Mrs. Warren Would Strive To Make Real Home of White House

Editor's note: This is the third of a series of five sketches of wives of Republican presidential candidates.

Sacramento, Calif. — (U.P.) — Mrs. Earl Warren dedicates her life to her family and her home. If her husband, the governor of California, wins the Republican nomination and the election, she will do her best to make the White House a real home.

But a presidential victory for Warren almost certainly would be followed by a scattering of the Warren family — and a change of pace for his wife. The Warrens are an unusually close-knit family. Actually, only three of the children—Earl Jr., 22, Nina, 18, and Bobby, 17—are living at home now. But the others are within commuting distance. James, 33, is working for an advertising agency and with his wife and three children lives in San Francisco. Virginia, 23, and Dorothy, 20, are at nearby schools.

One thing seems certain if the Warrens do move to Washington. With three pretty, popular daughters, there almost surely would be a White House wedding for the first time in nearly 50 years.

Never Makes Speech
Mrs. Warren has always felt the best way to help her husband in his political career is to maintain a smoothly running household. She never makes a speech or comments on political matters.

Warren once explained it this way: "I do the talking in public and Mrs. Warren does the talking at home."

Nina Palmquist Warren was born in Sweden but was brought to California as an infant. She was married in 1919 to Grover Meyers, who died of tuberculosis a few years later. James is the son of that marriage. Warren later adopted him.

Met at Swimming Party
Warren met the pretty young widow at a swimming party when he was deputy district attorney of Alameda county. They were married in 1925.

Mrs. Warren is of medium height, blue-eyed and has auburn hair, now graying. She has excellent taste in clothes, and in the days before her marriage she managed three dress shops.

For some years after they moved into the governor's mansion, she did much of the housework, including the cooking and ironing her husband's shirts.

Mrs. Warren is a charming hostess with the rare quality of making each guest feel genuinely welcome. She does not smoke or drink, but she doesn't mind if others do.

The regular Easter service at the church will be a program at 10 a.m. by the primary department, followed by the lesson period. At 11 a.m. the regular Easter worship service will be held, with special music by the choir and a message from the pastor. All in the community are invited to attend.

Physicians described Gale's bites as "most serious."

Marine Corps League Talent Show Slated

An amateur talent show sponsored by the Marine Corps League has been planned May 3, according to Aubrey Adams, commandant of the Medford detachment of the league.

Adams said the show will be in the Medford high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Contestants will be divided in a 6 to 12-year-old group, and a 12 through 18 age group, he reported.

The Medford Marine detachment will select judges for the show. One contestant will be chosen to compete July 17 in Portland in the state finals, Adams said. The state winner will receive a week's free trip by air to Hollywood, a year's supply of clothing, and other prizes.

Proceeds from the shows, currently being conducted in 15 major Oregon cities, will be divided among Marine Corps league detachments in Oregon for use in rehabilitation programs, Adams said.

High School PTA Groups Attacked At Convention

Pendleton, Ore. — (U.P.) — The 39th annual meeting of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers was scheduled to conclude Wednesday after Dr. Harold Bernard dropped a bombshell in the laps of convention delegates Tuesday. The associate professor of education in the Oregon extension division said:

"I wish high school Parent-Teacher associations would be voted out of existence."

Want To Get Away
Dr. Bernard then explained he thought children of high school age wanted to get away from their parents a bit, and he argued that the youths should be allowed to run their own affairs.

Dr. Bernard quickly added, however, that he felt differently about elementary school PTAs and said, "The more of them the better."

The 650 convention delegates were noticeably upset by the announcement.

The convention was scheduled to hear the report by its state president, Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, at the windup session today.
