Week of Vital Labor Disputes Facing Country

Chicago, Apr. 22—(U.P.)—The nation headed into a week of crucial labor disputes today with telephone installation workers ready to jump the gun on a nationwide telephone strike Monday and railroad firemen poised to strike on four big rail systems Wednesday.

Meanwhile, hope vanished for a quick settlement of the 88-day-old Chrysler strike. A federal mediator called another conference today but said further meetings appear useless because the company and unions have reached a "hopeless deadlock."

Nion Tucker Dies In San Francisco; Owned Ranch Here

San Francisco, Apr. 22—(U.P.)—Nion R. Tucker, investment broker, socialist, and one of the owners of the San Francisco Chronicle, died at the Palace hotel today.

Tucker, 64, had been ill for several months. He kept a town residence at the Palace and also had a home in Burlingame.

In recent years he served as president of the San Francisco Civic Ballet association, director and president of the board of directors of the Agricultural Association I-A, president of the California Hereford association, and a member of the state horse racing board.

Born at Suisun, Cal., he graduated from the University of California in 1909 and in 1918 married Phyllis De Young, daughter of Michael De Young, founder and late publisher of the Chronicle.

Surviving are his widow and his daughter, Mrs. Dennis G. McEvoy, who is now in Tokyo with her husband. A son, Marine Lt. Nion Robert Tucker Jr., was killed overseas during the war.

In addition to his other activities, Mr. Tucker was owner and operator of the Flourence Rock ranch near Prospect, and the Rogues' Roost summer home adjoining the ranch. He obtained the summer "retreat" first, and later purchased the ranch of 1,110 acres where he raised blooded Hereford cattle.

He usually spent much of every summer in the Rogue valley, and was an ardent fisherman and sportsman.

Mr. Tucker enjoyed entertaining at Rogues' Roost, and many noted personalities have visited there, including Wellington Koo, former Chinese ambassador to the United States; Madame Chiang Kai-shek, wife of China's premier; and Mrs. T. V. Soong, another one-time Chinese ambassador to this country; Col. Charles Lindbergh, Lawrence Tibbett and Lauritz Melchior.

Friends here report Mr. Tucker's funeral will be held Monday in San Francisco.

Mercy Plane's Emergency Trip May Have Saved Woman's Life

Another life has—presumably—been saved by Jackson county's Mercy Flights ambulance plane.

"Rogue's Wings of Mercy," the twin-engine ambulance ship, Friday flew from Medford to Lakeview, picked up a badly injured Medford woman and took her to Portland, where she is reported doing well at Providence hospital.

The woman, Mrs. Margie Lorraine Holt, 22, and her husband, Eugene, both of Medford, were injured in an automobile accident near Lakeview early Thursday morning. They were both hospitalized. Mrs. Holt with a broken back. According to Mercy Flights officials, physicians at Lakeview said that she might be paralyzed for life, and might not survive if she did not receive a delicate operation on her damaged spine, and soon. Nearest facilities for such an operation were in Portland. Relatives desperately tried to obtain air transportation for the injured woman, but none appeared to be available until they remembered stories about the Mercy Flights plane. A phone call was immediately placed to George Milligan, chairman of the non-profit corporation, and in less than an hour the plane was on the way with Milligan as pilot and John Applegate, airport manager, as co-pilot.

The plane left here about 1:45 p. m. Friday, arrived in Lakeview in about an hour, and the woman was placed on a stretcher in the plane. Accompanied by Nurse Jean Alder, the plane returned to Medford for refueling and then left for Portland with Eugene Kozzer and Bill Plaskett at the controls. It arrived in Portland at 8:09 p. m. Friday and Mrs. Holt was immediately taken to the hospital.

Two Czechs Given Death Sentences As Alleged Spies

Others Sentenced To Prison Terms

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Apr. 22—(U.P.)—Two Czechoslovaks were sentenced to death today as alleged spies for the United States and almost simultaneously the U. S. information service closed its doors for good at the request of the Czech government.

Maj. Jaromir Nechansky, 34, a former British paratrooper, and Veleoslav Wahl, a 28-year-old student—alleged masterminds of an American-organized spy ring—were sentenced to hang by the state court in Pankrac prison after a three-day trial.

Others Sentenced

Four other defendants, all of whom pleaded guilty, received sentences ranging from 18 years to life imprisonment.

The USIS was ordered to shut down last Wednesday at the same time that its chief, U. S. Press Attache Joseph C. Kolarek, was ordered expelled from Czechoslovakia.

