Advent Christian Spring Conclave Will Open Today

Dedication of the new church annex and redecoration church will be a highlight of the annual spring conference of Willamette Valley Advent Christian Churches at the Medford Advent Christian church this week-end.

The dedication service is set for 11 a.m. Sunday with Dr. E. O. Coontz, Portland, speaking. The conference opens at 8 p.m. today with the Rev. Wilbur Lane preaching. Saturday meetings will commence with 9 a.m. devotions. President M. Jay Crabb, Medford, will conduct a business session starting at 9:30 a.m. Lunch will be served at noon at the church.

Women Meet
Saturday's program will continue with a mission play at 2 p.m. with Mrs. Una Eller, Mrs. Verna Coffman and Miss Carol Clark. Mrs. Lena Upton will preside over sessions of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society, beginning at 2:30 p.m. A 4 p.m. sightseeing trip is planned and a dinner is scheduled at 6 p.m. The Rev. M. E. Cupp, Colton, will talk at the 6 p.m. service.

Church school classes will convene at 9:45 a.m. Sunday. There will be a 1 p.m. dinner. The Rev. L. A. Jackson, Clarkston, Wash., will speak at a 2:30 p.m. service Sunday. A lunch is planned for 5:30 p.m. Concluding service will be at 8 p.m. with the Rev. Maurice Amott, Modesto, Calif., delivering the message.

Two Hospitals Incentive for Adventist Gifts

Two hospitals in Africa provide the incentive for missionary gifts of Seventh-day Adventists around the world, with a goal of $275,000 for one day's offerings, according to C. A. Jones, Medford Sabbath School superintendent, who has informed members of the needs of that field.

One hospital will be in Jengre, Nigeria, where 14,000 outpatients were treated last year in a small, meagerly equipped clinic. The powerful Moslem Emir of Zaria has asked to be informed of the opening date so that he can be present, 160 miles from his home.

Dispensaries Wanted
Dr. J. A. Hyde, who with his wife and four African medical orderlies has been carrying on the work thus far has written that the greatest hardship is the inability to answer calls of chiefs who plead for dispensaries and schools.

The other hospital will replace a medical center in Dessie, Ethiopia, which was confiscated during the Italian invasion. The empress and crown prince have provided a building and have invited the Adventist mission to staff and equip a good medical unit for their people. The Governor General of Arussi, in asking for a dispensary in his province, said that mission work would do more for his people than soldiers and police.

Methodists Will Broadcast Service

First Methodist church will broadcast over KYJC Sunday, March 30 from 11 a.m. to noon.

The pastor, the Rev. Meredith Groves, will preach on "New Life in Christ's Church."

Music will include "Carol of The Trees" by the Chancel choir and a solo, "The Cross," by Mrs. Archie Pierce. Dr. J. S. Heatherington also will sing.

At the 7:30 p.m. service the Medford senior high school chorus will present a concert under direction of Miss Loraine Veidt.

The choir will sing "For the Blessings of Our Days," an old Welsh hymn; "Holy Lord God," by Noble Cain, and "Thee Lord We Praise," by Tkach.

Mr. Groves will preach on "God's Spirit, Our Guide."

College Musicians On Phoenix Program

Phoenix — Southern Oregon college music department will present an hour program of instrumental and vocal numbers starting at 7:30 p.m. this Sunday at Phoenix Presbyterian church.

All residents of the community are invited. There will be no charge for admission but a free-will offering will be taken. Committeemen preparing for the program stated that they anticipate a large attendance.

Heart disease will be the top killer this year. It is expected to claim the lives of approximately 480,000 Americans, while cancer will account for an additional 190,000 deaths.

DR. H. R. ANDERSON
Presbyterian Leader To Speak

National Head Of Presbyterians Will Talk Here

Dr. Harrison Ray Anderson, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, will speak on "I Went Into the Sanctuary," at the 11 a.m. service in the local First Presbyterian church on Sunday, March 30.

Dr. Anderson has come to Medford for the dedication of the new church school unit of the local church. It will occur at 10:15 a.m. Sunday.

Chicago Pastor
As moderator of the general assembly, Dr. Anderson holds the highest honorary office in the nation in the Presbyterian church. He has been pastor of Fourth Presbyterian church, Chicago, since 1930. It has 3000 members and is near the center of the city on Michigan avenue. Dr. Anderson was a chaplain in the first World War, serving with the 103rd Division in France. He is a Mason, and a member of Rotary international. He is a gifted speaker and the public will be welcome to hear him at this time, church officials said.

School Finance Class Offered Spring Term

Ashland—School finance, one of the four courses needed for elementary principal credentials, will be offered at Southern Oregon college during the spring term, it was announced today by Mrs. Mabel W. Winston, registrar. The first class will convene tomorrow at 9 a.m.

