

Countess of Mayo Guest in Medford Of Wilcox Family

Among the interesting guests recently entertained in Medford were Dr. Ruby L. Hoffman of San Francisco, Mrs. Elizabeth Moore of the same city and the Countess of Mayo from Edinburgh, Scotland. The three were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wilcox, 2335 Stewart avenue. Dr. Hoffman is a sister of Mr. Wilcox, and Mrs. Moore is his mother.

The countess had been a guest of Dr. Hoffman for six weeks, having come to this continent to lecture and teach while touring the United States and Canada. Dr. Hoffman and the countess left Tuesday for Vancouver, B. C., where the countess will visit her brother, and Mrs. Moore remained in Medford with her son and his family.

Service League Annual Carnival Set For Saturday

Junior Service league members have planned the second annual summer carnival for Saturday, June 24, at the Rogue Valley Country club. This is one of the league's major fund-raising activities of the year. It is planned to coincide with the appearance at the club of the famous Duncan sister, of "Topsy and Eva" fame. The sisters are scheduled to appear twice nightly June 23, 24 and 25.

In addition to the entertainment provided by the Duncans, the league has planned the usual carnival attractions and numerous booths and concessions will be operated by the members and their husbands. Vivian and Rosetta Duncan, headliners on the American stage for many years, run a theatrical school in Burlingame, Cal., and also makes appearances, sometimes with their pupils, in Pacific coast cities.

Art Students Wed At Recent Service In Boise Church

Medford friends will be interested in news of the marriage of Miss Betty Mae Easley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Easley, to Don Mitchell Chavis, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chavis, 509 Oak street, Medford. The ceremony took place the evening of May 26, in First Church of the Nazarene, Boise, Idaho. The Rev. E. H. Edwards read the rites.

The bride's wedding suit was of Arabian blue gabardine with which she wore pastel yellow accessories. Her corsage was of purple-throated orchids. Attending the bride was Miss Louella Jean Chavis, sister of the bridegroom. The bridegroom's attendant was Alf Ottis Peterson of Medford.

The bride is a graduate of Beacon high school, Beacon, N. Y. She has attended Olivet School of Music, Kankakee, Ill., and Findlay college. She has been majoring in art at Northwest college, Nampa, Ida., during this past school term. The bridegroom served two years in the armed forces and has been majoring in commercial art at Northwest college. He attended Medford high school. The newly wedded couple will make their home in Nampa, Ida., where Mr. Chavis is employed with United Advertising agency.

Relatives Attend Golden Wedding

Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stillwell, formerly of this city and now of Oroville, Cal., were in Oroville Sunday, June 11, to attend the golden wedding anniversary celebration of the couple.

Attending from the valley were Ed Stillwell, a son of the couple, Mrs. Stillwell and Mrs. Mildred O'Brien of Phoenix, a daughter. Also present for the celebration were another daughter, Mrs. H. R. Bingham of Boise, Ida., and another son, Joke Stillwell of Stockton, Cal., as well as three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

This was the first time in 20 years that all members of the family had been together.

Medford Couple Married In Methodist Ceremony

One of June's large weddings was that of Miss Maxine Louise Blass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blass, 410 Lozier lane, to Arthur Charles Bostock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bostock, 1260 North Pacific highway. The couple repeated their marriage vows on Sunday, June 11, with the ceremony held at the First Methodist church at four o'clock in the afternoon. About 200 guests were present.

The Rev. Meredith A. Groves officiated, and Mr. Blass gave his daughter in marriage. Dr. G. A. Dierdorff was soloist, and Mrs. C. R. Adamson accompanied him and played the wedding march. She also softly played "The Lord's Prayer" throughout the ceremony.

The bride's gown was of all-over lace, princess design, and the bustle skirt fell into a long train. Her veil of imported illusion was held by a coronet of pearls and rhinestones and she carried a large white bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Bridesmaids were Miss Irma Bostock, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Wilmer W. Robertson and Mrs. Al Bradford. Their gowns of aquamarine, maize and orchid marquisette matched that worn by the matron-of-honor and they also wore matching mits and halo hats. All three carried bouquets of pastel colored spring blossoms.

Wilmer Robertson of Medford was best man and ushers were Fred Stammen, Jack Huston and Carroll Keasey.

Thirty-five white tapers in candelabra formed a background for nine baskets of flowers, and ferns stood at either end of the arch of candles. The new ends ribbons holding calla lilies and sweet peas and a white carpet covered the church aisle.

A reception for the couple followed in the church parlors. The fireplace was flanked with baskets of flowers, roses and greenery banded the mantle and other arrangements of flowers were about the rooms.

