Dempsey at the same time. The gorilla, not a clever boxer probably would have been popped on the button by Dempsey and knocked flatter than a little thin pancake. Incidentally, a resident of Livermore, Cal., Max Baer's home town, told me that Max once knocked out an ox with one blow.

Queries from clients. Q. Who is the tallest girl basketball player in the United States of America? I understand there is a female high school player who is six feet, seven inches tall. A. Melba Overcash, who plays on the East Landis high school girls basketball team at Spencer, N.C., is six feet, seven inches tall. If she isn't the country's tallest female basketball player I would like to know who is. Q. How about Rocco Vocco, the music publisher, to succeed Hugh Blue as president of the My Name is a Poem Club? A. Mr. Vocco seems a likely candidate. However, I feel he would have difficulty in defeating Herman Sherman Berman of New York City.

So a De Havilland comet plane of a type planned to be used in passenger service made the trip from the London airport to Copenhagen in one hour and nineteen minutes. The distance is 608 miles. Some traveling! A passenger plane with speed like that could get from New York to Miami in less than two hours.

Housing Shortage Still Exists--Truman

Washington, Apr. 21 — (U.P.) — President Truman told mayors of 10 cities yesterday that a critical housing shortage still exists, and he wants extension of federal rent controls after June 30.

The mayors met with Mr. Truman at a conference arranged by Federal Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods. Woods said the president told them that he still thinks controls are necessary.

Rent controls end June 30. There is little disposition in congress to extend them as at present.

After the meetings the mayors expressed themselves briefly this way: Mayor William F. Devin of Seattle: "I told the president that in our town there was a definite surplus of higher bracket rental units of $75 a month and up but a shortage still exists in the lower brackets where controls are still needed."

Princess Observes 24th Birthday at Malta Navy Base

Valetta, Malta, Apr. 21 — (U.P.) Princess Elizabeth, who is expecting her second child, quietly celebrated her 24th birthday today with her sea-going husband, Prince Philip.

It was the second birthday Elizabeth, heiress to the British throne, has celebrated away from home.

No Public Appearance Her 21st birthday was spent in South Africa with the king and queen and Princess Margaret.

Because of the princess' condition, no public appearances were scheduled. But she was slated to watch the Duke of Edinburgh play polo and thousands of Maltese planned to cheer her.

King George, Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret marked Elizabeth's birthday at Royal Lodge, Windsor, in England, with traditional toasts.

Seventeen-month-old Prince Charles, son of the princess, was too young to take any notice of the important day.

Champagne will be drunk and larders of food consumed here on the island by the cream of Malta's society and navy establishments while they congratulate the princess at Villa Guardamangia, island home of the Earl and Countess Mountbatten.

BURGLAR REPENTS

Mount Clemens, Mich. — (U.P.) Four days after burglars robbed his gas station, Albert Jodway received $15 in the mail with a note that said: "Tell the law I paid you back." Jodway told police but added that maybe only one burglar had a guilty conscience. The burglars stole $30.
