

Order of the Amaranth Chartered During Rites

Roxy Ann Court No. 20, Order of the Amaranth, organized in Medford several weeks ago, received its charter in elaborate ceremonies held May 13 in the IOOF hall. Order of Amaranth is a Masonic body, and about 35 grand officers and other officials from various parts of the state were here for the event.

Mrs. L. G. Frink was installed royal matron, and Glenn Linn, royal patron.

Also taking office in the new court were Mrs. Leta Queen, associate royal matron; Ira D. Canfield, associate royal patron; Vernon Turpin, treasurer; Mrs. Canfield, secretary; Mrs. Elton Waldron, conductress; Mrs. Linn, associate conductress; Mrs. John Esp, standard bearer; Mrs. Edward C. Root, marshal in the east; Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, marshal in the west; Mrs. Orrie Stoddard, prelate; Mrs. Furman Everham, truth; Mrs. Turpin, faith; Mrs. Ruth Freed, wisdom; Mrs. Charles Hoppe, a past royal matron; George Rehart, historian; Mrs. Richard Mayfield, musician; Edward C. Root, chairman trustees; Charles Hoppe and Furman Everham, trustees; Mrs. Ernest Price, warder; George Jacobs, sentinel.

Installation was conducted by grand officers. Here were William Pritchard, Portland, grand royal patron for Oregon who was installing patron; Mrs. Edna Manning, Salem, a past grand royal matron who was installing marshal; Jack Schulze, Klamath Falls, associate grand royal patron who acted as marshal's aide; Mrs. Frances E. Ostron, Portland, grand secretary of the order who acted as installing prelate; Mrs. Maudie Horton, Portland, grand royal matron, who was installing secretary; Mrs. Margaret Mitchell, Portland, grand marshal in the east and Mrs. Rigmor Sorensen, Portland, grand marshal in the west, installing marshals; Mrs. Winnifred K. Dyers, Portland, grand conductress who served as installing musician.

Other grand officers present were Frank Scobert, Eugene, supreme royal patron; Mrs. Gladys Lusted, grand prelate; Leslie McNeill, grand marshal; Mrs. Alice Alexander, grand page; Mrs. Gladys Heisler, assistant grand lecturer; Mrs. Eva May Baker, grand trustee, all from Portland.

Particularly impressive were the coronation ceremonies for Mrs. Frink. Coronation matron was Mrs. Irma Purdy, past grand royal matron of the State of Washington who came from Everett for the event. Mrs. Purdy had served as royal matron for Mrs. Frink's father, George T. Stoddard, when he was royal patron of the Everett court in Washington. Crown bearer was Mrs. Anne Rundell, Portland, grand associate matron.

Others taking part were Mrs. Stoddard, Mrs. Frink's mother, as standard bearer; Charles Hoppe, a past royal patron, as sword bearer; Mrs. Jack Schulze, assistant grand lecturer, who served as marshal in the east; Mrs. Nadine Janes, grand associate conductress, marshal in the west.

After the crowning the new royal matron was escorted through an arch of steel by her mother. The arch was formed by Sir Knights Lawrence Baker, Charles Orr, George Thomas, Lloyd Caton, Gordon Young, Elton Waldron, Ernest Price and Furman Everham.

She was then escorted through an arch of red carnations formed by the honored ladies, including Mrs. Nellie Broad, also of Everett, Mrs. Meta Gilbert, Mrs. Grace Burman, Mrs. Rose Douglas, Mrs. Cornelia Barnes, Mrs. Lillian McNeill, Mrs. Eva Mae White, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Goldie Brooks, Mrs. Hazel M. Dickson, Mrs. Wallace Brill, Mrs. George Jacobs, Mrs. Lulu Saulsberry, Mrs. Rehart and Mrs. Betty Morris.

For the ceremonies Mrs. Frink wore a formal gown of orchid colored jersey, sequin trimmed, and two purple orchids.

Vocal numbers were given by Mrs. C. R. Admon, and Mrs. Marie Buck of Yreka, Cal., with Mrs. H. E. Marsh as accompanist. Candles were lighted by Miss Meta Jean Frink, daughter of the royal matron, and Miss Jacqueline Pond.

The hall was decorated with spring flowers and red and white tapers.

Mrs. Hoppe was general chairman in charge of decorations, and Mrs. Queen was refreshment chairman.

The 200 guests had come from Portland, Salem, Roseburg, Klamath Falls and other cities in Oregon and California, as well as from Rogue valley cities. Mrs. Broad, Mrs. Clyde Smith and Mrs. Purdy, who had come from Everett, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilbert of Klamath Falls spent the week-end in Medford as guests of the Frinks at their home on Thomas road.

Jean Hart's Diary

Sunday, May 21

We've brought Atlantic City to Medford! Yes, the boardwalk stretches down Grape Street . . . for WE have the SEA NYMPH—the official Miss America bathing suit.

The material is strong, comfortable nylon or lastex woven into styles that will do the most for American womanhood. If you have the figure and the age you will probably choose a one-piece suit—if you have the figure, the age—and a nice flat midriff you will like 'em in two pieces—All others will be tickled to death with the culottes . . . they have such a subtle way of being revealing.

The colors are Lilac, Shrimp Pink, Daisy Yellow, Emerald Green and Black. The prices begin at $7.95.

Another bathing idea is the Pool Suit. These are fashioned of material like seersucker. They take to the water like a trout line and are especially cozy for day-long swimming.

This year we've added Terry Robes—white and colors. Long and short—full, comfortable—washable Terry Robes.

It's going to be a GOOD summer isn't it?

Rogue River Bride, Grants Pass Man Married Saturday

Rogue River—Miss Phyllis Mae Hopper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hopper, Rogue River, and William Lee Hedgepeth, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hedgepeth of Grants Pass were married May 13. The service was read at eight o'clock in the evening at the Grants Pass Christian church by the Rev. William C. Piper.

White snowballs and blue dutch iris formed the floral setting for the ceremony. Mrs. J. A. Schiefelstein was organist, and Dave Donaldson and Miss Rhea Woodell were soloists.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white nylon net with hand embroidered eyelet and her flowers were stephanotis and carnations. Mrs. E. L. Cedergreen of Forest Grove, Ore., was matron-of-honor for her sister. Her frock was of pink taffeta and she carried sweet peas.

Bridesmaid was Miss Barbara Wiltse, who came from Springfield, Ore., to be in the wedding party. She also wore a pink taffeta gown and carried sweet peas.

Donna Beldon, three-year-old cousin of the bride from Klamath Falls, was flower girl. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Beldon. Don Roberts, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roberts of Los Angeles, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, was ring-bearer.

Tom Hedgepeth was best man and ushers were Don Hedgepeth and Eldon Cedergreen of Forest Grove.

A reception followed in the church parlors. Cutting the wedding cake and pouring were Mrs. William Wingham, Mrs. H. E. Hopper, Miss Betty Franz and Mrs. John Harmon.

Coming from a distance for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Don Beldon and children, Klamath Falls; Mrs. Frank Roberts and son, Don, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hopper, Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cedergreen and daughter, Cynthia, Forest Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Whistler, Klamath Falls and Mr. and Mrs. C. Hamuch, Medford.

The couple will live in Rogue River, the bridegroom being with the Economy Lumber company.

Chapter AA, PEO, will meet Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Henry Andrews, Old Stage road. Assisting Mrs. Andrews will be Mrs. R. W. Clancy and Mrs. S. C. Watkins.
