These amazing hats won prizes in the contest given as a part of the Gay Nineties style show sponsored by Jackson County Republican Women. Seated are Mrs. M. Allison Moulton, left, president of the group, wearing a miniature card table scene with a sign "We need a new deck, not a new deal" and Mrs. George Carter wearing an enormous plumed hat which won the prize for the most authentic Gay Nineties hat. Standing are, left to right, Mrs. A. J. Loeffler, whose headgear held three skunk figurines and a sign "What smells? democrats!" and Mrs. George Johnson whose radio engineer husband had concocted a hat of records, radio tubes and tower and a little station with blinking lights. Nurse Group Adopts Constitution, Bylaws At Meeting Monday

A constitution and bylaws were drawn at a meeting of the newly organized Jackson County Practical Nurses' association Monday evening in the penthouse of the Community hospital.

It was announced that so much interest is being shown in the new state organization of which this association is a branch, and so many applications have been received at headquarters, that it had been impossible for licenses to be granted all applicants by July 1 as scheduled. Licenses will be mailed to all applicants as soon as it is possible.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Anna Slack, Mrs. Thelma Edison, and Mrs. Emma Darland. The penthouse parlor had been decorated by Miss Ruth Nelson, superintendent of the hospital, and Mrs. Mary Becken.

Yes, there is a difference, and a mighty big one, too! There's a difference, not only in the way food tastes, but in the way it looks.

The Griser actually cuts food; it doesn't bruise or mangle. Not a drop of vital mineral salts or juice is wasted.

Cutters attach instantly without screws or bolts. They are cone-shaped so that food is automatically expelled; they are made of tempered steel to last a lifetime and stay sharp for years.
