Fourth of July—A four-day holiday for many, though only three days for us. Yes, we'll be closed Monday and Tuesday, July 3 and 4. So do your holiday shopping early.

Heading your list will be Play Clothes, Shorts, Pedal Pushers, Slacks, Bathing Suits, Shirts, Halters, Jack-ets, Jeans, Sun Dresses, if you intend to watch your more rugged sisters. Terry cloth robes and shirts if you are skipping over to the beach with the small fry. Party cottons if your vacation includes a resort hotel. Linen suits if the 4th begins a more extended holiday.

It's fun time and a gal to have the most fun must have the right clothes to wear. If it's a camp fire and a sleeping bag on the shore of a mountain lake or a motel on the rock-bound Oregon coast we can see that you are satisfactorily covered in the very best of outdoor sportswear. In fact you can be either warm or cool—rugged or dainty, masculine or feminine, alluring or just plain tomboy by your choice of play clothes.

Yes—you do the play-ing—we have the clothes—how about that? It's a good deal—isn't it?

Retired Conductor Honored Wednesday At Ashland Home

Ashland — Open house was held Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Sawyer home, 101 Orange street, Ashland, honoring Lewis Wadsworth in observance of his 70th birthday and retirement after 51 years as a railroad conductor. Mr. Wadsworth was retired during the week by the Southern Pacific company. For the past several years he has been conductor on the Ashland-Grants Pass run and for many years was on the Ashland-Portland run.

Fifty-four coworkers and other friends and relatives called at the Sawyer home during the day. Appropriate decorations were extended to the yard and included a railroad crossing sign at the gate.

Mrs. Willa Barnard, Mr. Wadsworth's sister with whom he makes his home in Talent, assisted at the affair. An alfresco buffet dinner was served which included a large cake designed as a miniature train.

Out-of-town guests included relatives of Mrs. Wadsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Thad Jayne, Mrs. Emma Wadsworth, Mrs. Arthur Fryer, Mrs. George Hull all of Salem and Mrs. Margaret McCabe, San Francisco, a house-guest at the Sawyer home.

Mr. Wadsworth's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wadsworth, and daughter, Karen, Medford, also attended. Many from Grants Pass, Klamath Falls, Talent and Phoenix also attended.

Actor Appearing In Summer Stock

Ralph Burgess Jr., formerly of Medford, is playing in summer stock at Nantucket, Mass. The theater is known as "Barn Stages" and the plays are to be produced in intimate style. The season opens July 3 with "Yes, My Darling Daughter" and will be followed by such plays as "Kind Lady," "The Gentle People" and "The Guardsman."

The company is composed of professionals from Los Angeles, Denver, New York and other cities and Vincent Y. Bowditch of Boston is the director and producer.

Mr. Burgess recently completed eight weeks of stock appearances at El Paso, Tex., playing with several well known guest stars and hopes to continue in the professional theater in the east this winter.

The actor studied at the Pasadena Playhouse after leaving Medford and last summer appeared with the Shakespearean Festival in Ashland.

Church Rites Wed Beverly Jean Daily To Edwin W. Clark

One of June's large weddings was that of Miss Beverly Jean Daily, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Daily, 830 East Ninth street, to Edwin Wilson Clark on June 12 at the First Presbyterian church. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Grace Clark, 1017 West Tenth street, Medford, and Frank C. Clark, 324 South Grape street also in this city.

The Rev. Holly Roy Jarvis of First Christian church officiated and Mr. Daily gave his daughter in marriage. More than 250 guests were present for the ceremony and for the reception which followed in the church parlor.

The bride's gown was of satin fashioned with insets of lace and the skirt, edged with a ruffle, ended in a train. Her veil of imported lace was held by a coronet of seed pearls and rhinestones and she carried a bouquet of red roses centered with a corsage of gardenias.

For the traditional "something old" she carried a silk handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother and used on the great-grandmother's wedding day and for "something borrowed" she wore white lace stockings belonging to Mrs. Charity Sander of Medford and first worn by Mrs. Sander's great-grand grandmother in 1848 on her wedding day.

Matron-of-honor was Mrs. Richard Grigsby, (Helen Schumacher). Mrs. Glen Wilkins, (Daphne Martin) and Mrs. Robert Funk, (Bonnie Criswell) were bridesmaids. All three wore white sheer frocks and carried bouquets of Esther Reed daisies. Mrs. Grigsby carrying blue, Mrs. Wilkins orchid colored daisies and Mrs. Funk, yellow. Their floral crowns matched their bouquets.

Tiny Terri Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Clark Jr., and niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and Lynn Ivie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ivie, was ring-bearer. Terri wore a yellow frock of moire taffeta and carried a basket of pastel daisies and Lynn carried the two rings on a satin pillow.

The bride's mother wore a gown of gold-toned crepe and lace over pink with pink accessories and her flowers were pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore navy blue sheer with white accessories and pink rosebud corsage.

Frank C. Clark Jr., was best man for his brother and ushers were Richard Riggs, Loren Carter, Charles Romine and Fitzhugh Brewer.

Misses Sandra and Lois Farlow, wearing white sheer dresses, lighted tapers. Mrs. Eugene Cimino of Los Angeles was soloist, and Mrs. Henry Huenergardt was at the church organ.

The ceremony was read in a setting of white lilies and gladioli and lavender stock arranged with ferns and white satin in bows decorated the ends of the pews. Baskets of pale pink peonies and delphinium decorated the church parlor, the reception decorations being the work of Mrs. Robert Newland.

Mrs. Tim Daily, aunt of the bride, cut the wedding cake and Mrs. Carol Henderson served punch. Mrs. Helen Hampel took charge of gifts and Mrs. Walter Hufschmidt the guest book.

The newlyweds have returned from a trip to Lake Tahoe and Reno, and will be at home at 702 King street after July 1. Both Mr. Clark and his bride were graduated from Medford high school, and Mrs. Clark later attended Southern Oregon college. She is on the staff of the Craterian theater and Mr. Clark is employed by the athletic department of Medford senior high school.

Here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cimino of Los Angeles, Mrs. Cimino having been a high school friend of the bride's mother; Leo L. Likes, great-uncle of the bride from Fallon, Nev.; Mrs. Arlene Darling and daughter of Honolulu.

Mrs. Edwin Wilson Clark is the former Beverly Jean Daily, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Daily, 830 East Ninth street. She was married June 12 at First Presbyterian church and the newlyweds will be at home after July 1 at 702 King street. (Shangle photo)

Couple to Honor Indiana Visitors

Jacksonville—Mr. and Mrs. John Niedermeyer will entertain tomorrow evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. George E. White, Evansville, Ind., who have been houseguests of the Niedmeyers since June 16. A buffet dinner will be served and square dancing will be the diversion of the evening.

The Whites were valley residents for about six years while Mr. White, then a lieutenant-colonel in the army, was stationed at Camp White with the 91st division, and following his tour of duty.

Mr. White is now city milk and food sanitarian for Evansville. While here the guests have gone fishing in valley streams, and were entertained at luncheon Friday by Mr. and Mrs. William E. Knips, route 1.

Dear Brides:

Can you take your minds off veils, bridesmaids and bridal bouquets long enough to plan for your home and the gifts you would like to receive from your friends?

We have a Brides' Book and we would like to have your name inscribed in it. We would like to have your choice of silver, glassware, china. Also a list of Special Gifts that will go with the plans you are making for decorating your first home. Then when your friends stop in we will show THEM the Brides' Book and make suggestions for Pottery and Glass so that all your presents will harmonize and be exactly what YOU want as gifts on your wedding day.

P.S. And imprinted reception napkins and thank you notes.
