Phoenix Club To Make Final Festival Plans

Phoenix — Final preparations for the Phoenix May festival will be discussed at a meeting of the Phoenix Thursday club May 11 at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Jess Wilson, Delta Waters road.

Mrs. Al Floyd will be assisting hostess.

Delight Mother on her day with a gift of lovely china from our very complete selection. Perhaps a choice cup and saucer of English bone china or precious Irish Belleek . . . or a quaint lace edged Bavarian bowl—or a hand painted tea set for gracious entertaining.

The most memorable gift of all would be fine china dinnerware by Franciscan or Theodore Haviland. We have many beautiful patterns, all open stock. You may start with one place setting, or even a simple piece. If you prefer to let Mother select her own pattern, a gift certificate is the ideal remembrance.

Mothers in Corvallis For Week-End Events

Several Medford women with sons and daughters at Oregon State college are spending the week-end on the campus in order to participate in Mothers' Week-end festivities.

Mrs. Howell B. Murphy, Ross Lane, went up by plane Friday to visit her daughter, Marilyn Murphy, a freshman and a pledge of Kappa Delta sorority.

Also in Corvallis is Mrs. Samuel D. Earhart, 11 North Peach street, who is with her son, Dean. He is a junior at the school. Mrs. D. E. DeArmond, 1103 Queen Anne avenue, is spending the week-end with her son, Richard, who is a senior. He is a member of Delta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Marjorie Hopkins is also on the campus and is a guest of her son, Alvin Penna, student at the school.

Mrs. M. H. Field is spending the week-end with her daughter, Miss Glenda Fields, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Medford Garden Club Elects Officers For Year 1950-51

Medford Garden club met Thursday afternoon at the YMCA and elected officers for the coming year, naming Mrs. Wallace A. Freeland as president. She succeeds Mrs. A. C. Leighton.

Others named to office were Mrs. Tom Ginn, first vice-president; Miss Phyllis Rusque, second vice-president; Mrs. Harry Bryant, recording secretary; Miss Amy Harding, corresponding secretary; Mrs. L. V. Robertson, treasurer, and Mrs. Fred Lawrence, historian.

The horticulture lesson, given by Mrs. Martin Heikamp, was on "Annuals." From her talk the audience received many good ideas on planting annuals for color and height and other essentials of a good border or planting bed.

Mrs. Heikamp recently attended the Oakland flower show and gave first-hand information on several new introductions, mentioning the new petunia, Fire Chief, and a new pink petunia, named Cheerful. She pointed out that annuals are important in that they "fill in" at a time when some perennials are through blooming and others are getting ready to bloom.

Speaker of the day was Mrs. Harry C. Smith of Cave Junction, Ore., and she spoke on "Flower Arranging." She began with the suitability of background, space and occasion and then illustrated correct usage of different containers and flower holders. After this she proceeded with the making of several fine arrangements, using flowers provided by members, all of which were enthusiastically received.

A group of garden club members from Shady Cove prepared tea. The beautiful tea table centerpiece was a May pole on a grooved base of mosses dotted with tiny spring flowers.

Attention was called to the district meeting to be held in the Grange hall in Rogue River May 9, and also to the state meeting to be held at Klamath Falls May 13-15.

In bringing her year as club president to a close, Mrs. Leighton last week called attention to the fact that one of the club's major projects for the year, new draperies for the YMCA recreation room, has just been completed. The club, as well as other organizations of the city, use the recreation room as a meeting place.

The draperies have a background of soft gray-green with large leaves of green and rust, and add much to the cheerful atmosphere of this big room. Since the windows are in many, and large, the expenditure was almost $300, with the garden club raising almost two-thirds of this sum.

Announcing completion of the project, Mrs. Leighton said she wished to "gratefully acknowledge" donations from a number of groups, including the YMCA square dance group, Chapter AA, PEO, Wednesday Study club, American Association of University Women, Lady Lions and Just Folks club, as well as the cooperation of Wakefield's Drapery shop.

Spring Show Set By Garden Club; Chairman Named

Medford Garden club's spring flower show, which promises to be the largest ever staged by the club has been scheduled for May 16 in the social hall of the YMCA. Mrs. Elton Waldron and Miss Phyllis Rusque have been named chairmen of the show by Mrs. A. C. Leighton, president.

The show will feature a specimen display of named iris, and this is in charge of Mrs. C. C. Sater. Mrs. Neil Davidson will have the tables of miniatures and small arrangements. There will be one division of arrangements made in pitchers, tea kettles and tea pots, and Mrs. D. H. Barber has been named chairman of this division. Mrs. Dale Franklin will take charge of the cup and saucer arrangements and Mrs. J. J. Brugman will have all arrangements not covered under these certain classifications. Mrs. W. H. Dyer is chairman of the corsages.

As in the past, the show is non-competitive and anyone is invited to enter. Space is being reserved for the displays of commercial growers, and a number have already arranged for their exhibits.

The hours of the show will be from 12 noon until 9 p. m., and a silver tea will be served during these hours. Mrs. F. J. Newman is chairman of the tea.