Mrs. Louise Bates, aunt of the bride, cut the wedding cake assisted by Mrs. Jack Huston, and Miss Grace Andrews poured. Music for the reception was provided by Miss LaRene Thompson and Mrs. Fred Stammen took charge of the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Blass wore a gown of aquamarine colored lace with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore rose crepe with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Mr. Bostock and his bride traveled to southern California for their honeymoon, and will live in Medford. Both attended Medford high school, and the bride later was a student at Seattle Pacific college. For traveling the bride wore a suit of pink-mauve with navy blue accessories and her corsage was of white roses.

Among the wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Luke, uncle and aunt of the bride from Eugene.

Republican Women Making Last Plans For Luncheon-Show

Jackson County Republican Women are completing plans this week for a Gay Nineties style show and luncheon to be held Friday at the Rogue Valley Country club. Luncheon is set for 1 p.m.

Reservations have been received from women from all parts of the valley, regardless of political affiliations since this is a social rather than a political event, but a number of party leaders are also expected to attend. Sigrid Unander, Portland, chairman of the state central committee, and Mrs. Unander are expected, as are Mrs. H. D. Peterson, vice-chairman from The Dalles, Mrs. Marshall E. Cornett, Klamath Falls, national committeewoman who will bring greetings from Governor Douglas McKay, and Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, Portland, past national committee woman.

Committee members are collecting representative gowns and fashion accessories from style periods of the past for the fashion show, and a hat contest is to be one of the features of the program. All guests are invited to enter, but those who prefer may wear their customary head coverings. A committee of men will be judges.

Mrs. Peterson has promised to bring a 75-year-old dress to show. Mrs. Joseph T. Antony will be narrator for the show, and Abby Green of the country club will provide music.

Reservations may be made with the club, or by phoning Mrs. Kenneth Denman.

Nazarene Church Scene House-Robertson Rites

Medford Church of the Nazarene was the scene June 10 of the wedding of Miss Helen Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Robertson, 534 Berrydale avenue to LeRoy House Jr. The 8 o'clock evening ceremony was read by the Rev. Fred M. Weatherford of Portland, a friend of the bride and bridegroom and their families. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy House, 215 North Ivy street.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride had chosen a white satin wedding dress with full train. Designed with a yoke of illusion, the bodice was embroidered with seed pearls and crystal beading. She wore long satin mits and her fingertip length veil of silk illusion was held by a Juliet cap of white satin, embroidered with seed pearls.

She held two white orchids arranged with stephanotis on a white Bible.

Mrs. Wilmer W. Robertson was matron of honor for her sister-in-law. With her rose colored taffeta gown she wore a matching hat and carried a bouquet of pink and white Esther Reed daisies with white gladioli. A cousin of the bride, Mrs. Jack Chamberlain, and Miss Dixie Coutts and Mrs. Richard Harrison were bridesmaids. Their gowns were of pink taffeta and they wore matching hats. Pink, white and yellow Esther Reed daisies with white gladioli formed their bouquets. The matron of honor and bridesmaids also wore white mits.

Ronald F. Weatherford, Nampa, Ida., acted as best man. Ushers were Bruce Stafford, Curtis Richmond, William Young and Earl Hansen. Other attendants to the bridegroom were Wilmer W. Robertson, brother of the bride; George Knowles and Richard Harrison.

Donna Childreth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Childreth, Klamath Falls, and a cousin of the bride was flower girl. Her gown was of white organdy and she wore white mits. Her flowers were yellow and white Esther Reed daisies.

Candle lighters were Kenneth Robertson, brother of the bride and David Robertson, cousin of the bride.

Wedding music was furnished by Mrs. McDonald, sister of the bridegroom, and Dr. J. S. Heathington, who sang solos accompanied by Mrs. John Eby.

A reception in the church immediately followed the ceremony. Cutting and serving the wedding cake were Mrs. Loretta Young and Mrs. Elmer Robertson, aunts of the bride. Serving the punch were Miss Astrid Hansen, Miss Harriett Walker and Miss Elva Carlson of Prospect. About 275 guests attended the wedding and reception.

Candelabra, baskets of white gladioli, pink and yellow snapdragons, and ferns formed the setting of the wedding as well as the reception. Arrangements of yellow rosebuds in baskets were also used at the reception. Mrs. Davis Young was in charge of the guest book.

The bride and bridegroom are Medford high school graduates. The bride attended the University of Oregon two years and for the past year has been employed by the Medford branch, United National bank.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Oregon State college and a member of Theta Chi fraternity. Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Bill Templin and Donald Noon, Roseburg, fraternity brothers of the bridegroom; the Rev. and Mrs. Weatherford, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Irving McDonald, Eden, Ida.; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald F. Weatherford, Nampa, Ida.; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Childreth, Klamath Falls; Mrs. Ted Sims, Corvallis; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin House, Redding, Cal.; and the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Sutton, Oakland, Cal.

The newly wedded couple left for Lake Louise, Canada, for their wedding trip. The bridegroom expects to serve a year's competitive tour of duty with the army.
