

Miss Noreen Kelly

Medford Student Given Play Lead At Oregon School

Miss Noreen Kelly, Medford student attending Marylhurst college at Marylhurst, Ore., will play the feminine lead in "The Barber of Seville" to be produced May 12, 13 and 14 by the college. Miss Kelly, a freshman, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Kelly, 908 West Fourth street.

Originally written by Beaumarchais as a comic opera, "The Barber of Seville" has also won great popularity in its adaptation as stage comedy. The story tells of cunning romantic intrigue in medieval Spain and satirizes the "burning questions" of the time. Miss Kelly has had considerable dramatic experience, having played in school productions while attending St. Mary's academy here, in civic theater plays and with the Shakespearean Festival in Ashland.

Fellowship Day To Be Observed By Church Women

Plans have been completed for the annual May "Fellowship Day" of Medford Council of Church Women on Friday, May 5. It will be held as a tea this year in the First Presbyterian church, Eighth and Holly streets, beginning at 1:15 p.m.

Mrs. Mabel Winston, dean of women of Southern Oregon college, will be the speaker. Her talk will be based on the theme "Our Daily Bread," stressing that a Christian economy needs to be the concern of church women everywhere.

Mrs. William Myers, general chairman, has the following chairmen assisting her: Mrs. C. R. Adamson, program; Mrs. G. L. Flout, hospitality; and Mrs. Lionel Rankin in charge of the food. All the cookies for the tea are being made by the ladies of Zion Lutheran church.

On the program will be Mrs. Claude Cooper, Mrs. L. D. Pierce, Mrs. Meredith Groves and Mrs. Charles Champlin. The Chapel Trio of the First Methodist church, consisting of Misses Loyce Colton, Arlene Brood and Harriet Walker, will sing. Mrs. Henry Huenegard will be at the organ.

Assisting at the tea table will be Mrs. Vern Bailey, Mrs. V. A. Norris, Mrs. Hans Edwardsen, Mrs. A. C. Knudsen, Mrs. C. H. Herman, Mrs. R. K. Bailey, Mrs. E. J. Clark, Mrs. George Wendt, Mrs. Ray Pence, Mrs. Harry Meyers, Mrs. Ben Meyer and Mrs. Ernest Jermark. Mrs. H. N. Herterger will be in charge of the guest book.

All church women of the Rogue valley and their friends are invited to attend this fellowship tea.

Dutch traders began the settlement of Connecticut in 1633.

Mrs. Henrietta Mills, Los Angeles, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans' auxiliary, will be in Medford tomorrow to visit the local chapter and to inspect facilities at the Camp White domiciliary center for veterans. Mrs. Mills has been cited for her outstanding work at Sawtelle veterans hospital in Sawtelle, Cal. Mrs. Mills will be honored at a luncheon Friday at 12 noon at the Jackson hotel.

County Extension Units Hold Homemakers' Festival

Several hundred members of Jackson county's 24 home extension units gathered in the Central Point Grange hall yesterday afternoon for the annual Homemakers' Festival. At this event, the only time during the year when the various units meet together, the year is reviewed, elections are held and speakers from the state extension are presented. Theme of this year's festival was "The World Is at Our Threshold."

With Mrs. C. C. Hoover, Lone Pine district, presiding, the sessions opened at 10 a. m. with Mrs. A. T. Lathrop, Central Point, leading the flag salute and Mrs. Jack Caldwell, Eagle Point, leading group singing. Mrs. Paul Robertson of Howard district was pianist.

Fourteen units of the 24 participated in a style show, with members modeling dresses which they made during the year as a part of unit projects. Mrs. Bertland Stanley, Eagle Point, acted as commentator. Mrs. Lawrence Ousterhout of Eagle Point provided music and Muriel Scales, extension service clothing specialist, also commented on the dresses. Mrs. Fred Svinth, Prospect, was show chairman.

Prospect, Reese Creek, Oak Grove and Lake Creek units presented skits and readings and members of the Central Point unit presented folk dances, wearing costumes.

The morning session closed with Mrs. E. E. Killpatrick of Klamath Falls and Mrs. Lathrop reviewing the meeting of the County Women's council, held in Colorado Springs. During the review Mrs. Lathrop commented on the purposes of Associated Country Women of the World, saying that the organization made it possible for country women to have a voice in national and international affairs.

It was explained that the "penalties for friendship" contributed by the women help to support this international organization, which also strives to promote international friendship and understanding among women of the world.

Following luncheon in the hall, Mrs. Henry Doms of Ashland presided over the afternoon session and introduced Miss Edith Freeman, rural sociologist, who spoke on "Life's Give and Take."

Elections closed the afternoon session with Mrs. Arthur Straus, Gold Hill; Mrs. Eugene Baalman, Valleyview; and Mrs. Fred West, Applegate, elected to the county committee. They replace Mrs. Doms, Mrs. Leand Charley of Eagle Point and Mrs. Lathrop, who have each served the maximum four-year term. Hold-over members of the committee are Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. G. W. McBee, Mrs. Fred Svinth, Mrs. Ben Gardener.

