Degree of Honor Supper, Meeting Held Tuesday Night

The Degree of Honor "dime supper" held Tuesday evening at Pythian hall attracted a large crowd, the committee in charge reports. Under the supervision of Mrs. Al Boswell, the long line of guests were served cafeteria style by lodge members wearing waitress costumes. Tables were decorated with green laurel sprays and yellow daffodils.

All guests were invited to attend an open lodge session at 8 p.m. and to participate in the regular featured "sunbeam march" played by Lewis Parker, guest pianist, substituting for Bob Hillyer.

Mrs. Violet Hyde, Albany, district organizer, who is also junior past state president, was welcomed and presented with a corsage by Mrs. Boswell.

After a brief meeting Miss Adabee Seiler, program director, guided the party into community singing by conducting a series of old familiar rounds accompanied at the piano by Mr. Parker.

Featuring slapstick comedy in a song and dance duet, Mrs. Howard Stoll and Bob Hillyer highlighted the evening with acrobatic antics and comical make-up and attire.

Miss Ellen Johnson, Ashland, and Howard Stoll played two violin duets assisted by Mr. Parker at the piano. Mrs. John Hubler sang two solos, and a monologue was given by Mrs. Mayme Seiler.

The Grants Pass drill team entertained with the drill figures to be featured at the state convention in Portland April 28-29.

Members of the Past Presidents club participated in a silent movie skit called "The Rejected Lover." Garbed in outmoded costumes, they moved in accord with the script which was sung by Mrs. Richard Denman and Miss Seiler who accompanied on the banjo. Participating were Mrs. Morris Johnson and Mrs. Harold Elliott, who characterized the villain and the father, respectively; Mrs. Irl Groves, the vampire; Mrs. Al Bradshaw, the lover; Mrs. Matilda Dietrich, the mother; Mrs. Seiler, the preacher and Mrs. Frank Dufek, the maiden.

Mrs. Clyde Hillyer, vice-president, announced that the lodge would sponsor a public dance in the IOOF hall Saturday evening, April 19. Music will be by Schuchards orchestra with dancing from 9 to 12 o'clock.

Women's Conference Opens On Ashland Campus Today

Young women from 30 southern Oregon and northern California high schools began arriving on the Southern Oregon college campus today to take part in the Ashland Conference for Young Women, according to Mrs. E. B. Collins, president of the Medford branch, American Association of University Women.

Vanguard of more than 60 AAUW consultants from branches at Ashland, Medford, Grants Pass, Coos Bay, Klamath Falls and Lakeview also arrived. More than 300 girls, their mothers, high school advisers, and AAUW leaders are expected to attend the Saturday session, Mrs. Collins said.

Delegates will register at the new library building early in the morning and then will meet in Churchill hall auditorium to hear conference plans. Mrs. C. D. Winston, Ashland, northwest regional AAUW vice-president and conference chairman, will welcome delegates. Mrs. Elmo N. Stevenson, president of the host Ashland AAUW branch will extend greetings and Miss Dorothy Winters, Portland, president of Sigma Epsilon Pi sorority at the college, will represent SOC hostesses.

Mrs. Justin Smith, Medford, will give the keynote address of the conference as the representative of the six sponsoring branches and Dr. Elmo N. Stevenson, college president, will also speak. Miss Martha Shull, Portland, will speak as a representative of the state AAUW and will serve as special consultant for the vocational guidance section. Instructions for group discussions will be presented by Miss Charleen Kring, Ashland, AAUW branch conference administrative organizer.

The young women and AAUW consultants will adjourn to 11 individual group meetings to which delegates have already been assigned. Four sections will discuss personal habits; two will review the place of the young woman in the home; three groups will talk about employment problems; and two more will discuss moral and spiritual standards.

Girls will be guests at a luncheon to be served at Susanne Homes hall and will be entertained with a style show and musical numbers by the Associated Women Students. Consultants and mothers will have a special luncheon at the Ashland Elks club.

The early afternoon will be devoted to social functions at which girls may become better acquainted with one another and the conference will reconvene in Churchill hall at 3 o'clock for a review of the morning discussion sessions. Sigma Tau speech sorority members who will summarize findings of the four main sections will be Zelma Stone, Ashland, Joan Burke and Marlys Franklin, Medford; and Gloria Robinette, San Jose.

Delegates will enjoy a final gathering in Memorial Court where the Ashland AAUW branch will serve refreshments.

Event Will Benefit "Y" World Service; Program Explained

Proceeds from the YMCA sponsored square dance and smorgasbord, to be given Saturday, March 29, will go towards the goal of $500 which the local "Y" has set as its contribution for the world service fund.

Tri-Hi-Y clubs of the Medford "Y" have sold books, shined shoes and given dances to raise $70 of the needed sum.

In explanation of YMCA World Service, it is stated that the YMCA of the United States and Canada help the people of other countries to meet basic needs for health, education, economic welfare and spiritual growth. The total goal for 1932 is $1,771,133 and the help will be administered through three channels, the basic program of YMCA World Service, and the special needs program of World Service.

The "Y" states that the people of 28 countries are now being aided through the World Service program. The work of the association is extended to crucial areas, such as Jerusalem, buildings are restored in countries devastated by war and such services as literacy campaigns, establishment of community centers, education classes, public health drives and establishment of boys' clubs are carried on.
