

Tornado Squad Leaves For Annual Hayward Relay Tussle at Eugene

Eugene—(U.P.)—The 15th annual Hayward relays opened here Friday with competition in B and C classes. Class A contests are scheduled for Saturday.

About 700 preppers are participating in what is an all-Oregon event this year. Washington schools have been forbidden to enter by their own athletic association and no entries had been received from California schools.

There are 15 A schools entered. Eighteen B's and 13 C's took part. Here to defend its last year's crown will be Klamath Falls in the A class.

Medford high's track and field contingent left at noon today to participate in the annual Hayward relays Saturday at Eugene.

The Black Tornado, seven-time winner of the Class A Hayward competition, will have plenty of tough competition as it tries for an eighth title. Grants Pass, close runner-up to Medford in the Rogue relays, will be on hand as will Grant high, winner of the Portland city relays.

Others in the A scrap this year include Klamath Falls, Gresham, Milwaukie, Corvallis, Bend, Marshfield, Eugene and Jefferson and Roosevelt of Portland.

35 On Trip

Coach Bob Newland said that 35 Medford boys will make the trip. Of these 28 are juniors or sophomores. The crews for the various events will be about the same as for the Rogue event last week. A pair of ninth graders, Everett Kastner in the broad jump, and Doug Clark as alternate in the high jump.

Medford will have one of the largest, if not the largest, squads on hand for the session. Grants Pass reportedly will have 26.

Competition is seen as particularly keen this year with Portland schools listed high among the contenders. A comparison of the Rogue and Portland relays, both held last week, shows Portland schools with better marks in five of the nine events common to both meets.

Depth Counts

While first places produce the most points, other placings help a lot and depth will count much in the Hayward rivalry. Depth will be a big advantage in the Medford cause.

Two other Rogue River valley schools were participating today in the B bracket of the Haywards. They were Ashland and Crater of Central Point. Ashland, defending champ, had a squad of 15 entered and Crater took 22 men to the meet.

Schools Divide Honors on Track

Washington won two class rivalries and Roosevelt one class and the medley relay yesterday in a city grade school track tangle.

Washington won Class B 30 to 20 and Class C 41 to 9 and Roosevelt topped Class A 29 2/3 and 20 1/3. Two records fell in Class B and C.

Fishing Season Opens Saturday in 2 Zones

Portland—(U.P.)—General trout season opens on most streams and lakes of Western Oregon Saturday and the State Game Commission's first weekly fishing report of the year says angling in most areas should be excellent.

The zones to be open are the coastal area or Zone 1 and the Willamette, Sandy and Hood river drainages or Zone 2.

The Umpqua or Zone 3 and Rogue river or Zone 4 watersheds will not open until May 3 along with the area east of the Cascade mountains.

Some Lakes Not Open

Coastal and lowland lakes in Zones 1 and 2 are included in the April 19 opening, but lakes within the Mt. Hood and Willamette national forest boundaries will not open until May 30.

"Generally, stream conditions are excellent and unless sudden rains occur no change is anticipated," the commission said.

The daily bag limit is the same as last year with a total of 10 fish a day allowed but not more than five of which may be over 12 inches in length. The minimum size limit for trout in waters of Zone 1 is eight inches in length; and in Zone 2 six inches.

Many Fish Released
The commission said more than 500,000 yearling fish, ranging in size from six to 12 inches, have been released into waters which are opening.

The outlook by area follows:
North coast: Streams low and clear. Angling should be excellent for both rainbow and cutthroat trout.

Central coast: Streams and lakes in excellent condition. Some streams still a little high but clear.

South coast: Good catches of rainbow trout should be made in most streams. Streams still high but clear and dropping.

Mt. Hood area: Streams in good to excellent condition. All streams clear but still cold.

Willamette Valley area: All waters are in good condition at present. Some valley streams are quite low and most are clear.

SHEPARD TO PITCH
Larry Shepard, manager of the Medford Dodgers professional baseball nine in 1948, is scheduled to pitch tonight for Hollywood against Sacramento in the Pacific Coast league. Some Medford fans will be able to pick up the game broadcast at 9 p.m. today. Station KFBK, Sacramento, will carry the game.

Eugene—(U.P.)—Washington State college moved to Eugene Friday to open a two-day battle with the University of Oregon baseballers.

Freshman southpaw Jack Spring limited the Beavers to six hits while Bud Roffler pounded out a homer and a single to lead the Cougars.

82 Maryland Gridders Given Scholarships

Washington—(U.P.)—Eighty-two members of the University of Maryland's Sugar Bowl champion football team last year had athletic scholarships. University President H. C. Byrd disclosed Friday.

However, Byrd declared that there was no reason for the college to feel "the slightest bit ashamed of it."

Speaking before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Byrd declared that the scholarships covered only the students' college expenses, an average of $612 per student per year, and added he saw nothing "wrong" about them.
