Navy Mothers Observe Thirteenth Birthday At Meeting Tuesday

Medford Navy Mothers' club celebrated the 13th anniversary of the organization at a luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Girls Community club. About 25 members were present, including seven members from the Central Point club.

A number of charter members were present, these including Mrs. Clara Higgins, Mrs. Eliza R. Santo, Mrs. Josie Hober, Mrs. George Culy, Mrs. Carl Ludwig and Mrs. Grace Roberts.

Today several members of the club will go to Roseburg for a district meeting at which representatives from Medford, Central Point, Coos Bay, Portland and Roseburg will be present. Mrs. Elsie Alexander and members of her Hawaiian band will make the trip to play at the veterans hospital in Roseburg.

Mrs. O. V. Hayes is commander of the Medford club.

Visitors Entertained By Degree of Honor At Meeting Last Week

Delegates of the Degree of Honor Lodge from Roseburg, Grants Pass and Ashland met with the Medford chapter last week for annual guest night, in the Pythian hall.

A potluck supper preceded a short business meeting when state officers and visiting presidents were introduced. Misses Marilyn and Donna Lou Barker played accordion solos. The drill team gave a preview of the drill to be presented for inspection the latter part of May.

News Notes from Medford Hi

By Robene Starcher

Over 90 girls participated in the style show and tea which were held in the cafeteria Wednesday in connection with the annual Girls' League week. The event was highlighted by presentation of various awards to outstanding members of the league.

The style show was presented by Mrs. Alberta Lolland's sewing classes, with the girls modeling clothes they had made, and the cooking classes under the supervision of Miss Hazel Hatley were in charge of the tea.

Bebe Millsaps was named winner of the chapter, AA, PEO merit award which was presented by Mrs. Claude Thompson, chapter president. The Daughters of the American Revolution citizenship award was presented to Barbara Manley by Mrs. Sherman L. Divine, a past regent of Crater Lake chapter and chairman of the good citizenship committee.

Mrs. Marjorie Butler, Girls' league advisor, was presented a large purple orchid by a group of league members, and she in turn presented Girls' league awards for outstanding work in the group to Gloria Juhnke and Barbara Burns, seniors; Alverna Gillespie and Suzanne Hinkle, juniors; Glenda Martin, Wilma Tisdell and Evelyn Jones, sophomores.

The Neva Lowry memorial awards for the best cotton dresses were presented by Mrs. Lolland to Bebe Millsaps, Irene Williams and Donna Friend.

Girls pouring for the tea were Irene Carr, Jerrie Haring Watson, Jean Cardona, Wanda Lofland, Evelyn Moen and Diana Monia Wilson. Beverly Robinson was general chairman of the tea committee, and sub-chairmen were Jean Cardona, Alyce Gault, Alice Helman, Joan Haring and Pat Lemmon.

Bebe Millsaps was style show chairman. Background music for the tea was provided by the senior high string quartet, Joyce Montgomery; Maureen Rice, Robene Starcher and Margaret Huson, and Ruth Lininger, pianist. Miss Lorraine Veidt supplied piano music for the style show, and was in charge of the tea program.

The program consisted of "That Wonderful Mother of Mine," sung by Suzanne Hinkle, soprano; "Salut d'Amor," played as a violin solo by Maureen Rice, and "Music When Soft Voices Die" and "Without a Song" sung by the girls' sextet composed of Jane Durno, Suzanne Hinkle, Donna Mack, Maxine Myers, Virginia Richmond and Florence Lyons.

The junior and senior classes have selected princesses for the Junior Prom, to be given May 13. The juniors chose Janet Hise, Donna Mullin, Mary Jo True and Corinne Wing. Seniors selected are Patsy Bottjer, Evelyn Moen, Virginia Richmond and Jerrie Haring Watson.

From these eight a queen will be selected for the dance.

Mrs. Elsie Butler and DeVere Taylor, senior high school faculty members, will be at junior high school Tuesday to enroll ninth grade pupils for their first year in senior high school. The class is said to number more than 360 pupils, largest in the history of the schools.

Several Klamath Union high school seniors visited Medford high school May 1, their official "skip day." Included were Wayne Carothers, Dick Petzoldt, Harold Howard, Ron Lowell, Doug Meyers, Dorin Van Lue, Dick Winters, Bill Goss, Bob Yarnell, Bob Bye, Gene Carlson, Roger Klahn and Joe Wilkins. Yarnell attended junior high school here at one time.

Spring Clean Expert Says 'Plan It Out'

Pittsburgh—(U.P.)—Housewives who dread spring housecleaning would do better if they just sat down.

Mrs. Louis McClain doesn't offer the advice as a rebellious gesture. She means: sit down and decide what's to be done.

When you are responsible for six floors in one building and another, it takes planning and organization, Mrs. McClain's results at Shady-side hospital are proof of her advice.

Four supervisors and 70 workers help Mrs. McClain to clean miles of floors. Her walls run into acres. Four men work steadily five and a half days each week just to keep the floors clean.

Mrs. McClain stresses planning and organization to her workers. Once in a while she admits there's a little more to be done.

"So I just roll up my sleeves and dig in myself," she said.

There are nine daily newspapers in the territory of Alaska.

Students Disagree With Charges Made Against Fraternities

Chicago (U.P.)—Co-eds and fraternity men disagree with educators who called the Greek letter societies undemocratic, frivolous and disloyal to their schools.

In a panel discussion, educators attending the 35th annual meeting of the North Central Association of colleges and secondary schools here said the "Greeks" contributed nothing to the colleges.

The association, which wields great power in crediting colleges and high schools, planned to take no action against the secret societies, however.

One of the speakers was Edgar C. Cummings, dean of DePauw university at Greencastle, Ind., which is overloaded with fraternities and sororities. The Methodist school of 2,200 students, often called the "marriage mart of the midwest," has 23 of them altogether.

Cummings charged that any education the Greek society members get is received by "forced feeding or osmosis."

Co-Ed Disagrees
He said his school is swamped with applications from girls who apparently want to come to DePauw just to join a sorority, and their loyalties go to the sorority house first and the school second.

But a comely blonde co-ed, Frances Chambers, a member of Delta Delta Delta at DePauw, denied her dean's charges. Fraternity members from other schools supported her stand, as did the national president of a sorority.

Miss Chambers, a junior from Bronxville, N. Y., who is engaged to a Chicago boy, said "sororities and fraternities stimulate scholarship."

"We have regular study hours and study tables, and the houses are constantly striving to be far up in the scholastic standings," she said. "Our house tries to get every girl a 'C' average." Hutchins Disputed

At the University of Chicago, where president Robert Hutchins once said "fun, fraternities and football" were the worst enemies of academic education, a Beta Theta Phi, John Lovejoy, said "fraternities teach us to live together and broaden our home training."
