Georgia Hill People Ignore Plea Of Doctor for Payment of Bills

Cumming, Ga., May 5—(U.P.)—Folk in the north Georgia hills were sorry to hear that old Doc Bramlett was sick today, but they paid little heed to his plea for money to pay his own medical expenses.

To Undergo Surgery

Dr. R. H. Bramlett, a 65-year-old country doctor who started out with a horse and buggy in 1911, called upon his patients to pay up what they owed him when he learned he would have to undergo an expensive operation.

But, said Dr. Bramlett, who is now recovering in Atlanta from surgery performed Wednesday, the ad brought "very little response."

"The only ones who paid anything would have paid anyway, without me running the ad," he said.

No Comment Caused

J. L. Reeves, associate editor of the country newspaper, said the ad hadn't even caused any comment in this rugged mountain town.

"Everybody likes Dr. Bramlett and is sorry that he's sick," Reeves said. "But we don't pay any attention to those ads of his."

"He puts an ad like that in the paper just about every year saying he can't buy any more medicine until people pay up or something like that. That's the way he tries to collect his bills."

Skunk Catching Offer Brings Few Takers

Paris, Ont., May 5—(U.P.)—The town council had few takers today on its bounty offer to anybody helping to rid Paris of a siege by skunks. The townspeople were shy about trying to catch the pungent little animals that have invaded the community by the hundreds.

Even with the going price of 35-cents for a skunk pelt, they pointed out, the bounty of "50 cents a head, dead or alive" would scarcely cover the cleaning bill.

Town Councillor Alan Clarkson, who's already had one losing encounter with the woody intruders, beckoned their number at some 300.

Blaze Marks End of Doukhobor Silence

Nelson, B. C., May 5—(U.P.)—Four days of quiet in the British Columbia Doukhobor area were at an end today after a blaze at the radical Sons of Freedom settlement at Glade, B. C., 15 miles from here.

Seventy-five men and women, who kept their clothes on, prayed and knelt before the flames. After a small frame house was gutted, they marched up and down the town's main street singing Russian hymns.

The fire brought the total of Doukhobor homes destroyed in the past two weeks to 23.

Hearing Completed on Solomon for Judge

Salt Lake City, May 5—(U.P.)—A senate judiciary sub-committee yesterday completed a brief hearing on the qualifications of Gus J. Solomon, Portland, for an Oregon district federal judgeship.

President Truman gave Solomon an interim appointment to the federal bench last year.

Witnesses who appeared in Solomon's behalf included B. A. Green, Lamar Tooze, attorney, Brig. Gen. Chester McCarty, air force reserve, and Attorney Gunther Krause.

The sub-committee, headed by Sen. P. A. McCarran, (D., Nev.), conducted an "executive session" on Solomon's nomination. The committee previously concluded a three-day hearing on the protested nomination of

Solomon for Judge

Willis R. Ritter to the Utah federal district bench.

Morse Due in State

Portland, Ore., May 5—(U.P.)—Sen Wayne Morse (R., Ore.) was to arrive in Portland today for a three weeks' political campaign prior to the May 19 primary election.

He was scheduled to spend the week-end in his home city, Eugene, where he will address the Association of University Professors. He will speak at a meeting of the Salem Chamber of Commerce Monday night and confer with his campaign workers in Portland Monday night.

Morse's principal opponent is Dave Hoover, Swisshome, who has campaigned against Morse as a "real republican."

Stork Wins Race on Lonely Prairie Road

Casper, Wyo., May 5—(U.P.)—A Casper housewife said today the premature birth of her third child on a lonely prairie road "took only a minute and then we drove on."

The four pound, 13-ounce boy was born to Mrs. Ed Robertson, 25, yesterday as her husband drove over a snow-obscured road in a desperate race against time.

But the stork won the race with the 28-year-old father, and the baby was born in the car, halfway between their Midwest, Wyo., home and Casper.

Attendants at the Casper hospital reported the mother was "doing well."

Cash Prizes Offered For Quadruplet Names

Sleepy Eye, Minn., May 5—(U.P.)—The tiny Seifert quadruplets, named simply "A," "B," "C," and "D," were getting along "just fine" today while their father struggled to outfit them with better names.

The three girls and one boy, born Wednesday to Mrs. Arthur Seifert, 37, were under constant watch in their incubator at the Sleepy Eye hospital.

Hospital officials said the foursome had not been weighed since birth because they were too delicate to remove from the incubator.

"But they're getting along just fine," a nurse said.

Seifert, 43, who already had six children before the quads arrived, announced after the births that he just couldn't think of four more names.

The tide of the Revolutionary war turned toward the American cause when colonial troops stopped British General Burgoyne at the Saratoga battlefield, now a national historical park.
