

Reapportionment Committee Slates Meeting Saturday

Ward Spatz, Medford, a member of the state Reapportionment Interim committee, left today to attend public hearings to be conducted by the committee in a number of communities this week and next.

The committee will conduct a hearing in Medford at 1 p.m. Saturday, in the county courthouse. State Sen. Philip S. Hitchcock, Klamath Falls, is chairman.

Hearings scheduled this week will be in Astoria and Newport tomorrow, in Coos Bay and Roseburg Friday, and the Saturday afternoon hearing here, followed by one in Klamath Falls in the evening.

Hearings will also be held in The Dalles and La Grande April 18, and Ontario and Redmond April 19.

Portland, Salem Later
Meeting dates in Portland and Salem will be announced later.

Senator Hitchcock has invited the public to attend the hearings, and to present their views on the problem. "Members of the committee do not have any particular plan which they are sponsoring, but wish to hear of the suggested ones in order to correlate them before submitting the final report," he said.

"From these discussion hearings the many ideas toward reapportionment will be tabulated and given consideration by the committee. As you know the report will be submitted to the 1953 legislature," he added.

Committeemen Named

In addition to Hitchcock and Spatz, committee members include State Sen. Richard L. Neuberger, Portland, State Reps. David Baum, La Grande; H. H. Chindgren, Molalla, and Ivan C. Laird, Sitkum, and advisory members Jack Allen, Pendleton; George Brown, Portland; Mrs. Will Davis, Portland; N. B. Giustina, Eugene; Elmer McClure, Portland; James T. Marr, Portland; H. S. Mersereau, Prineville; Thomas F. Sandoz, Astoria, and Marshall Swearingen, Salem. Ralph W. Staley, Portland, is executive secretary of the committee.

There were 36,679,316 visitors to national park and monument areas in 1951, a new travel record. This is a 12 per cent increase over the record set in 1950.

Pear Psylla Active; Spray Recommended

Rogue valley orchardists were warned today that pear psylla is now becoming active and is laying eggs. The pear psylla "overwinter" on trees as adults and an examination of trees yesterday by L. G. Gentner, southern Oregon experiment station entomologist, disclosed that there are newly laid eggs and a scattering of adult psylla in several orchards.

According to C. B. Cordy, county extension agent for horticulture, the large number of eggs which the psylla are laying shows the necessity of applying a calyx spray to pear trees for control. One spray at calyx time will ordinarily give control, but in orchards where psylla are most numerous it may be necessary to spray a second time later in the summer, Cordy states.

Politeness Watchword Of Connecticut Police

Hartford, Conn.—(U.P.)—The query "Think you're going to a fire?" is outmoded as far as Connecticut state police are concerned.

Politeness is the watchword. Stopping motorists to warn or arrest them, or in many cases to help them, is called making "operator contacts."

Oshkosh, Wis.—(U.P.)—Max Fenzl lost his wallet and $61 when his boat tipped on Lake Winnebago. He got the wallet back with $61 in water-soaked bills inside. A fisherman who spotted it floating returned it intact.

NOW THEY KNOW

Warren, Conn.—(U.P.)—Litchfield's county dairy farmers have a better idea of what happens from the time a cow is fed until it is milked. They held a meeting at which a movie was shown depicting the inner-workings of a cow's stomach.

TIME ON HIS HANDS

New Haven, Conn.—(U.P.)—Police said a burglar will swap one kind of time for another if they catch up with him. The man with lots of time on his hands stole 731 wrist watches valued at $2,700 from a local clock company.

Patient Objects

Knoxville, Tenn.—(U.P.)—It was only a temporary arrangement, but the patient let doctors and nurses at St. Mary's hospital know he didn't like being moved into the obstetrical unit.

The man seemed more relaxed when, after only a few minutes in the exclusive maternity section, he was moved to another floor.

"It was all brought about by crowded conditions," hospital officials reported.

Officials Criticized For Prisoner Release

Salem—(U.P.)—Warden Virgil O'Malley Wednesday issued a criticism of officials at Oregon State prison for letting a convict go two hours earlier than they should have.

John H. Parker, 27, had served a two-year sentence and was released Monday two hours before Klamath county authorities arrived to take him into custody as he stepped through the prison gates.

Warden O'Malley said Parker's record clearly showed that Klamath county had a detainer on him and he said it was "just plain carelessness" that allowed Parker to be released before the Klamath officials arrived to take him into custody.
