

Moving of Mountain Range Responsible For Midwest Quake

Oklahoma City — (U.P.) — Experts said Thursday that a massive underground mountain range moved four inches and the whole Midwest and Southwest trembled in the resultant earthquake.

The earthquake shook sod, buildings and citizens from Des Moines, Ia., to Austin, Tex., Wednesday. At some points the tops of tall buildings swayed six inches.

Least Expected

Tornado-uneasy residents of the Southwest, warned earlier that twisters might strike the section, least of all expected an earthquake.

It was the first earthquake in the history of Kansas. And it wasn't even recorded, because the seismograph at the University of Kansas was out of paper.

The explanation for the earthquake was that the vast underground Nemha mountain range, extending from Nebraska to Oklahoma, shifted itself four inches from one end to the other, generating the earth tremors.

Area Got Off Easy

Actually the Midwest and Southwest got off easy as a result, said the Rev. Joseph Downey, seismologist at Regis college at Denver, Colo.

He estimated that the epicenter of the quake probably was north of Oklahoma City. It was a "seven intensity" earthquake, Downey said, violent enough to have done serious damage if its epicenter had been in a city.

The only casualty reported was a Tulsa, Okla., woman who was hurt when plaster fell on her head as the shocks commenced with a "rumble like thunder."

St. Peter's Sets Services Tonight

St. Peter's Lutheran church, 1020 East Main street, will have worship services today at 8 p. m., according to the Rev. Kenneth F. Korby, pastor.

For Good Friday, two services are planned, he announced.

A three-hour service will begin at 12 noon and continue until 3 p. m. The Rev. Paul Harms, Grace church, Ashland, will assist in the service and preaching. The theme for the sermons is "Seven Words of Christ to the Church."

Friday at 8 p. m. the final service of Lent will be held. Mr. Korby will preach on "Sloth," the final in a series of sermons on the seven deadly sins.

On Easter Sunday morning two services are arranged. One will be at 8:30 a. m. with Mr. Paul Harms preaching. At 11 a. m. a holy communion will be celebrated and the sermon will be on the Christian's share in the resurrection life of Jesus through baptism into Him.

Anyone not attending church somewhere else, is invited to attend any or all of these services, the pastor said.

Italy's 'Bing Crosby' Denied U.S. Entry

New York — (U.P.) — Carlo Buti, known as the Bing Crosby of Italy, was denied admission to this country when he arrived here Wednesday aboard the Italian liner Saturnia.

The crooner and his secretary were detained, pending an investigation — at Ellis Island by immigration authorities under the McCarran security act of 1950, which prohibits the entry of aliens connected in any way with totalitarian movements.

Former Luciano Aide Opens Club in Rome

Rome, Italy — (U.P.) — Ralph Liguori, one-time "lieutenant" of deported New York Vice King Charles Lucky Luciano, opened the "Stork Club" Wednesday night and is already billing it as "Rome's most ancient and characteristic club."

"Your New York Host, Ralph," as he lists himself, said the new night club was strictly his own and that Luciano had no part in it. It was his sixth such venture here.

52 Applications Received So Far For Festival Jobs

Ashland — Angus L. Bowmer, producing director for the Oregon Shakespearean festival, said today that he had received 52 applications from actors and actresses in 16 states who wish to audition for roles in the 1952 festival productions. The number is far above than of the same date in previous years, he said.

Applicants from California lead those from other states, with New York second, the producer said. Other states represented on early applications are Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Texas, Nebraska, Iowa, Massachusetts, and the District of Columbia.

Many To Return

Bowmer pointed out that this number did not include many from last year's company who plan to return but who have not yet made formal application. As usual, many of the applicants are drama students at colleges and universities, but an unusually large number have had professional experience, he said. Festival actors are not paid, but board and room scholarships are available to a limited number again this year.

Tryouts will be in the Ashland theater on June 16 and 17, with rehearsals starting immediately. The 30-day festival season opens August 1.

Americans Expected To Save During 1952

Washington — (U.P.) — Americans will save — not spend — in 1952, the Federal Reserve Board predicted Thursday.

Based on a survey of a "cross-section" of American consumers, the reserve said it could foresee no break in the public's year-old non-buying tendency.

Consumers do not want as many cars, refrigerators, radios or washing machines as they did at this time last year, the FRB said. In fact, they don't want as many of these items as manufacturers can produce, even with present metal shortages.

Hanford Construction Goes on 5-Day Week

Richland — (U.P.) — More than 1,000 workers will be laid off Monday when the $180,000,000 construction program at the Hanford atomic plant goes on a five-day week.