The course will be taught by Dr. Bill Sampson, assistant professor of education. It is a graduate course in the new program recently approved for instruction at the three colleges of education.

The complete series will be offered during the summer session, including elementary school supervision, administration and curriculum.

Portland Restaurants Under New OPS Order

Portland—(U.P.)—About 5,500 restaurants in the Portland district of the Office of Price Stabilization will be affected by a new OPS order imposing flexible price ceilings on restaurants and drinking places.

District Director Carl C. Donaugh said no general change in overall restaurant prices is expected. His district includes southwest Washington and all of Oregon except Malheur county.

The order is effective April 7 and will fluctuate up or down to conform to the government's wholesale food price index.

ROBBED WHILE PREACHING
St. Joseph, Mich.—(U.P.)—The Rev. Paul Albery, First Methodist church pastor, complained to police that thieves stole his car while he was conducting services.

There should be a law against critics revealing the surprise endings of plays, films and novels. There is a current film that has a clever surprise angle. It is a real punch in the picture. Yet I read a criticism that revealed that surprise. Guess I'll have to start a bitter campaign against this practice. I hadn't seen the picture referred to and when I did my enjoyment of it was lessened by knowing about the surprise angle.

Horses & Women

Commenting on the advice of that man who said young fellows should get into a business calling for "equipping ships or women," a New Yorker says he took it. He manufactures that article of attire referred to as "gay deceivers" or "falsies." He says over 5,000,000 pairs of "falsies" were sold in the United States last year including those used to wear with bathing suits. He adds that even though he is in the business he does not believe bachelorettes should wear "falsies." That so doing is a deception which is unfair to prospective husbands. A married woman, in featuring such attire, says he, "deceives only the public."

Aides

E. J. Christie, in charge of New York City's weather bureau, has a record of being 87 per cent correct on weather predictions. How would you like to have a horse handicapper who could predict like that? . . . Ever own an automobile propelled by steam? I never did. But that type of car has always interested me. Especially the Doble steam car. It is said that in tests some steam cars attained a speed of 200 miles an hour. Kerosene could be used for fuel for these cars.

Queries from clients: Q. What was the contents of the card of biblical quotations P. T. Barnum gave to those requesting passes to his circus? A. Was as follows: "In those days there were no passes given. Search the Scriptures: 'Thou shalt not pass.' Numbers 20-18. 'Suffer not a man to pass.' Judges 3-28. 'None shall pass.' Mark 13-30. 'Beware that thou pass not.' 2 Kings 6-9. 'Neither any son of man shall pass.' Jeremiah V 43. 'Though they roar, yet they cannot pass.' Jeremiah V 22. 'So he paid the fare there of and went.' Jonah 1-3.

Business Woman

A woman I know developed a highly successful business by concentrating her sales efforts on telephone girls. This woman sold dresses. Her place of business was the garret of her house. The name she gave her establishment was "The Garret Shop." She was a clever buyer at wholesale. As a starter she gave a couple of telephone girls unusual dress bargains. These young women told other telephone girls about it. Soon telephone girls all over New York City were buying clothes at the shop in the garret and its owner was making a net profit of around $30,000 a year.

Cut Rates

"The world's biggest 5 cent sandwich." That is the slogan of the lunch counter at Coultrap's store in Tappan Lake, Ohio. The lunch counter is only a small part of the establishment. It has numerous departments. Even has a barber shop where a haircut is 49 cents. The prices in all departments at Coultrap's are unbelievably low, yet the outfit had a 10 per cent net profit last year. It claims to have served 1,000,000 customers.

As you know, Billy Sunday, the evangelist, was once a major league ballplayer. The first thirteen times Sunday went to bat for Pop Anson's Chicago Cubs he struck out. If that isn't the record for consecutive strike-outs by one player what is? . . . It took Henry Ford seven years to manufacture his first 1,000,000 cars. But his plant turned out the tenth million of Ford cars in 132 days!

Jimmy "Goggles" McCoy, veteran jockey. Has been credited with originating the idea of jockeys wearing goggles. That idea was originated by the great jockey from Brooklyn, Winnie O'Connor. . . . Jeanne Crain. Extremely charming cinema luminary. Remember her in the film titled "Home in Indiana"? I saw that film five times. Jeanne was little more than a child then. But she is a big girl now. Is very happily married and the mother of four children. . . . Charles Lindbergh. "The Lone Eagle" himself. Fifty years old, but still very active in aviation. In the last war he flew 50 combat missions. He has five children, oldest is a boy 20 years old, youngest is a daughter, 6 years of age.

Sidelights

Communist Chinese passenger ships, calling at the port of Hong Kong, have eight classes. Commisars travel first class. Missionaries eighth class. . . . One of the greatest of all major league baseball players was one of the smallest in the history of the game. That was Johnny Evers, of the Chicago Cubs, who weighed only 135 pounds.

