Central Point Garden Club Holds Annual Spring Show

Central Point—"If you would have a mind at ease, a heart that cannot harden; Find a gate that opens wide, Upon a beautiful garden."

These words greeted the many persons as they entered the American Legion hall last Saturday to view the spring flowers displayed by the Central Point Garden club. Entering the hall, each walked down a garden path complete with picket fence and through the gate; on either side of the path were moss-covered rocks, flowers, shrubs and a pond with gold fish. This entrance was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Swing.

The tea table, centered with a bubbling fountain and candles, was covered with a pink flocked-organza cloth; overhead was an umbrella filled with flowers, symbolic of the theme of the show, "April Showers." The small tea tables were arranged with bouquets and small plastic umbrellas. Guests pouring were Mrs. George Smith, Gold Hill; Mrs. Harry O. Smith, Cave Junction; Mrs. John Holst, Butte Falls; Mrs. Otto Nagel, Eagle Point; Miss Claire Hanley, Jacksonville and Mrs. E. W. Jermak, Ashland, who is Siskiyou district president. The punch table was decorated in an Easter theme.

Near the center of the hall were tables of arrangements of various kinds of spring flowers. The club resolution was the theme of a table-top scene of a garden complete with real lawn, path and a gardener planting flowers. A conservation exhibit displayed a made Christmas tree. Everlasting arrangements and a display of driftwood also drew interest. Specimens of many varieties of daffodils, narcissi and other flowers were displayed.

Exhibits of primroses were brought by Jerome Prairie Garden club, cup and saucer arrangements by Gold Hill Garden club and miniature arrangements by Eagle Point Garden club. Roxy Gardeners showed a figurine with flowering plum and the Medford Garden club displayed a table of "Corsages for My Lady." Jacksonville Garden club sent an Easter greeting with an arrangement of evergreen centered with a cross of white scilla by a white Madonna; canaries were brought by Mrs. R. N. Finney of Jacksonville. Mrs. W. L. Walden exhibited a table of narcissi and daffodil specimens.

Rogue Valley greenhouse decorated the stage while Barnum's Carlton nursery, Berrydale Flower Farm, Pierce's Plants and Grange Co-op exhibited commercial displays.

During the afternoon and evening a program was presented with Mrs. Jermak at the microphone. The "Mischoris," in gay gowns and carrying plastic umbrellas, sang. This group is composed of Misses Betty Blackwood, Harriett Johnson, Jean Norum, Carolyn Hoyer, Marsha Doran, Gwenda Bennett, Marjorie White, Vera Abbott and Charlene Paul.

The "Honey Tones," the Misses Norum, Bennett and Paul also sang. Both groups from Crater high school were accompanied by Miss Phyllis Hanse. The two numbers whistled by Mrs. Norman Gail, Gold Hill, had an unexpected obligato provided by two canaries on the stage. Mrs. Gail was accompanied by her daughter, Grace.

Students from Miss Pat's School of Dance presented five dances in costume. Appearing in these numbers both afternoon and evening were Jerolyn Burroughs, Sharon Miller, Eileen Finegan, Marlene Davis, Sue Ann Rutherford, Margo Stansell, Ken Zimmerlee, Jeanne Warner, Winifred Gott, Judy and Jackie Ayres, Jerry Chenault, JoAnn Simpson, De Anna Abbott, Carolyn Menck, Barbara Graber and Karen Eberius. Pianist for the group was Mrs. Helen Meyerie. In the evening Mrs. Harold Pierce sang, accompanied by Mrs. Gaston Floux.
