

Nutritional Expert Will Give Talk Here Thursday Evening

Dr. Royal Lee, president of the Lee Foundation for Nutritional Research, Milwaukee, Wis., will talk on "The Newer Concepts in Nutrition," Thursday, April 17, at 8 p.m. in the YMCA auditorium. His talk will be open to the public with no admission charge.

Dr. Lee is an electrical engineer, and heads the Lee Engineering company, also of Milwaukee. His interest in nutrition began when his own health broke down rather early in life and his investigations and experiments resulted in the creation of the foundation for nutritional research. Royalties from his inventions paid his way through Marquette university, where he earned the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery.

At present he combines the professions of engineer, nutritional authority and vitamin manufacturer. He will fly to Medford from a conference with the Northwest Dental association meeting in Eugene, Oregon.

His talk will be on food propaganda, the relation of soil to nutrition, and the effect of such proposed plans as fluoridation of water.

Dr. Lee will come to Medford at the invitation of Edward Danrich, editor of The Challenge Magazine, and is sponsored jointly with the Rogue River chapter of the American Academy of Applied Nutrition.
