... AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By VIRGINIA MacPHERSON

Hollywood, May 24 — (U.P.) — Charles Boyer, back in Hollywood after two years, said today the best part about getting out of town is the way you find out there's something else to do besides make movies.

This will come as a big shock to plenty of Hollywoodites who like to think there's no other way to earn a living. But Boyer allows as how it might not be a bad idea for some of the glamour crowd to have a whack at it.

"You get a new outlook," he purred in the soft French accent that's been dazzling dolls for years. "There are many things to do besides act in front of the camera."

Boyer left town back in 1948 shortly after he finished the ill-fated "Arch of Triumph." (He says there's no significance in that, necessarily, because when he took off, nobody had any idea the million-dollar epic was going to lay such an expensive egg.)

He went to New York with his wife and small son and he got acquainted with the outside world. He went to plays... he acted in "em... he went to concerts... and he even found people who could talk something besides movie gossip.

Very Refreshing
"My dear," Boyer smiled. "You have no idea how refreshing that was."

He also starred in a Broadway hit, "Red Gloves." He did it without any "great lover glamour" and first thing you know, people were beginning to forget that "come-wiz-me-to-ze-casbah" bunk.

Now the fascinating Frenchman would like nothing better than to have all his lady fans sigh over somebody else. He's 49 and bald and he admits it. And if he never kissed another glamour girl in his life he probably wouldn't lose much sleep over it.

"In my new picture, 'The First Legion,' I play a priest," he said. "This is the kind of role I am interested in now. Something with some character to it."

Would Choose Play
And so it looks like Hollywood's lost one of its favorite "great lovers." Worse than that—it's almost lost Boyer.

Give him his choice between a good play and a good movie, he says, and he'll take the play every time from here on in.

"It's more stimulating. You have a chance to work with your part until you can do it the best way you know how. You say the lines over and over, month after month, and eventually you hit your peak."

"In films, you say them once or twice. You can only scratch the surface. That's why I prefer the stage."

Funeral Directors Pick Portland Man

Portland, Ore., May 24—(U.P.) The Oregon Funeral Directors association has picked Horace C. McGinnis of Portland as new president. Walter Kropp as first vice-president, and L. L. Snodgrass of La Grande as second vice-president.

The association ended its two-day meeting here yesterday with the election. Other officers include Ruth Fletcher of Portland, treasurer; Hazel Paxson of Beaverton, secretary, and Willard Ward of Klamath Falls and Joseph Shaughnessy, Portland, board of directors.

National Association President Edward Martin of Grand Junction, Colo., declared that the cost of living, like the cost of living, is lower in the west than in other parts of the nation.

Funeral Services For P. D. Coy Will Be Held Thursday

Services for P. D. Coy, 53, Central Point, state game conservation agent, who died at a Medford hospital Monday, will be held at Conger-Morris chapel at 2:30 p.m. Thursday with Dr. Ward Willis Long officiating. Committal will be at Central Point cemetery.

Coy, a lifelong southern Oregon resident, was born July 25, 1896 at Eagle Point. For the past 10 years he had been active in fish and game conservation. He was in charge of screening irrigation ditches throughout the state to prevent fish from leaving rivers and creeks. Under his development of revolving screens for fish control gained nationwide attention.

Prior to his fish and game service, Coy was a fire warden for the state forest patrol for 20 years. He was an active member of the Medford chapter of the Isaac Walton league.

Coy is survived by his wife, Doris; three sons, Tony R. Klamath Falls; Rex J. Medford; and Kenneth D. Quonset Point, R.I.; one daughter, Mrs. Catherine Casey, Central Point; three brothers, Edward and William, Medford, and Samuel, Eagle Point; and one sister, Mrs. Nell Carlton, Medford.

Peru Earthquake Death Toll Now 67

Cuzco, Peru, May 24—(U.P.)—Six persons have been killed by collapsing buildings in quake-shattered Cuzco within the past 24 hours, bringing the death toll to 67, officials announced today.

Four of the new victims were young girls killed when a girls' school collapsed. Two elderly women were killed by a falling wall in another part of the city.

Travelers arriving in Cuzco said the village of Huancapi, 40 miles to the southwest, was destroyed Sunday in the same earthquake that battered Cuzco. There was no information on the number of casualties.

Rescue workers digging through debris here found a five-year-old girl still alive after being buried more than two days up to her neck in the ruins of her home. Doctors said her condition was grave.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—THREE

Philadelphian One of Most Wanted Men

Washington, May 24—(U.P.)—A squat, swarthy Philadelphia hoodlum with a record that includes one murder and four jail breaks was added today to the FBI's list of its "10 most wanted criminals."

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover said the latest addition to his list of top targets is Frederick J. (The Angel) Tenuto. The 35-year-old convicted murderer has been on the run since he escaped from a Pennsylvania prison with bank robber Willie (The Actor) Sutton in February, 1947.

Tenuto got on the FBI list as a replacement for Stephen William Davenport, another murderer who was caught in Las Vegas, Nev., on May 11.

Hoover asked that anyone having knowledge of Tenuto's whereabouts get in touch with the FBI. He warned that the man is dangerous and is reported to have boasted that he will not be taken alive.