E. B. Skeels, general manager of Atkinson-Jones Construction company, said the 20 per cent payroll cut was the beginning of a gradual tapering-off of work on the present project. The program has been on a six-day week since April 23, 1950.

Corps of Engineers Has Logs for Sale

The logs are located along the Lane county electric cooperative right-of-way near Lowell, Ore. Bids on the logs will be opened here April 17. Engineers said interested persons may inspect them by contacting the resident engineer of Lookout Point at Lowell.

Kiwanis Speaker Says Service Only Happiness Source

The only way to be happy is to serve, Bayne E. Driskill declared in a talk to Medford Kiwanians yesterday at Rogue Valley Country club.

Driskill, who is currently conducting a visitation evangelism campaign for First Christian church here, is director of evangelism for the denomination in Texas.

The quest for happiness is the oldest quest of man, Driskill told Kiwanians.

Just to have good health, youth, a great career or wealth does not assure happiness, he pointed out. Driskill brought out that to achieve happiness one must divorce himself from material things and serve God. "Don't clutter up your life with things," he said. "Things become a burden to you. Put real values in your life," he advised.

"You can be happy if you want to be," Driskill maintained. He told Kiwanians to follow the ideals of their churches, their club and the Master.

George Stacey, financial chairman for the recent Kiwanis Kapers, gave tentative figures indicating a profit of more than $4,000 from the show for the Medford club. The funds will be used for aid of underprivileged youngsters.

School Administrators Seek Teachers at SOC

Ashland — Twelve Oregon school administrators have already contacted prospective teachers at Southern Oregon college this spring and at least that many more are expected to recruit staff members here, according to Dr. Bill A. Sampson, placement director.

R. E. Jewell, superintendent of schools at Bend, visited the campus yesterday and interviewed a number of seniors. Dr. Sampson said. Increasing enrollment in elementary schools is causing an unusually large number of school districts to make special teacher selection trips, he said.

Other school leaders who have recently visited the campus have been Frank Bennett, Salem; M. C. Deller, Myrtle Creek; Dale T. Waddill, Reedsport; Chester F. Cook, Riddle; William Riddieberger, Sutherlin; Ray Hunsaker, Coquille; Leland Linn; Ashland; Arnold Gralapp, Klamath Falls; Otis Johnson, Grants Pass; Dean Lobough, Eugene assistant superintendent, and Lynn Johnson, Portland elementary principal.

THEY PLAY IT SAFE

Sydney, Australia — (U.P.) — Many of the thousands of ticket buyers in the New South Wales state lottery, drawn daily with a $5,000 ($13,000) first prize, give the general post office, Sydney, as their address. Officials believe it is a precaution against charity requests and borrowers.

TOO MUCH EXCITEMENT

Solvay, N. Y. — (U.P.) — An exciting television program was too much for seven-year-old Elaine Szaeck, 7. She wound up in the hospital with an arm injury after she had toppled off a chair while watching the program.

helping
Give the little lady a hand

THIS ad is addressed to husbands — husbands who've yearned for the thrill of sitting behind a broad hood packed with horsepower — and the pride of rolling down the street in a car that tells the world, "Here's a man, who knows the finest thing on wheels."

But husbands have wives. And wives have been known to say, "No big cars for me. They're too hard to handle."

Well, we have an answer for that one. It's a ROADMASTER with Buick's new Power Steering.† And Power Steering takes over any time the steering gets tough — works like a helping hand — reduces the effort of turning the wheel of a car at a standstill to about the same effort it takes to pick up a mink coat.

BUT out on the open highway — with a clear straight stretch before you — your hands still have command of the wheel — you can feel that sure, firm, easy and eager responsiveness that's a part of the fun of driving.

The rest of the fun is in something else that's new this year — the highest horsepower that a Buick Fireball Engine has ever delivered — and an Airpower carburetor that lets loose an extra reserve of power when needed, and still adds extra miles to your cruising range on each tankful of gas.

So we suggest a family demonstration. You'll both like the hushed and restful silence of this superbly able traveler. You'll like the harmonious beauty of its interior, and the deep and luxurious softness of its seats.

You'll like the velvet-gloved grip of its Wide-Band brakes, and the most capacious trunk in Buick history.

You'll like the smooth surge of Dynaflo Drive, and you'll like — but why waste time talking, when you could be finding out more than we can ever tell you? How about making a date to do that right now?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. While sidevalve optional at extra cost when available. †Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster only.
