Portland Councilmen Okeh Increased Transit Charge

Portland—(U.P.)—Portland bus fares will go up to 15 cents at 2 a.m. Sunday as the result of approval of a fare boost in the Portland city council.
The increase in fares from the present 13 cents for a single ride gave city officials new hope that a threatened strike by Portland Traction company employees could be settled before the strike deadline Monday.
Council Votes 3 to 1
The city council voted 3 to 1 Friday to raise the single ride fare to 15 cents; to fix the price of a weekly pass at $2.40, and to increase the student fare to seven cents.
After the boost was approved, Gordon Steele, president of PTC, and Harvey Thomas, AFL Streetcar-men's union agent, agreed to resume contract negotiations Saturday.

The union also called a special membership meeting Sunday to consider any proposals developed in the negotiations.

Spokesmen for both the union and the company have said the fare structure recommended by a citizens' advisory committee might form the basis for peaceful settlement of the labor dispute.

Final Settlement Near On Loggers' Contract

Portland—(U.P.)—Final settlement was near Saturday in the season's first negotiations in the forest industries.
The CIO Woodworkers of America and Weyerhaeuser Timber company reached a tentative agreement on a new contract Friday.
Subject to the union's membership approval, the agreement provides an hourly wage increase of 7½ cents retroactive to April 1, three additional paid holidays and an increase of night differential from four to six cents. Loggers on the "hoot owl" or early morning shift will get the night differential.
The contract also has to be approved by the wage stabilization board.

Try To Smoke Out Wife Gives Man Prison Term

Buffalo, N.Y.—(U.P.)—Attempts to smoke out his wife from a bedroom had a 38-year-old man headed for prison Saturday.
After a family quarrel in which the wife reportedly threw a fish at her husband, Frank Reichard retaliated by tossing a flaming newspaper into the bedroom barricaded by the wife. He then told her "to croak in there," the wife, Mrs. Laura Reichard, 35, testified.
Judge Carlton A. Fisher told Reichard he could give him up to 40 years for his conviction of first degree arson, but reduced it to from two to five years, figuring the whole incident "is strictly a husband and wife action."

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—FIFTEEN

Confusion Claimed On Projected Dam

Washington—(U.P.)—Sen. Wayne Morse Saturday accused opponents of Hell's Canyon dam, including the governor of Idaho, with trying to confuse and mislead the House Interior Affairs committee.
The Oregon Republican said testimony before the committee this week was intended "to scare the people of Idaho" into believing there is not enough water in the Snake river for both upstream irrigation and power production at Hell's Canyon.
Morse said he will testify in support of the project after the Easter recess.
He said Gov. Len Jordan of Idaho, who wants to use all the Snake's water for Idaho irrigation, neglected to say that power revenues from Hell's Canyon or a similar dam are needed to repay the cost of irrigation works.