Members of the alumnae committee are Mrs. Lee C. Port, Applegate, chairman; Mrs. Fred Middlebush, Prospect, vice-chairman; Mrs. J. W. Thornton, secretary; and Mesdames I. C. Williams, Lathrop, Effie Birds-eye, W. H. Young, Zuba Walker, A. G. Campbell, Walter Hash, E. L. Olson, B. A. Clark, Ruby Downing, John Elson, Nora Straus, J. R. McCracken, O. C. Maust, Jennie Hutchinson, Arnold Bohnert, O. C. Hamilton, L. E. Ager, A. E. Stevens, Jason Outinger, Al Floyd and Fred Farlow and Miss Claire Hanley.

Exhibits for the festival were displayed in the American Legion hall across the street. Applegate, Central Point, Butte Falls, Griffin Creek and Lake Creek displayed hand shades made by members; Evans Valley, Reese Creek and Central Point exhibited blouses; Prospect and Central Point had a display of gloves and Phoenix and Reese Creek each displayed herbs and seasonings.

Mrs. Ben Gardener of Reese Creek was chairman of the exhibits, in charge of the Eagle Point and Butte Falls units. Sams Valley unit members provided flowers for the stage and Valleyview members provided the table decorations, which were colorful May poles and spring blossoms.

Mrs. McBee was chairman of registration, in charge of Howard, Phoenix and Talent units; Ashland unit provided the registration cards, Westside unit provided child care and Mrs. Charley, supervising Applegate and Medford Parents' units, took charge of tickets.

Mrs. W. J. Warner of Medford, active in extension work when it was first introduced in the county, and Mrs. Nile Christenson, former extension agent for the county, judged scrap books. These were entered by Eagle Point, Central Point, Reese Creek, Prospect and Medford units, with the first two judged to be the most complete.

Officials To Speak For Voters' League

City officials will speak at the annual meeting of the Medford League of Women Voters Saturday, bringing the membership up-to-date on the needs and problems of Medford. The meeting will be held at the Rogue Valley Country club following luncheon, set for 1 p.m.

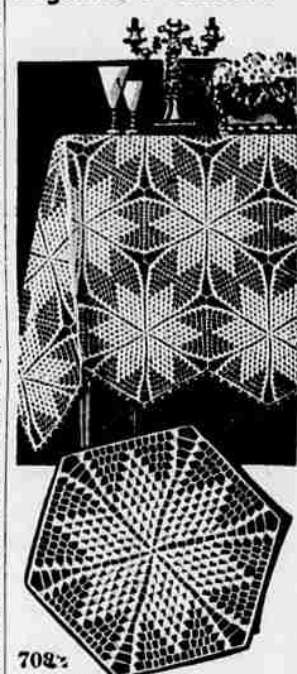

Speaking will be Mayor Diamond Flynn, Robert A. Duff, water superintendent, and Leo Weidner, acting fire chief. Among other things they will explain the proposed bond issues which are to be on the ballot at the primary election.

In addition, the league will elect officers and will hear annual reports.

NEW DEADLINES

Due to the increased amount of news submitted for the society section of the Mail Tribune it has been found necessary to change the deadline time for news. Deadline for all news for Sunday issues will be Friday at 5 p.m. and deadline for weekly issues will be 5 p.m. of the day preceding publication. Week day calendars will be closed at 9 a.m. of the day of publication. All news must be submitted in writing.

Ashland College Plans Events For Mothers Week-End

Ashland — Invitations have been sent to 700 mothers of men and women students on the Southern Oregon college campus for events of the Mothers' Week-End, May 12-13. Committees of associated Women Students, under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Winston, registrar and dean of women, are completing arrangements for the celebration.

The program for this event, an annual occasion, will begin Friday with the visitation of classes and Lincoln Laboratory school at the college. Friday evening, mothers will see the dramatic production of "I Remember Mama," under the direction of Angus Bowmer, followed by a fireside social at Susanne Homes hall, girls' dorm.

Saturday, Mrs. Buena Mockmore of Corvallis will be guest speaker at a women's honor assembly. Then a luncheon for mothers, sons and daughters will be held at Susanne Homes hall. Saturday afternoon a style show and reception tea, coupled with the initiation of new Sigma Epsilon Pi members, will be held.

About 150 mothers are expected to attend the event this year. Women students responsible for making arrangements include Miss Nancy Youngblood, president of AWS; Miss Barbara Orvis of Rogue River, general chairman; Miss Joan Galland of O'Brien and Miss Rosemary Ring of Ashland, publicity; Miss Beriva McCoy, Merrill, honor assembly; Miss Pauline Bursik of Coos Bay and Miss Phyllis Wallen of Mehama, invitations; Miss Marilyn Gorbett, Coos Bay, luncheon; Miss Jacqueline Schmidt of Medford, style show; Miss Adele Sheldon of Ashland, music and fireside; and Miss Marilyn Matheny, Ashland, the Ashland school tours.
