

KOG Green Guards Invited to Enter Poster Competition

Jackson County Green Guard members Saturday were invited to take part in the eighth annual state-wide fire prevention poster contest sponsored by the Keep Oregon Green association. Members of the guard may enter contest posters from April 15 to 30, according to Lewis L. Simpson, county KOG chairman.

Poster contest entries will be divided into two age divisions. A junior division will include members between 8 and 12 years of age and the senior division will include those from 12 to 16 years old.

Four $5 prizes are to be awarded in each division. Division first place winners will receive a $10 prize, a trip to a state fire warden's headquarters near the Tillamook burn and will receive their cash prizes from Dean Paul M. Dunn of the Oregon State college school of forestry.

The size of the posters must be 11 by 14 inches. Only one poster may be submitted by each Green Guard and must be his own work. On the back of each poster the contestant must print his name, address, age and school. All posters will become the property of the Keep Oregon Green association after judging.

Code Practice Table Completed by Groups

The Rogue Valley Radio club, the civil defense agency and the civil air patrol have recently finished building an eight-position table for radio code practice, members of the organizations said Saturday. The table has been installed in the clubroom at the Jackson county fairgrounds.

The civil air patrol will use the table with civil defense students Mondays at 7:30 p.m. The radio club plans to use the table Thursdays at 7:30 p.m. The table is laid out with station calls for beginners. Members of the organizations point out, however, that most amateurs wishing to increase code speed use their own station call letters.

Instruction in network operation is being offered for an advanced group. Interested persons are invited to attend radio club meetings. Those attending are required to furnish key and ear-phones with a plug.

'China Lobby' Probe Demands Renewed

Washington — (U.P.) — Congressional demands for an investigation of the so-called China lobby have been revived here by documents reporting that Chinese diplomats sought a "secret" pipeline to high Democratic officials in 1950.

Sen. Wayne Morse, R-Ore., submitted the documents for the Congressional record. He said they showed the need for "reappraisal" of U.S. Far Eastern policy. He pressed for prompt action on his proposal for an investigation of the "China lobby."
