

Rogue River

Rogue River, May 10 — The West Evans creek road has been gravelled as far as Fielder creek, and notices have been posted prohibiting tractors with lugs. The road is to be oiled, according to word recently received from Paul Rynning, county engineer.

Mr. and Mrs. Orla A. Perschka and their son Robert, Mercer, Pa., are visiting at the Carlos Magerle home on Pine street. Robert Perschka has purchased the Magerle mine on Wards creek. He became interested in the mine while working with Carlos Magerle last summer.

The card party at the Live Oak Grange hall last Saturday evening was well attended. During the evening, gifts appropriate to this locality were presented with the guests. Tie clasps with fishing flies encased in plastic were given to Fred Denzler and Harry Rose. Ladies having the highest scores were Florence Northrup, canasta, and Mrs. A. P. Klomhaus, pinochle. The next card party is to be held May 20.

The American Pension committee met Sunday, May 7, at the Grange hall under the supervision of E. C. Fiene, Gold Hill, who is assisting the Rogue River group to organize. Membership cards were distributed and application for a charter was made. The next meeting was set for June 4 at 2 p.m. (DST).

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Davis and son Sidney of the Domestic Gas company in Medford and Gold Hill were guests at a chicken fry given by Col. and Mrs. C. L. Williams and family, Sunday, May 7.

Enid Parr, cashier with the National Biscuit company at San Francisco, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Parr of Wards creek. Mrs. Annie Owens, Central Point, returned home Saturday after a week's visit with her sisters, Miss Ethel Milton, Mrs. Dan Magerle and Mrs. Lillie Dennis of West Evans creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Friedenthal returned Saturday from a motor trip. They spent a week visiting relatives and friends throughout the western part of the state. They called on the Al Piersons at Vernonia, Ore., and saw the Pierson's new baby girl, the second smallest baby ever born in a Portland sanatorium. They report she is a pretty baby and doing well.

Rae and Bill Hancock were getting settled in their home when Friedenthals arrived in Lincoln Beach to visit them. Hancocks sent greetings to all their Rogue River friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Bennett, Vallejo, Cal., visited Mrs. Martha Cary, enroute from Portland and Caldwell where they had been visiting with their father, Arthur Bennett.

Mrs. Grace Kathan returned from a visit with her daughter at Hill, Cal., accompanied by her little granddaughter, Janice Smith. Janice came to visit her cousin Johnny at the Reason Evencizer home on Evans creek.

PARKING METERS GROW
Chicago—(U.P.)—Parking meters have tripled in number in the United States in the past three years, the American Municipal association reported. In January, 1947, there were an estimated 290,000 meters in 924 U. S. municipalities. Now there are about 825,000 in 2,240 cities and towns.

Even Wild West Drops Its Toughness When Horse Racing Started in Area

Tucson, Ariz.—(U.P.)—The wild, wild west is getting so tame that even horse racing has become respectable.

Time was when two gun-toting ranchers would match their prize stock ponies in a race and do anything short of shooting each other to win. Nothing was bared, not even the use of dope, and individual stakes were as high as $10,000.

But not any more, pahdnah. That sort of thing went out when the custom-built 10-gallon hat came in. The races are strictly on the level, even with women jockeys riding some of the mounts.

They're so honest, in fact, that horse racing has become fun for the whole family, including the horses. Family Gathers
Come Sunday morning, maw packs a box lunch, the family is loaded into the station wagon, and the prize ranch horse, cheated out of his day of oat-munching rest, is put on a trailer and hauled to the track, on a ranch outside Tucson.

A reporter visited "Churchill Downs" of Arizona during a stop-over on the inaugural flight of American airlines' new $110 transcontinental air coach service. Here on the cactus-studded desert, ranches hope to establish an annual sweepstakes as big as the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes. The 10th annual speed trials and world championship quarters are being run now.

But they're not going to do it with thoroughbreds. That's sissy stuff to the dungaree-clad millionaire sportsmen who roll their own cigarettes. They're using the hardy stock that's been here since 1800 and never has been replaced by the automobile.

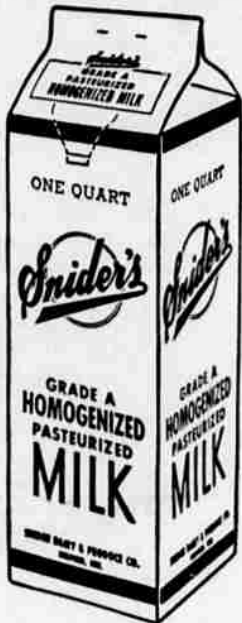

Horses Not Delicate
The horses out this way aren't delicate like those in the east and far west. They're what is known as quarter horses—horses that run their best when the distance is limited to a straight stretch of a quarter of a mile, and man! how they can go. Weekdays many of the racing ponies have to work for their hay. They are used in the herding and roping of cattle. They aren't pampered like city slicker thoroughbreds, and anyone can get on them and have a smooth ride, providing he knows how to stay on a horse in the first place.

When a quarter-horse's racing days are over, it isn't put out to pasture the way thoroughbreds are. It goes back to work full-time on the ranch or becomes a riding horse.

Sport Spreading
Ranchers hereabouts like to hear Tucson called the "capital of quarter horse racing." The sport wasn't really organized until 10 years ago, but it has spread to almost all of the neighboring states.

Up until about 1940, quarter-horse racing was held on an informal basis—just one rancher's horse against another's. Then horse owners started organizing two-day meets and ran a full card of ponies.
