Wagner Creek Group Has Business Session; President Flies East

Talent—Wagner Creek Community club held a business session March 11 with Mrs. A. C. Reusser, vice-president, conducting the meeting. Ralph Mobley, president, flew to Baltimore, Md., several days ago to attend the funeral of his step-father.

Clinton Hopper was asked to select two adult couples to serve with him as chaperones at each meeting of the youth club.

It was announced that sewing and painting groups will hold a joint meeting Tuesday, March 18, at 7:30 p.m. A piano and sewing machine have been purchased and installed.

A short musical program was given. Irish ballads were sung by the group, led by Mrs. Roscoe Talbot with Mrs. Ralph Reed at the piano.

Mrs. Mobley played several accordion numbers and Albert Gandt, introduced as a "talented and versatile pianist," entertained with a lively medley of American folk tunes which amused his audience, since he was in reality operating the mechanical player attachment.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Don Kerby and Mrs. Virgil Neuschwander.

Civic Drama Guild Presents Comedy To Close Series

Although not recommended for a Boy Scout conclave or a district meeting of women's clubs, "The Voice of the Turtle," the third Civic Drama guild play, presented at the high school auditorium, proved to be an entertaining, though slightly risqué, voice.

The play, while falling into the category of comedy, was not a "belly-laugh" play but fits more readily into the snicker classification and seemed to be particularly amusing to the servicemen in the audience.

"Voice of the Turtle" starred Phyllis Manning as a lush blonde with whom nature has been exceedingly bountiful in every department except the "upper story." The success of the play hinged upon the effectiveness with which Miss Manning convinced the audience of the authenticity of her role as a struggling young actress recovering from two love affairs but who still has dew in her eyes, roses in her cheeks and a vacuum still between the ears. In a purple sweater, Miss Manning out-Lana'd Lana Turner.

Helen McCall as Olive Lashbrook gave an amusing and vigorous performance as the Broadway actress who had been around too long and too much on the merry-go-round known as life, but who still was willing and able to try once again for the brass ring.

Wendell Mayes was sufficiently sophisticated as Bill Page, the soldier with a cosmopolitan background who found himself cooped up for a week-end with the girl from Joplin, Mo.

"Voice of the Turtle" was the third and last Civic Drama guild play which will be presented here this season. Tickets for next season's performances may be obtained from members of Rotana or 20-30 club who jointly sponsor the plays in Medford.—J. P.

Quartet Program Closes Civic Music Winter Series

By MRS. E. E. GORE

Jackson County Civic Music association brought the 1951-52 series of five concerts to a close Friday, March 14, with the presentation of the National Male Quartet: Attilio Baggio, tenor; Gene Tobin, tenor; Vernon Sanders, baritone, and Bruce McKay, bass.

The well-known pre-eminence of each member of the quartet as an artist in his own field gave promise of an outstanding evening of musical entertainment that was generously fulfilled.

So limited and restricted is the available music originally composed and written for male quartet that these artists and their accompanist, Walter Hatchek, assisted by Leonard Marker, arranger, selected from the vast repertoire of opera and song what seemed to be the universal favorite in its own class. Taking each number out of its own setting, changing the original key, without aid of scenery, dramatic action or orchestra, they devised four-part harmony that was musically and technically interesting. The program, far from being heavy or dull, was at once light, gay, dramatic and exciting. The quality and timbre of the different voices, the sensitivity to change of mood, pleased the audience very much and stirred memories of both one's own singing days and of other concerts.

The men seemed to have a limitless store of well-prepared numbers and responded to the audience demand for more music by giving 10 or 12 encores. These were appreciated fully as much as the formally programmed list.

The group of piano solos played by Mr. Hatchek called for an encore in modernistic style. Coming to us from Corvallis where they sang for Oregon State college, the men took a 10:30 p. m. bus immediately following the concert and were on their way to towns in Minnesota for a heavy booking of spring concerts.

The present series, more or less confined to light musical entertainment, had a definite appeal and much regret was expressed that this delightful concert should mark the close of the season.

YMCA Committees Plan Smorgasbord And Square Dance

A popular combination for both entertainment and fund-raising in the valley is a dinner and square dance and such an event has been planned by the YMCA for March 29 at the "Y" building.

The dinner will be a smorgasbord affair, and serving will be from 6:30 to 9 p. m., the committee states. A large variety of food will be prepared according to Mrs. Claude Miles, chairman of the smorgasbord.

Dancing will be held in the gymnasium of the "Y" and Gordon Kershaw will be in charge of calling.

Proceeds from the event will go to the world service fund through which the work of the YMCA is carried on in foreign countries.

Things to Think About at Tax Time

Average share of Federal Spending for each American Man, Woman and Child

Year 1900	$ 6.85	Year 1930	$ 27.96
1910	7.54	1940	68.16
1920	10.40	Next fiscal year	548.38

With $548.38 as the average share of federal spending for each man, woman, and child during the next fiscal year, it is imperative that our government has got to practice economy.

Remember:

The power to tax, is the power to destroy.

You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money.

You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn.

Citizens must insist upon the same efficiency and economy in government that private enterprise must exercise in order to survive!
