Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marx

Spring Weddings

By Olive Starcher

Last Sunday afternoon saw two large weddings in Medford. Miss Charlotte Walker and Gordon Marx were married at St. Mark's Episcopal church, and the wedding of Miss Joan Anderson to Ned Starnes was held at the First Methodist church. Both ceremonies were followed by large receptions.

Mrs. Starnes is shown (center left) signing her marriage papers following the rites, while
