

Scout Camp-o-ree To Draw 250 Boys Saturday, Sunday

"Camping for Fun" is the theme of the annual Boy scout camp-o-ree for the Big Pines and Ashland districts to be held this Saturday and Sunday at Hilltop ranch, according to J. A. McDougall, Crater Lake Area council commissioner.

John W. Danforth, Big Pines neighborhood commissioner, has been selected as camp-o-ree director of the overnight camp. Some 250 scouts are expected this year. C. A. "Red" Stothers, Big Pines district camping chairman, said that all scout troops in Jackson county have been invited to attend and participate in the event. The troops will arrive Saturday between 9:30 and 11:30 a.m., and will select and set up camp sites with special emphasis on a camp that will be comfortable and practical. The opening ceremony and flag raising will be at 1:30 p.m. by Explorer Post 8, and the scout drum and bugle corps of Troop 40, Central Point.

Peace Formula Sought In Bakery Dispute

Washington, May 5—(U.P.)—Federal mediators tried again today to work out a peace formula to head off a threatening strike of AFL bakery workers that could cut off bread supplies in more than 30 cities.

Chief Mediator Cyrus S. Ching said the strike set for Monday against Continental Baking company plants could have serious effects in some of the nation's biggest cities.

Ching and a top aide, Clyde Mills, engineered a one-week postponement of the strike last Monday, just hours before the deadline.

The union, representing more than 2,500 bakers, said another 40,000 bakers in cities where Continental contracts are signed jointly with other big bakery chains would join the walkout.

Forest Industries Criticize Regulation

Portland, Ore., May 5—(U.P.)—The Northwest Forest industries today criticized new interior department right-of-way regulations on Oregon and California grant lands on grounds they interfered with "fundamental property rights."

The bureau of land management, an agency of the interior department, recently issued new rules governing rights-of-way.

E. P. Stamm, Portland, chairman of the forest conservation committee of forest industries, said: "Road owners think they should have the right of cancellation of road use by any licensee of the government when such a party is careless in traffic control or forest fire protection."

Stamm asserted that under the new regulations only the government has the right of cancellation.

Farmers in Legal Action Against Aluminum Firm

Portland, Ore., May 5—(U.P.)—Two suits totaling $1,185,376 were on file in the federal court clerk's office today against the Vancouver, Wash., plant of the Aluminum Corporation of America. The suits marked a new step by local farmers to recoup losses they claimed were caused by fumes from the plants.

Troutdale Plant Sued

Currently, a $3,500,000 suit is being tried a few doors from the clerk's office against the Troutdale, Ore., plant of the Reynolds Metals company.

One of the Vancouver suits was filed by Charles and Etta Browning.

They said fumes killed and injured their cattle, prevented normal increase of the herd and damaged hay, grain, and pasture. Their suit demands $250,000 actual damages, $500,000 punitive damages and $250,000 for attorney's fees.

The other suit was filed by R. M. and Mary Perrin for damages to gladioli bulb crops allegedly caused by fumes from the Vancouver factory. They seek $46,344 general damages, $92,688 punitive damages and $46,344 for attorney's fees.

Some 20 farmers from Troutdale, Ore., are engaged in a $3,500,000 court battle against the Reynolds company for prune and gladioli crop damage allegedly caused by fluoride fumes from the Troutdale aluminum plant.
