

Director of Mental Health Association Plans Visit Here

Melvin Murphy, director of the Mental Health Association of Oregon, will be in Medford Wednesday, March 5, for a series of meetings on mental health topics, it was announced today.

Sponsoring Murphy's visit here are the Jackson County Public Health Association, the County Council of Parent-Teacher associations and the Jackson County Council on Children and Youth.

The first meeting is scheduled for 10:30 a. m. at the Medford YMCA, when a recent mental health film will be shown with later discussion led by Murphy.

Noon Luncheon
A noon luncheon at the "Y" will include a discussion of mental health organization in Jackson county, and in the evening Murphy will address an open meeting of the Medford City Council of PTA.

During the afternoon, he will conduct a closed workshop meeting on truancy problems for invited educators and law enforcement personnel.

Parents, leaders of youth and children's groups and teachers are invited to attend each of the three scheduled meetings or any one of them, the committee in charge said.

Spot Check Being Made on Personal Property Taxes

A spot check of personal property tax returns is being made here this week. An official from the assessment and taxation division of the state tax commission is making the check—every 10th return in the assessor's files—to stop a high rate of incorrectly made forms.

County Assessor C. A. Myers said the results from checks in 10 widely scattered counties showed $1,057,757.03 in total value not reported, with only 45.6 per cent of the returns accurate.

The tax commission wrote Myers, "It is self evident that this condition cannot be tolerated. Action is being instigated by the tax commission through publicity and cooperation with county assessors to correct these conditions in time for this year's rolls."

Firms, corporations and associations are required by law to make a full listing of taxable personal property, showing 100 per cent of its true cash value, Myers pointed out.

OPS Building Rules To Be Discussed Here

Ralph Smith, business analyst for the Office of Price Stabilization Portland office will be in Medford March 6 and 7 to conduct a series of meetings on an OPS regulation affecting the construction industry, it was announced here today. The meetings will be held in the Medford hotel.

On Thursday, March 6, at 8 p. m., Smith will meet with general contractors, brick masons and plasterers. Meetings are scheduled Friday, March 7, at 9 a. m. with water well drillers, and at 2 p. m. with plumbers, electricians and painters. Further details on the meetings may be obtained from the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, 5 South Riverside avenue.

New York — (U.P.) — A "fairly severe" earthquake, probably centered in Peru, was recorded on Fordham university seismographs Tuesday.

I Prefer Mrs. Stewart's Bluing For Best Results!

Says Mrs. William Harding, 3312 S.W. Spring Garden St., Portland, Oregon: "I have been an ardent user of Mrs. Stewart's Bluing for years and am very pleased with the results. I'm especially pleased at how well Mrs. Stewart's keeps the baby's things white!"

Mrs. Stewart's Bluing is a laundry necessity for really white clothes... use it in either an automatic or regular washer. It's so economical... less than a penny a wash! A bottle, too, in your bathroom keeps your "hand-washables" sparkling.

Compare Mrs. Stewart's with any kind of bluing at any price. Like Mrs. Harding, you'll find it does the best job for the least cost! Get it at your grocery store.

Government Relaxes Restrictions on Lead

Washington — (U.P.) — The government Tuesday relaxed restrictions on use of lead.

Three days before its effective date, an order was revoked which would have restricted production of storage batteries for automobiles, lights and light tractors.

The National Production Authority said a critical shortage of the metal has eased considerably within the past two months because of increased imports and better recovery of scrap.

The agency said, without elaboration, other restrictions on lead consumption would be relaxed later. The battery industry accounts for about one-third of U. S. lead usage.

School Buildings Said Unsatisfactory

Salem — (U.P.) — One-tenth of Oregon's public school buildings are unsatisfactory, education authorities said Tuesday.

A survey conducted by the U. S. Department of Education in cooperation with the Oregon State Department of Education showed that 161 public school buildings out of 1,253 are unsatisfactory. These 161 schools are attended by 26,059 pupils.

Rated as satisfactory are 514 school plants serving 119,337 pupils. The remainder, total 578, are rated as fair. The Oregon survey was part of a national scan provided by the 81st Congress.

Walla Walla — (U.P.) — Approximately 449,000 acres of north-eastern Oregon and southeastern Washington forest lands will be sprayed for spruce budworms this spring, according to Donald R. Hopkins of the state division of forestry.

Anti-Gambling Petition Filed With State Bureau

Salem — (U.P.) — A move to ban all gambling in Oregon, including pari-mutuel betting on horses and dogs, was filed with the state election bureau here Tuesday.

The initiative measure would broaden the anti-lottery provision of the Oregon state constitution to prohibit specifically all gambling devices and bookmaking, also pari-mutuel betting on horse, dog and vehicle racing.

52 Medford Minors Ordered Off Jobs

Salem — A recent check of Medford employers for compliance with the Oregon wage and hour law revealed that some minors under 18 were being hired illegally, Labor Commissioner W. E. Kimsey, said today.

The labor department ordered 52 minors off their jobs in Medford. The employers, Kimsey said, had not secured work permits for them as required by Oregon child labor law. The commissioner pointed out that before such permits are issued, the labor department investigates the type of work, wages and hours and general working conditions. Medford theaters and bowling alleys employed 20 of the minors illegally. The mercantile industry employed 20.

Violation of the legal work week for women and minors was second most frequent offense in Medford, the check revealed, with 15 employers exceeding the legal 8-hour day, 44-hour week. In some cases a 12½ to 16 hour day and a 56 to 66 hour week were reported. Records of wages and hours were not being kept as required by law by a few employers in the area. One merchant was cautioned on the weights being lifted by minor boys in his employ.
