

Public Invited to Health Meeting, Dr. Hawk Speaker

All residents of Jackson county interested in promoting better health in the community, and those who purchase seals at Christmas time, have been invited to attend the annual luncheon meeting of the Jackson County Public Health association next Saturday, Mrs. Dwight Findley president of the association, said today.

"The meeting has been scheduled for Saturday so residents of the rural areas will find it convenient to attend when they are in Medford to shop," Mrs. Findley stated.

Dr. Ray Hawk of Southern Oregon college is to be guest speaker and will talk on "Fostering Mental Health in the School". Annual reports and election of officers will also be on the program of the meeting scheduled for 12:30 p.m. in the Presbyterian church in Medford. There is no charge for the luncheon but all those attending are requested to bring half a dozen sandwiches. Salad, dessert and coffee will be furnished by the Medford Health Group and the executive board. The Presbyterian church is located across from the city park on Holly street.

Contracts Awarded For Buildings at SOC

Portland, Ore., Apr. 26—(U.P.) The Oregon state board of higher education today awarded contracts totaling $259,952 for construction of a library and classroom at Southern Oregon college, Ashland.

The general contract went to Settergren-Wiley company, Portland, and Ausland & Hodson, Ashland. The Rogue River Hardware company, Grants Pass, received the mechanical award, and Ace Electric company, Portland, got the electrical contract.

Scouts To Collect Bottles This Week

Explorer Post 8, Boy Scouts of America, is holding a bottle drive this week, with Saturday designated for pickups. The object of this drive is to raise money to send a scout to the jamboree in Valley Forge this June.

Bottles will be picked up from doorsteps if residents call 2-6082 after noon Thursday or Friday and leave their name and address. Mix, pop or beer bottles of any size or color will be accepted. Bottles marked "no return" will not be picked up.

Federal Job Holders Slated for Pay Boost

Washington, Apr. 26—(U.P.) Holders of 400 federal jobs are getting sizeable pay increases because of new salary scales provided for top positions, the civil service commission announced today.

The commission said 400 jobs had been placed in the three new top pay grades, the highest of which carries an annual stipend of $14,000.

Various departments and agencies had asked that a total of 1,008 jobs be placed in the new grades.

CARE Week Events Set May 1 to 7; Donations Asked

Portland, Apr. 26—Special events in Oregon will be part of the national program during the observance of National CARE week from May 1 to 7, according to CARE committeemen here.

Need for the non-profit relief agency and its expansion in Asia and the far east will be stressed during the week. Americans will be urged to join a democratic demonstration of friendship for people in countries served by CARE.

Ask CARE Packages
Friendship may be demonstrated by sending CARE packages to friends and relatives or making orders or contributions for packages for needy families and welfare institutions.

Contributions may also be made to the CARE-UNESCO book fund program to provide schools and libraries in war-depleted countries with the latest and best American scientific and technical volumes.

A special check will be made of responses during CARE week. Orders or donations can be sent to CARE, 215 Southeast Ninth avenue, Portland 14, Ore.

Fines, Bails Total $1,344 During March

Medford city police received $1,344.50 in fines and bails during March, according to G. H. Nelson, judge of the court.

Of the total $332.50 was for 650 meter fines, $670 for 123 general offenses and $342 for payment of old fines.

There were 27 drunks, 18 failures to stop at stop streets, 14 persons with no operator's license, 13 violations of the basic rule and 10 improper parking citations during March.

Other cases were six each parking in alley and reckless driving, seven each failure to yield right-of-way and no lights on bicycle, five disorderly conduct, four drunk driving, two assault and battery and one each double parking, failure to stop at accident scene, parking with improper clearance and car parked with motor running.

Lions Club Plans Observance of 25th Anniversary

The Medford Lions club, formed in 1925, will celebrate its quarter-century anniversary at a special meeting at the Y club tonight. Jack Peddycord, Seattle, a director of Lions International, will be the principal speaker.

The meeting will include dinner, a social get-together, Peddycord's talk and reminiscences of the local club's history.

The club was formed with more than the 20 members required for a charter, according to Ernest Scott, first "tailtwister" of the local club, and who was active in the formation of the Medford unit. The club used to meet in the dining room of the Holland hotel (now the newsroom of The Mail Tribune) and Wesley Judy was the first president and H. T. Hubbard the first secretary.

Through the 25 years of its existence, the group has made notable contributions to the welfare of Medford residents. Their most important contribution has been in work for the blind, but in addition, the club has been particularly active in promoting city parks.

The club sponsored a movie queen contest, raising the first money to build what is now the Boy scout headquarters across the street from Hawthorne park. The money was turned over to the American Legion for this purpose.

Sponsored Parks
The Lions also promoted and sponsored the triangular park near the junior high school and were active in obtaining for the city the huge acreage around Roxy Ann butte which is now Prescott park.

In addition, the group was a leading group in sponsoring the new city park recently named Hawthorne. Through the means of the "Sleepy Hour" radio quiz contest last year, the group raised funds for the swimming pool, which was later added to funds provided by a bond issue and city tax levy.

Larry Schade Jr. is current president of the organization.

Actress Jeanne Crain To Be Mother Again

Hollywood, Apr. 26—(U.P.)—Actress Jeanne Crain is expecting the stork to make his third visit to her in July, it was disclosed today.

As a result, the 20th Century-Fox star won't be able to appear next month in a film, "Climb the Highest Mountain." She recently starred in "Cheaper by the Dozen," the story of a large family.

Miss Crain and her husband, Paul Brinkman, furniture manufacturer, have two boys.

Timber Trespass Cases on Rise, O & C Chief Reports

More timber trespasses than regular timber sales have occurred on O and C and public domain lands in the Medford district of the bureau of land management so far in 1950, according to E. K. Peterson, district forester.

Action this year has been taken at the rate of one case every 10 days, he stated, adding that the number of trespasses is increasing.

Action in 160 Cases

Peterson reported that formal action has been taken in 160 cases since an office was established in Medford, and that 120 cases have resulted from cutting since 1944. The 120 cases include eight million board feet of timber and 27,000 linear feet of poles and piling with a single stumpage value of $44,738.79.

Of the trespasses 58 were in Jackson county, 48 in Josephine county, five in western Klamath county and nine in southern Douglas county.

Nearly all trespasses occur because loggers working on property adjacent to O and C land fail to have the dividing lines clearly marked by a competent surveyor or they fail to properly supervise their timber fallers, Peterson said.

Triple Stumpage
Triple stumpage is demanded

In all cases involving willful trespass or gross negligence, Double stumpage is usually accepted when the party responsible is able to show good reasons for his belief that he was cutting on his own property. No cases since 1930 have been settled for single stumpage.

Operators remain liable for trespasses even if undiscovered for many years. Sawmill operators who have purchased logs taken without authority from federal lands may also be held liable.

Concerns which have not made satisfactory arrangements to make settlement for a trespass on bureau of land management property will not be awarded a timber sale contract, right-of-way permit or other permit to use O and C or public domain lands.
