Pennsylvania Barber Recollects 'Old Days'

Shamokin, Pa. (U.P.)—A 71-year-old Shamokin barber paused in his work and looked back at over 50 years in his trade.

Frank K. Sheary thinks one of the big changes in barbering over the years is the different attitude of the customers. He finds they have grown more considerate over the years.

Sheary said the big revolution in the trade came with the invention of the safety razor. Before that three-fourths of the barber's business was shaving. The veteran fondly recalls the day of the 10-cent shave and the 3-cent haircut, when men flocked into the barber shops once a week for a shave. Saturday night was the time of the heaviest business. Everyone wanted to look clean-shaven for Sunday.

After the safety razor became popular, Sheary said, the shaving business dropped off until today a barber sometimes goes an entire day without shaving a man.

SNOW CAPS MELTING
Columbus, O., May 20 (U.P.)—A group of 20 scientists will begin investigations this week near the Arctic Circle to determine whether the world's great cities may eventually be drowned in water from melting polar ice caps.

REPRESENTATIVE—Glenn H. Utz, above, 843 East Jackson street, announced Saturday his appointment as Medford representative for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company of Milwaukee, Wis. Utz will be equipped to handle all types of life insurance, he said. He will conduct his business from an office located in his home.

Mrs. Sothman Rites Monday at Redmond

Remains of Mrs. Caroline Sothman, 80, who passed away Friday at her home on the Leo Smith ranch, near Wimer, were taken by Conger-Morris funeral home to Redmond for services and interment there Monday at 10 a.m.

The woman apparently took her own life by hanging, according to the state police report. Mrs. Sothman was born in Germany, Aug. 1, 1869, but lived most of her life in this country. She resided at Redmond for 12 years and for the past eight months has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Leo Smith. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Smith; Mrs. John Evick, Madras, Ore., and Mrs. Joe Ralph, Arras, B.C.; one son, George, of Roseburg; 13 grandchildren, nine great grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews in Germany.

Production Credit Groups Plan Meeting

Directors and secretary-treasurers of five production credit associations in central, southern and western Oregon will meet at Redmond, May 26 and 27, for their annual summer conference, it was announced yesterday. The sessions will also be attended by officials of the production credit corporation and of the Federal intermediate credit bank of Spokane.

Associations attending the Redmond conference will be Central Oregon, Redmond; Klamath, Klamath Falls; Southern Oregon, Medford; Mid-Columbia, The Dalles, and Willamette, Salem.

Range Inspection Tours Arranged Monday, Tuesday

A range seeding inspection tour, scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, has been arranged by the county agents' office to show the success that has been achieved in the past year or so in restoring burned over or otherwise useless land to profitable grazing lands.

Beginning at 10 a.m. Monday a large group of stockmen and others are expected to begin their tour at the Foothills Creek ranch of Dr. Frank Freeburger where they will view the work he has done, and will also see the results of reseeding on O and C lands. From there they will go to the Valley's End ranch of Ben Day. They will tour the rangelands beginning at 1:30 p.m. Monday. The first day of the tour will conclude at John Day's Table Rock estates.

Tuesday Tour
On Tuesday the tour will be resumed at 10 a.m. with an inspection of the Eagle Point seeding area. At 2 p.m. Tuesday the touring ranchers will see Dog Creek burn area where remarkable progress has been made with the program of reseeding burned-over lands. The tour will end at the Shady Cove airport where range grasses have also been planted and are thriving.

Persons interested in the tour may join it at any time during the two days at the places and hours listed.

City Council Tells Voters Thanks for Okaying Measures

Medford city council at a noon meeting yesterday accepted and affirmed the vote of residents Friday on the three city measures which authorized expansion of the water supply system and fire department.

In a memorandum at the same time the council expressed its thanks to citizens for the overwhelming vote of confidence in the city administration. Mayor Diamond Flynn characterized the vote as one of the finest expressions ever given to city officials. He said that the administration feels that the people are solidly behind it.

At the session the council formulated a request to the city of Portland for a two-weeks extension of Capt. Leo Weidner's loan term with the Medford fire department. Weidner was obtained as a fire consultant for four months which end at the first of next month. Extension will allow further consultation with city officials concerning proposed fire prevention ordinances.

The water commission was authorized to negotiate with the forest service for an exchange of property in the Big Butte springs area. Part of the site proposed for a storage dam to provide supplemental water for Eagle Point Irrigation district is on government land.

It will be asked in exchange for property not needed in the Medford watershed. The dam project is included in the bond issue approved.

Dead line on Classified Ads: 3:30 p.m. for following day, 10 a.m. Monday for Monday; noon Saturday for Sunday a.m.

Building Permits Up; Dwelling Value Down

Although Medford's total building permit valuation increased 14 per cent in the first quarter of 1950 over the first quarter of 1949, the valuation of dwelling permits alone dropped 27 per cent.

The value of all the permits issued here during the first three months of the year was $746,069, but only $390,640 of that amount was for dwelling units. The balance was for commercial and industrial development. Largest single item during the period was the permit issued to the F. W. Woolworth company for $110,000 to remodel and expand its branch store here.
