Masonic Lodges Plan Square Dance Saturday Evening

The last square dance party of the spring for Medford Masonic members has been set for Saturday, April 26, at 8 p.m. in Medford Masonic temple.

Caller will be Mrs. Versie Kirk, Portland, well known member of the Columbia Basin Square Dance Callers' association. This will be Mrs. Kirk's first appearance as a caller in the valley, but she is said to be popular as a caller in the Portland district. She is a member of Daughters of the Nile.

The square dance party will be sponsored by Medford Masonic lodge and Crater Lake chapter, Royal Arch Masons. The two groups have been sponsoring dancing parties for the past several months.

Bruce Merrifield and Jack Caldwell are chairmen of the committee and state that the evening's entertainment will include dances of all types in order that everyone attending may participate. Cards will be played by those not wishing to dance.

Refreshments will be served at 11:30 p.m.

Temporary Change In Cast of Play; Navy Calls Actor

Ashland — Director Richard Graham steps into the role of Lane, a bored butler more snobbish than his master, in tonight's Vining Repertory production of "The Importance of Being Earnest."

The role is usually played by Eddy Barron who flew to Portland yesterday for a physical examination preliminary to re-entering the Navy May 28 in San Diego. He will return in time for his role in "Death of a Salesman" tomorrow. The actor is a graduate of the University of Washington and veteran of the Shakespearean festival. He has spent the last two years acting and entertaining with the Virginia City Players of Montana, for whom he also wrote publicity.

He will be able to finish the season with the Vining Repertory before departing for San Diego.

Harris, Joan Zemlicka, Alison Campbell, Jo Anne Campbell, Sharron Callahan, Nancy Jennings, Ann Rentchler, Carmen Hughes, Nancy Lambo, Shirley Bailey, Carol Herdman, Jo Anne Christian and Mrs. Jean Johnson.

Next event will be the model meeting to be held at the home of Miss Marie Wimer 1115 West Second street, May 5.

Red Cross Names New Chairmen; Month Reviewed

Two new chairmen were named and March activities reviewed at the last meeting of Red Cross chairmen held in the home of Mrs. Frank Fairweather. Mrs. Ben Stafford was named chairman of social welfare aides, to replace Mrs. Marie Pierce, resigned, and Mrs. O. A. Eden was named to the civil defense committee to represent the Red Cross groups.

Chairman of Gray Ladies service to the community corps reported on the continuing program of ministrations to the handicapped, a. g. e. d., paralytic, blind and victims of polio and multiple sclerosis victims. It was stated that a concentrated program for the visually handicapped has been underway.

Gray Ladies serving at Camp White reported 272 hours of volunteer service given by the 26 women for the month of March, and that a birthday party had been given at the camp. The Gray Lady orientation course was given for two women.

The motor service corps, which has four certified and 12 uncertified drivers, reported that the latter women were taking first aid courses for the first time, and the four certified drivers were taking refresher courses. Eleven women drive on a weekly basis, two drive for the blood bank and two for the Junior Red Cross.

A report by the production corps chairmen showed that five women's organizations had con-

Doris Helen Calkins (center) harpist on the faculty of the University of Oregon, will be one of the featured musicians to play on the program planned for Tuesday, April 22, at Medford Senior High school under the auspices of Medford Musical society. Mrs. Calkins will be assisted by a string quartet from Eugene made up of Mollie Small Herdin, Constance Elkins, Gwendolen Lampshire Hayden and Roberta Lathrop. Josephine Spaulding, mezzo-soprano from Portland, will be the other featured soloist, and Lucile Schramm is accompanist. The program will begin at 8 p.m. and is being given to benefit the society's scholarship fund.

Infant Christened Sunday Morning

Christening rites were held Sunday morning, April 20, at First Methodist church for Valerie Lamborn Miller, infant daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William J. Miller, 815 West Main street. The Rev. Meredith A. Groves officiated.

Mrs. William Schel is godmother for the child, and Dr. William E. Jones is godfather. Dr. Miller's mother, Mrs. R. J. Miller of Palo Alto, Calif., came to Medford for the ceremony.

tributed 149 articles of varying nature. These included garments for hospitals, articles for infants and for the blood bank program.

Staff aides reported five volunteers had given 55 volunteer hours in the chapter office and that an additional six had worked 85 hours for the blood program. In addition, the staff aides had given time for the fund campaign.

Additional material on Red Cross activities is reviewed in the monthly report of the chapter executive secretary, Mrs. Enid Rankin.

Four bloodmobile visits in the county during February and March netted a total of 778 pints of blood, Mrs. Rankin stated. For home nursing it was stated that eight new teachers had been trained and certified and 57 women given free instruction in home nursing.

Seven first aid classes were said to be in progress, and the report also contained information on the recent demonstration of setting up a first aid station in an emergency situation.

Also mentioned in the report were a water safety life-saving class conducted at the YMCA, and arrangements for a water safety instructor's schools May 5-9.

The report on disaster services showed that funds, food, clothing and furniture had been supplied for two families which had been burned out. It was also reported that 49 people had been recruited for the first mobile shelter team, and that a test was made March 28 at First Presbyterian church.

Programs at Camp White and two Junior Red Cross council meetings were reviewed in the Junior Red Cross report, as well as assistance provided for the fund drive.

An extensive home service report showed 120 servicemen or their families interviewed during March. Of 88 welfare reports, 52 were for the military, and counsel was given 40 families of servicemen. A total of 111 disabled veterans were assisted, and 11 claims were still being processed, according to the report. Seven families were provided used clothing during the month.