Library Stormed

The library was stormed by hundreds of Czechoslovaks yesterday and Thursday, when it gave away thousands of books, leaflets and phonograph records.

At least 10 uniformed and plainclothes police were stationed outside the library and a number of arrests were reported.

In the Pankrac prison trial, Milos Spryval, 29, received a life sentence; Karel Loris, 31, 25 years; Jan Dohnalek, 43, 20 years; and Zdenka Vackova, 25, only woman defendant, 18 years.

Large Turnout Urged for Voting

Central Point, Apr. 22—School officials of consolidated district No. 6 yesterday pointed to overcrowded facilities and urged a large turnout at the polls on Monday, April 24, when school patrons will vote on a $500,000 bond issue.

The bond measure, for constructing a new high school at Central Point, was previously affirmed by voters in November. However, the second election is necessary to satisfy a Portland bonding attorney who questioned the legality of the issue.

Polls will be opened from 2 to 8 p. m. at the Gold Hill school gymnasium.

Persons registered in precinct 69 (Central Point west), 70 (Central Point northeast), 71 (Central Point southeast), 72 (Willow Springs), 73 (Mound) and 74 (Sams Valley) will ballot at Central Point. Those registered in 75 (Gold Hill), 76 (Golden Hill south), 80 (Foothills Creek) and 76 (Rogue River) will vote at Gold Hill. Legal voters must be registered 30 days before the election.

School officials said that increased enrollments have overcrowded present rooms and as lower grades of 100 or more pupils move on to up grades there is no place to put them. Moving the present high school here out will provide at least nine more rooms and care for future growth for some time.

BOMBING POSTPONED

March Field, Cal., Apr. 22—(U.P.)—The 15th air force bombing competition, scheduled here today, 1-3, was postponed indefinitely today to give one of the contestants more time for training.

Kozzer and Plaskett returned to Medford Saturday morning and reported that hospital physicians have great hope that Mrs. Holt will recover.

The Holts are parents of two children, who are now staying with their grandmother in Talent. They were en route to Willow Ranch, Cal., 22 miles south of Lakeview, when the accident happened. Holt told police officers that he thought he had been sideswiped by another car, causing his vehicle to leave the road. He was only slightly injured.

This is the third emergency flight made by the mercy ship since it was put into service in January. In addition, officers of Mercy Flights have made arrangements for air transportation by military craft on two other emergency cases when "Wings of Mercy" was undergoing maintenance.

PLANE WRECK SEEN ON HILLSIDE

RIOT EXERCISE—Members of the 16th U. S. Constabulary in Berlin practice putting up barbed wire barriers across a street during simulated riot exercise in preparation for possible invasion of West Zone by Soviet Zone Communists. Possibly as a result of such drills, Communists announced there would be no invasion of Western Berlin May 28 despite previous announcements.

12 Men, Boy Survive Nine Weeks of Ill Treatment By Reds

Hong Kong, Sunday, Apr. 23—(U.P.)—Twelve men and an 11-year-old boy from the ill-fated yacht Volador arrived here today after being detained for nine weeks by the communists. They included six Americans.

They told a grim story of communist neglect and poor treatment that resulted in the death of a Filipino and considerable hardship for the others.

The 50-ton yacht commanded by Gordon Ross, an American, was caught in a China sea typhoon after it had left Manila early in February en route to Hong Kong for repairs.

It was swept westward and then landed on Hainan island, where they remained for two days. It put out to sea again, only to be caught by another typhoon and eventually seized by the communists.

Ross purchased the yacht from army surplus.

Others on it included his 11-year-old son, William; George Nesbit, San Diego, Cal.; Thomas Gay, Ponca City, Okla.; Jack Adams, Laguna Beach, Cal.; Thomas Simmons, Dallas, Tex.; and Alfred Bryant, Alameda, Cal.

An Australian, a Spaniard, a Dane and three Filipinos also were aboard. The man who died was Marcial Debase of Manila. Boarded By Reds

The yacht was boarded by Chinese communist soldiers when it arrived at Kwangchow-an, on Luchow peninsula. The men had thought they were headed for "French territory," on the basis of a map they carried.

Debase drowned when two communist soldiers jumped into a dinghy and capsized it. The Australian, Ray Goodwin, leaped in and rescued Debase but the communists refused to give him medical aid and he died, the survivors reported.

The men were questioned and then confined to a hotel room. They were not permitted to communicate with anyone.

They said they were imprisoned in Kwangchow for a month, during which several Chinese girls risked their lives by smuggling the men food.

The men said that on March 15, the communists packed them into a truck and drove them to Canton, with the reds sitting by with cocked pistols.

