Clear 1,000 Foot Slide Along Columbia River

Portland, Ore., May 27.—(U.P.)—A 1,000-foot slide that blocked Columbia river highway traffic and Union Pacific railroad lines 1 1/2 miles west of Bonneville dam for 24 hours was cleared late Friday and automobile traffic resumed.

Union Pacific officials said their trains will continue to use tracks of the Seattle, Portland and Spokane roadway as a detour until tracks are relaid along the river.

Wagner Creek

Wagner Creek, May 26.—Good attendance is reported at Wagner Creek Sunday school. Services are now being held at the home of the Revs. J. C. and Wilma Arnett until their church on Wagner avenue is ready.

The Arnetts and little son David are good neighbors who have contributed much for the good of the community. A weiner roast is to be enjoyed soon by the young people and others who wish to attend.

Mrs. Richard Hartley and son Greig spent a day last week with her mother, Leona Hamilton. Esther Holt and Mrs. Grant were visitors there also.

Mrs. Frank Hamilton will leave June 3 for Corvallis to be with her son, Bob Marquess, when he graduates and receives his degree in mechanical engineering from O.S.C. For some time Bob has been working for a firm in Portland where he designs air conditioning for large buildings. He is returning to graduate with his class June 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Work of Herlong, Cal., visited friends and relatives here and elsewhere in the valley recently when he was on vacation from his government work there which he has been doing the last seven years.

Carlos Goddard has the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lockwood and daughter Margaret Williams with her daughter Marie had a pleasant time enjoying cake and ice cream at the home of Leonard and Audrey Cluppney May 21. Marie will graduate from Talent high school this term and is to be valedictorian. Mrs. Howard Lockwood and children spent May 23 with their parents.

William and Hulda Sommer and children will be welcome new neighbors on the Eleanor Powers farm soon. Eleanor will be greatly missed from the neighborhood where she has lived so long.

People did not turn out May 21 as well as was expected for clean up day at Sterns cemetery. Talent Garden club served lunch on the lawn at the William Bagley home for those who helped. Few were there to enjoy the bountiful supply of good things to eat.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Work returned May 18 from a two weeks stay in Crescent City, Cal., where Mr. Work did some more building and made more improvements on their property. He will return to Crescent City about June 1.

The order of succession to the presidency of the United States extends from the president to the vice president to the speaker of the house of representatives to the president pro tempore of the senate.

The defense attorney saw a small boy sitting beside her and called him to the stand.

The boy testified that he didn't peel the banana for Annie and the jury turned down her claim, again this year.

Princess Judy and "Tezeyn" were subjects of a two-page article with photographs in the Oregonian magazine section last year. With patient tutelage, she has trained "Tezeyn" in such stunts as sitting up, kneeling, counting his and Judy's ages by pawing front foot, lying down, picking up a whip, placing one forefoot on a high pedestal, and drawing all four feet onto a platform with Judy on his back.

In the summer, Judy makes long trips into the mountains with her parents, last year making the hazardous trip down Gold River from Galice to Gold Beach.

Though they will preside regally over the roundup June 10 and 11, this year's queen and her princesses could no doubt "show up" some of the best performers in the ring.

Crater Lions Club Tells Plans for 'Clean-Up' Drive

Crater Lions club has started planning for a city-wide clean-up campaign.

Preparations were launched last week at a meeting in Mayor Diamond Flynn's office.

The Lions committee, headed by Lloyd Evans, reported that the number of conventions scheduled here and tourist travel already started has made club members conscious of unsightly conditions at the city approaches. Committeemen said that, with the cooperation of residents, many unsightly spots in town can be cleaned up.

Mayor Flynn has assured committeemen of city assistance. He informed them, nevertheless, that there was no money in the city budget for expenses in hauling away refuse. It was said that residents themselves should make their own rubbish disposal arrangements. The new disposal ground at Camp White is available.

Other members of the Lions committee are Cliff Horn and Paul Bray. They will work with newspapers and radio stations and may call for the assistance of other groups.

They're not tired old has-beens nobody hears about any more. They can still generate enough oomph to wow the ladies with a passionate clench. And plenty of 'em still have to fight their way through squealing bobby-soxers every time they stick their profiles out in public.

Hollywood, May 27.—(U.P.)—A high Roman Catholic church official said today that the proxy marriage of actress Ingrid Bergman and Italian director Roberto Rossellini is "an added sin" in the eyes of the church.

"In view of the notoriety of the case," the official said, "Miss Bergman and Rossellini are not only living in sinful adultery in the eyes of the Catholic church, but with the publicity attached to them they set a most pernicious example in civil society itself."

"The possibility of a (Catholic) church wedding for Miss Bergman and Rossellini is well nigh completely excluded. The church does not recognize their respective divorce and annulment."

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By VIRGINIA MacPHERSON
United Press Correspondent

Hollywood, May 28.—(U.P.)—Actor Henry Wilcoxon, bored with the Hayworth-Bergman-Gardner headlines, suggested today all the big-name stars who've hung onto their wives for 10 years ought to get together and start a "Same Old Girl" club.

It's about time Hollywood husbands did something about this sizzling wife-switching reputation they've got, he says.

That belongs to the hot-blooded boys on the fringe—not the solid citizens who only need one woman to keep up their ego.

And if you've been drooling over the recent amorous antics from Rome and Paris and Spain, Wilcoxon's list of "stay-married" spouses will give you quite a jolt.

They're not tired old has-beens nobody hears about any more. They can still generate enough oomph to wow the ladies with a passionate clench. And plenty of 'em still have to fight their way through squealing bobby-soxers every time they stick their profiles out in public.

Rita Hayworth Denies She's Expecting Baby

London, May 27.—(U.P.)—The best source today spiced a report that Rita Hayworth is expecting another baby.

Miss Hayworth herself paused in the lobby of the Ritz hotel, glanced at her top-batted husband on crutches and said:

"No, it's not true. I'm not expecting."

That was all she had to say about a Los Angeles report quoting "sources close to the family" that she was.

Bells with a delicate, musical peal might better be described as "tinny" than as "silvery." Approximately four parts of copper and one part of tin are blended into what is known as "bell metal."

Look at Joe E. Brown, Jean Hersholt, and Otto Kruger, he says. They've had the same old gals for going on 40 years now.

And how about 20-to-20 class? Plenty of big names in there, too: Fred Allen, Jack Benny, James Cagney, Charles Laughton, Frederic March, George Murphy, Edward G. Robinson, and Spencer Tracy. Not a has-been in the bunch.

Stack this list of married movie stars up against the playboys who flit from bride to bride, Wilcoxon says, and it's the playboys who get the short end of the deal.

Besides, they have to pay alimony.
