Methodist Society Plans May Activity; University Explained

At the recent meeting of the woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church, many activities for the month of May were outlined. Mrs. Harry Meyers presided during the business session and she announced a concert to be given in the church May 6, by the choir of the college of Puget Sound.

A mother-daughter luncheon is to be served in the church dining hall by circles two and three May 13. The Oregon annual conference of Methodist women is to be held in Corvallis May 4 and 5 and three delegates are to attend from the local church.

Mrs. Meredith Groves was elected a member-at-large of the woman's society in order that she may be free to visit the several circles. Heretofore the minister's wife has always been a member of a stated circle.

Mrs. Jessie Beery introduced Mrs. Harlan Bosworth Jr., who spoke on the topic "The International Christian University in Japan," which is to be opened in 1952. Mrs. Bosworth and Dr. B. R. Elliott are co-chairmen for the local committee on activities designed to assist in making possible this school.

Mrs. Bosworth stated Japan shows a decided response to western world methods both spiritually and industrially. The proposed Christian university for oriental students will have as faculty members both Japanese and western leaders in education. The speaker stated that General Douglas MacArthur strongly endorses this educational movement.

Following the noon luncheon, Mrs. R. T. Gilbertson gave the afternoon devotion and Mrs. Gordon Shelton was in charge of the program which stressed the several phases of the Methodist missionary program.

Mrs. Stanley Chirgwin told of the great need for increased numbers in the missionary fields and Mrs. Richard Fanger emphasized the importance of lending help to young workers who desire to prepare for missions work.

Mrs. J. R. Woodford told of the several schools in our country which carry out an intensive training program including nursing and languages. Mrs. Shelton, in summing up the talks given, urged all to become more world minded; thinking in broad terms to include the many church enterprises.

Mrs. W. W. Walker presented a message from Mrs. F. G. Thayer, who is making splendid recovery from a long illness. Closing the afternoon's program, Mrs. A. C. Pierce sang a sacred number.

Roseburg Dairymen Foresee 'Milk War'

Roseburg, Ore., Apr. 29.—(U.P.) Local dairy farmers today predicted a milk war if the state milk marketing administration fails to approve requested price increases.

The state agency had already ordered local farmers to deliver milk at established minimum prices.

Spokesmen for the Umpqua Valley Milk Producers' association said some local distributors had refused to negotiate on a fair milk price.

Dairy farmers said increased costs and freight rates made milk production unprofitable at prices set by Thomas L. Ohlsen, state milk administrator.

The minimum prices are 90 cents a pound for butterfat and $1.90 a hundredweight for fluid milk.

Astoria Land Slide May Have Been Ended

Astoria, Ore., Apr. 29.—(U.P.)—Hopes were high here today that the Coxcomb hill slide, dormant this week, had stopped for good.

However, city officials warned that it was too early to determine whether the earth movement would start again.

Since the slide started four months ago, three homes have been totally or partially destroyed and 18 moved to steeper ground.

The earth flow began after heavy winter snows and 40 inches of rain soaked through 30 feet of topsoil to a layer of thick shale. The wet shale then acted as a greased slide for a large portion of the attractive Irving avenue residential district.

Injured—Jack Sparling, 22, Waverly road, suffered possible ankle and rib fractures yesterday afternoon when he fell while at work at White City Lumber company, according to Conger-Morris ambulance attendants who took him to Community hospital.

Youth Legislature Talks of Education

Salem, Ore., Apr. 29.—(U.P.)—Measures ranging from compulsory sex education to reduction of Oregon's carp population occupied the attention of the third annual youth and government legislature here today.

Nearly 150 Hi-Y boys and Tri-Y girls, forming a model legislature, considered more than 40 bills for final action this afternoon in the senate and house chambers in the state capitol.

A house bill to introduce compulsory sex education in Oregon public schools specified that the course should be called social hygiene and should be compulsory for students from the 7th grade to the 12th grade, inclusive.

The bill provided: "It shall be included in the health program of each student and shall be taught 1/4 (nine weeks) of the school session. The course shall be taught by instructors trained to do so, and shall be taught in segregated (not mixed) classes."

Another house bill would require a pre-marital course pertinent to family relations at the high school level. The course would be required of all seniors in place of one semester of physical education. The physical education teacher would instruct the course.