The trip to Canton took three days. There they were lodged in a prison cell 11 by 16 feet, with a 16-inch plank for a bed.

The men said their food consisted of black soggy rice, with a couple of spoonfuls of vegetables. The Ross boy became ill and was hospitalized.

According to the group, it took several weeks to get a mosquito net for Goodwin, who suffers from malaria.

The men said that on April 20 they were put on a train and taken to the China-British border, where their passports and other papers were returned. They said they signed a document stating they had not been ill-treated. They were given shelter at the British border police station.

The yacht is still at Kwangchow, where it was said to have been hit by a bomb.

'Very Mysterious' Developments Seen In Amerasia Theft

Full Story Will Reveal Spy Network

Washington, Apr. 22—Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, (R., Ia.) said tonight that new and "very mysterious" developments have come to light in the Amerasia document theft case.

That is the case which Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, (R., Wis.), has declared will reveal a "most important Soviet espionage" network when the full story comes out.

To Get At Bottom

A senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating McCarthy's charges of communism in the state department has promised to "get to the roots" of the new Amerasia developments.

Meanwhile, attorneys for Owen Lattimore, the Far Eastern expert accused by McCarthy of being a communist spy, asked the subcommittee to continue in public all hearings bearing on their client.

The attorneys also asked Chairman Millard E. Tydings (D., Md.), to let Lattimore answer each hostile witness immediately after the witness testifies, and to examine all documents or other material presented in evidence.

Former Communist Leader Louis F. Budenz, who testified publicly last Thursday that party officials told him Lattimore was a communist, is scheduled to testify again in closed session on Tuesday.

Hickenlooper, a member of the subcommittee investigating, told reporters that "some elements not heretofore known publicly" have become available.

Nearly $1 Million Needed by Rural Schools in 1950-51

The Jackson county rural school board has completed its work of auditing the budgets of individual rural districts and announced yesterday that it will require $951,553.82 to operate about 25 rural schools during the 1950-51 school year. That is nearly $100,000 less than the budget of the board for last year.

The budget must be submitted to a vote by residents in the district since it exceeds the six percent limitation by $719,756.20. The routine of approving the budget by vote has been required for many years and County School Superintendent C. R. Bowman said this will continue to be the case "because the levy base of $237,797.42 is entirely inadequate." He said failure to get the approval of the voters to make the required equalized levy over the county would force each of the individual districts to raise their own levies three-fourths of their levies themselves.

The budget election has been set for May 15.

SPORTS BULLETINS

Marysville, Cal., Apr. 22—Medford's Rogues lost 7 to 2 to Marysville's Braves here Saturday night in a Far West league pre-season exhibition baseball game.

The Braves showed more ability to make their hits count. Medford scored in the third inning when Bolen walked and Williams doubled him home. Singles by Bolen and Williams and a walk to Harms gave Medford its other run in the fifth.

Short score:
Medford..... 2 7 3
Marysville..... 7 8 1

Klamath Falls' tennis team squelched Medford high 9 to 0 in matches at Klamath Falls yesterday. Playing for Medford were Roy Rogers, Fred Shannon, Harvey Martin, Dick Weber, Gordon James and Gayle Christlieb. Pair in the doubles were Shannon and Rogers, Weber and Martin and James and Christlieb.

Sacramento, Apr. 22—(U.P.)—San Francisco Seals had to go 11 innings here tonight to defeat Sacramento, 5 to 2, in a Pacific Coast league baseball game. The Seals pushed across three runs in the top of the 11th to clinch the game. Cliff Melton was the winning hurler, and Orville Grove was charged with the defeat.

Eugene, Ore., Apr. 22—(U.P.)—The University of Oregon scored a 75½ to 55½ triumph over the defending northern division champion from Washington State college in a dual track meet here today.

C-54 WRECKAGE FOUND SOUTHWEST OF TOKYO; NO SURVIVORS SPOTTED

Tokyo, Japan, Sunday, Apr. 23—(U.P.)—American and Japanese ground patrols today reached the wreckage of a C-54 transport carrying 35 Americans which crashed into a mountain slope southwest of Tokyo.

The pilot of one of two helicopters hovering over the scene on a 4,800-foot mountain peak radioed that the ground patrols reached the wreckage about 2 p. m. There were no reports of survivors, and a B-17 that flew over earlier saw no sign of life.

Tokyo, Sunday, Apr. 23—(U.P.)—The wreckage of a C-54 plane that carried 35 Americans was found on a mountain slope southwest of Tokyo today by a B-17 search plane.

The B-17 crew reported that there was no sign of survivors and that the wreckage was strewn over a wide area.

