Medford Chapter Gold Star Mothers Installed Friday

Camp White—With many distinguished guests present in the audience of more than 200 persons, the Gold Star Mothers chapter of Medford was installed at Camp White recreation hall Friday evening. Mrs. Rose A. Smith of Portland was the installing officer and she was assisted by a degree team from Roseburg composed of Mrs. Olive Clark, Mrs. Everet Johnson, Mrs. Hugh Harrison, Mrs. Iva M. Van Noy and Mrs. Mary Lou Newhouse.

An invocation was given by Chaplain John Kuminsky and a benediction pronounced by Chaplain Henry W. Anderson both of Camp White's staff. Mayor Diamond Flynn presented the charter to Mrs. James Cech the new chapter's first president.

Solos were sung by Miss Frances Thrun, accompanied by Bruno Pellegrini. All service organizations were represented. To Mrs. Fred Lawrence went the credit for much missionary work in the organization of Medford's Gold Star Mothers.

The first gift presented the group was given by Mrs. Genevieve Hyde upon behalf of the Daughters of Union Veterans. It was a flag.

Several mothers failed to register, but those who did included Mrs. Mabel Nicholson, Mrs. Clyde Sturgill, Mrs. Matilda Dietrich, Mrs. Phoebe Kindred, Mrs. George Culy, Mrs. Grace Roberts, Mrs. A. B. Shirley, Mrs. Jack Clark, Mrs. Joseph Shober, Mrs. Florence Parks, Mrs. Lottie L. Fiede, Mrs. Mary Ruch, Mrs. Cech and Mrs. Margaret Lamb.

As the solemn ritual was brought to a close, a sentence in the benediction of Chaplain Anderson was as follows: "Wherever there was a chaplain available, he stood by and said good-bye to that son for you."

Annual Fellowship Day Marked by Church Women

Church women of the city gathered at the First Presbyterian church Friday afternoon to observe the annual May Fellowship day, yearly event sponsored by the Medford Council of Church Women. The program had been prepared under the leadership of Mrs. William Myers, and Mrs. Mabel Winston, dean of women and registrar of Southern Oregon college, Ashland, was speaker.

Mrs. Winston spoke on "Sharing," based on the national theme of the day, "Our Daily Bread," which was used in similar gatherings throughout the world on the same day.

Mrs. Winston stated "that in order to share we must have something to share. Good things come, not from us, but through us," she said, "and if we have no great source of power, then we have nothing to share."

"The deeper question is: Where are the greater sources of power which one can tap?" the speaker said, and added that the home church and school must strive to see that children learn all of which they are capable and develop into the finest individual it is possible for them to become. Education is not centered in any one formal situation, but in the dozens of family and social situations where an individual may learn to develop into what his Creator intended him to be, the speaker declared. All have a handicap of one kind or another, she said, and each must learn to accept his particular one, and resolve it to his own satisfaction.

"Women must rise to any occasion, wherever it be in an office, shipyard or home," Mrs. Winston said, adding, "Women must learn to have respect for themselves as individuals."

In closing she stressed the importance of getting recognition in the press and on the radio for women in positions of character and courage and those who have done good deeds, instead of those who have mere physical beauty and glamour.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Claude Cooper and Mrs. L. B. Pierce, followed by prayer by Mrs. Meredith Groves. Mrs. Charles Champlin sang "The Lord's Prayer" and the Chapel trio of the First Methodist church, Misses Loyce Colton, Archlene Brood and Harriet Walker, sang "Break Thou the Bread of Life," accompanied by Mrs. C. R. Adamson, who also led the group in singing. Mrs. Henry Huenergardt was the organist.

Following the program the guests were served tea in the church parlors. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. G. I. Floux the three tea tables were beautifully decorated, one in white with lily-of-the-valley, one in blue with blue Dutch iris and blue forget-me-nots and one in pink with pink iris and pink forget-me-nots. The cookies were made by the ladies of the Zion Lutheran church and a committee headed by Mrs. Lionel Rankin made the tea sandwiches.

Mrs. Adamson played soft music throughout the tea. Mrs. Victor Birdseye, president of the council, introduced the presidents of the women's organizations of each church in the coun-
