Tough Guys Turn Coward When Confronted By Law

Washington, Apr. 24 (U.P.)—Desperadoes today aren't so tough. Not when they are facing law officers.

They turn coward, surrender meekly. An example is the capture recently of three of the FBI's "10 most wanted men."

They were tough to their helplessness, but not when the law caught up with them.

Despite this trend, the FBI doesn't want anyone to take chances with those wanted. The FBI considers them dangerous, and knows there is always the chance that when cornered one will elect to shoot it out.

But since the FBI issued its original list of the "10 most wanted" men in February, the law hasn't had much trouble with the three who have been caught since then.

It wasn't always thus. Fifteen years ago when gangsterism was booming, public enemies with a vain sense of bravado were ready to fight anyone.

One of the "10 most wanted" men in February, the law never being found by youngsters who called in police for the "kill." Another sought to escape notice by playing the part of a law-abiding tourist. The third tried to evade discovery by working as an itinerant farm hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Frost stopped here at the home of his mother, Mrs. John Frost on April 18, as they returned to Klamath Falls after their wedding trip to the coast following their wedding April 15.

Mrs. Ferd Jones substituted at the school April 17, in the third grade in the absence of Mrs. Ida von Buskirk and on April 20, in the seventh grade when Mrs. Ruth Broomefield was ill.

Posse Drill Team Opens '50 Season; Name Drillmaster

Drill season for the Jackson County Mounted Sheriff's posse and Ladies' Mounted troop auxiliary got underway yesterday at the posse grounds on Ross lane. Drills this year are under the direction of Drillmaster L. M. Weisenberger, Weisenberger replaces Shelby M. Tuttle, familiarly known as "Cap," who has served as drillmaster since organization of the two groups when separate drills were first presented.

S. M. Tuttle

Both Weisenberger and Tuttle have been members of the posse since its organization by the late Sheriff Syd L. Brown in 1939. The Ladies' troop was organized in the ensuing few months, headed by Mrs. O. H. Bengtson. Allison Moulton was first captain of the posse.

Members say that out of Tuttle's foresight in the possibilities of showmanship by the groups to add color to the local annual Rogue River round-up has grown a recognized combined drill team by both men and women. They have seen competition in the past several years with similar teams in southern Oregon and northern California.

In competition with Siskiyou and Klamath County Mounted Sheriffs' posses, the local men's and women's teams have been awarded permanent possession of a four-foot high gold trophy by winning drills in the 1948 and 1949 Siskiyou county shows at Yreka.

At the 1949 Siskiyou show the team also won a gold cup for best parade entry at Yreka.

First 1950 appearance of the local team will be in Grants Pass June 3, followed by the Rogue River round-up here June 10 and 11.

Trail Riders Say First Show of Season 'Success'

The horse show sponsored at the Ashland Rodeo grounds yesterday by the Medford Trail Riders was "very successful," according to members of the organization, who said a combination of good weather, a good show and a good crowd combined to make the success.

A number of organizations including the Ashland Riding association and the Jackson County Sheriff's posse were represented in the grand parade. One of the outstanding events, members said, was the drill team exhibition put on by the Trail Riders under the direction of Capt. Tom Ramsey.

Another show highlight was the presentation of a gold and silver belt buckle to Walter Hamby, president of the Ashland riding group, "in appreciation for many favors" shown the Trail Riders.

Results of some of the events, as submitted by the Trail Riders, included:
Quarter horse, Martin first, Fowler second; four-man baton relay, Burke team first; boot race, Fowler first; half-way race, Tessa first; open race, Phillips first; stake race, Harrison first; ladies' quarter-mile race, Mrs. Burch first; potato scramble, Ashland team first; four-man broom pole, Ashland team; saddle and go race, Raggsdale first; Cigarette and umbrella race, Gibson first; in and out barrel race, Mrs. Dodge first; musical chairs, Riggs first; and barrel race, Frazier first.

Thirty home-made cakes were brought to the center here by members of the visiting troupe, and the Red Cross furnished coffee.