Headquarters for the search for the C-54 which crashed Friday as it was returning from Manila, announced officially that the wreckage had been spotted on the south side of Mount Hirugatake at 12:20 p. m. today.

The announcement said the wreckage was identified by a number on the side of the plane.

Ground rescue squads trudging through rugged terrain had not yet reached the scene.

A helicopter arrived at the area and hovered over the wreckage to direct the ground parties.

Southwest of Tokyo

The B-17 flying by instruments in cloudy and misty weather, spotted and identified the crashed plane through a break in the clouds.

The scene of the crash is in the Tanzawa range, about 60 miles southwest of Tokyo.

An earlier, unconfirmed report said a 300-man American ground party had sighted the wreckage on Mount Hirugatake, three-fourths of the way up the south side.

The party was among 80 patrols of American troops and Japanese that blanketed mountain slopes in the area throughout the day hunting the plane.

Altogether 2,700 Americans and 800 Japanese participated in the hunt, which probably was the greatest search expedition ever carried out here.

There still was slight hope that the patrols might reach the wreckage of the plane, which crashed and burned late Friday as it returned from the Philippines, in time to find some of the 27 passengers and eight crew members alive.

Notables Aboard

The passengers were reported to have included five high occupation officials, one a woman, from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters. They had negotiated a Japanese-Philippines trade agreement at Manila.

Others reported on the plane included two women, two children, 15 army officers, nine enlisted men, an international business machine representative and a member of the army's Philippine command.

Rain and a 300-foot ceiling grounded most planes attempting to spot the wreckage from the air. However, two U.S. observation planes hovered over the 5,400-foot Mount Hirugatake.

Search Parties Sent

At dawn, ground search parties set out from villages around two mountain peaks. Japanese and American searchers went out from camp sites in and near this village, which was being "secured" by Japanese as search headquarters. U. S. District Commander Hisao Yamaguchi.

The army and air force furnished all patrols with "walkie-talkie" radios and sent radio men along with the Japanese teams. Military police jeeps parked at the foot of the mountains were prepared to relay messages to the search commanders and, if possible, establish contact with planes overhead.

Tokyo, Apr. 22—(U.P.)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters today reported the names of 35 persons "reported to be" aboard an air force transport plane which crashed and burned 60 miles southwest of here last night.

They were:
Frank E. Pielcke, 40, chief of allied headquarters foreign trade and commerce division; James G. Torrens, 43, L. Earl L. Chapman, co-pilot; Lt. A. M. Smith, navigator; S. Sgt. W. H. Bowles, engineer; S. Sgt. L. Livingston, radio operator; PFC J. G. Bam, assistant radio operator; and Cpl. J. C. Booth, flight clerk.

Petitions Circulated To Curb Liquor Sales

Eugene, Ore., Apr. 22—(U.P.)—The Oregon Council of Churches and two temperance groups here began circulating initiative petitions today in an attempt to halt the sale of "promotive advertised" alcoholic liquors.

The Temperance League of Oregon, the Oregon Women's Christian Temperance league and the Council of Churches are sponsors of the measure.

Would Rap Sales

Spokesmen today denied the hope to "dry up the state." They admitted, however, that the law would make sale of most liquor and beer in Oregon illegal.

In order to be placed on the November general election ballot, 25,142 signatures would have to be affixed to petitions by July 6. If passed, the measure would go into effect Feb. 1, 1951. Under terms of the proposed law it would be illegal to sell any alcoholic beverage which is "promotively advertised" in Oregon, even though the advertising

Number of Voters Up; GOP Margin in County Slimmer

There are 5,841 more voters registered to vote in this year's May primary election than there were in May, 1948. The county is still predominantly republican, but the GOP's margin of advantage over the democrats has narrowed.

The county clerk's office Saturday finished totaling the figures on the poll books after the Tuesday deadline for registering before the May 19 election. It reported a total of 27,536 duly registered voters as of April 18, with 14,068 republicans and 12,748 democrats, a GOP margin of 1,320. There were 720 miscellaneous registrations.

Comparable figures for May of 1948 showed 21,916 voters registered—12,215 of them republicans and 9,701 democrats, a difference of 3,010. There were 524 miscellaneous.

Part of the large increase was attributed to the increase in the county's population and part of it to the intensive campaign conducted here to get all eligible adults on the registered list. The teamsters and chauffeurs' union local said it would levy $25 fines on members who failed to register, and the League of Women Voters set up several registration booths throughout the county to make a registration easy.

League registrars signed up a total of 741 voters during its campaign.