Yarn Scraps Needed By Blind Persons

Persons having odds and ends of various colored yarns are asked save it for use by blind people in making articles.

Mrs. Vera Thompson, Portland, state home teacher for adult blind under the Oregon Commission for the Blind, said today that the yarn is needed for use by the blind in this area.

The yarn may be taken to the home of Miss Sadie Pence, 20 West Jackson street, or may telephone 2-5986 and someone will call for the yarn.

Studio of Dance Opening Sunday

Mrs. Cliff Aldrich today announced the opening Sunday of her new studio of dance located on the Jacksonville highway near Bybee corner. The studio, in the loft of a converted dairy barn, has a main studio and reception room, a play yard equipped with swings and sand pile, kitchen, practice room, and rest rooms.

Interior decoration and furnishings are in Chinese red and chartreuse and the studio is equipped with complete sound system, air conditioning and electric heating. The reception room features a plate glass window so that parents and visitors may watch students during their lessons.

Draperies in the main studio are arranged on one wall for background use in motion picture photography of students and another wall for use in still photography. Both Mrs. Aldrich and her husband are photographers. A library of children's books will be added soon, the owner said. Some of the draperies used are handwoven by the couple.

Located in the center of a three-acre tract, the school also has an outdoor area for summer ballet classes.

The new studio will open at 2 p.m. Sunday, March 30, at the new building. Students, their parents and friends, and others interested are invited.

Minister's Advice Taken by Burglar

Houston, Tex.—(U.P.)—A burglar took the advice of a minister intended for his congregation when he broke into the preacher's home.

The Rev. and Mrs. Purcell Storey returned from dinner out to find muddy tracks through the house, dresser drawers pulled out and ransacked, and a window screen slashed.

In the pastor's study was the sermon he had prepared for delivery the following day. It began: "Get thee behind me Satan."

Another note was alongside. It read: "You look like church folks so I won't take anything."

Early Rising Pays, Youngster Discovers

Trenton, Tenn.—(U.P.)—A 14-year-old boy who started saving at the age of nine and now has more than $2,000 toward a college education finds it pays to get up early and keep going.

Jerry L. Hassell was only nine when he took over his mother's milk deliveries so he could start buying savings stamps.

Later he got an afternoon paper route and then added a morning route.

Jerry would get up at 4:45 every morning for his first paper deliveries and finish up late at night by selling popcorn at stock car races.

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—THREE

Tribute Paid Blood Workers By Center Representative

Tribute was paid to the efforts of workers in the Jackson county blood collection program Thursday at a luncheon meeting at the Medford hotel. Featured speaker was Robert Jackson, representing the Portland blood collection center, central collecting agency for this area.

Jackson pointed out the value of the local blood collection program to Medford and other Jackson county hospitals. The local program is important in Jackson county, not only in a saving of money, but in making needed blood readily available here, he said.

Increasing Amounts

Increasing amounts of blood collected by various local programs are going to hospitals within the area, according to Jackson. He stated that, at present, about half of the blood collected is being used within the area. This amount should be cut to one-third by increasing the total amount collected, Jackson said.

The local campaigns for collection of blood have brought out 6.2 donors for each 100 persons in the Jackson county population, compared with about 4.2 per cent throughout the area, between Fort Lewis, Wash., and Ashland, which is served by the Portland center, he stated.

Jackson said that, although the collection rate is slightly below that set as a goal by the Portland center, it would probably be possible to gather more blood here if collection facilities could be increased. These facilities are provided by the Portland center.

Mrs. Leston Huntley of the Jackson county unit, stated that during 19 collection programs conducted here since January, 1951, a total of approximately 3,600 pints of blood have been collected. Local volunteer workers have donated an average of 600 hours of service for each visit, she said.

During the meeting, new chairman of various phases of the Jackson county blood collection program were introduced. They included Mrs. Ward Hammond, recruitment chairman, and Mrs. Don Hughes, Mrs. Emerson P. Merrick, Mrs. Frank Cantrill and Mrs. C. L. Pence.

Other guests at the meeting were Col. Charles Stafford, head of the Jackson county civil defense program; Mrs. Enid Rankin, of the local Red Cross organization, and chairmen from Ashland, Gold Hill, Rogue River, Prospect, Union Creek and Camp White.

Hour of Excitement

Fort Worth, Tex.—(U.P.)—An uncertain step in the wrong direction by two-year-old Mickey Ann Davis caused an hour's excitement at her home. The child's foot became stuck in an open drain. Sheriff deputies finally freed her.

DRESSED FOR PART
Jacksonville, Fla.—(U.P.)—One bandit here was dressed for the part. A liquor store owner said the man who took $100 from him wore a black cowboy hat, gray shirt, dungarees and boots.
