Lady Ashley Given Divorce From Gable

Santa Monica, Calif.—(U.P.)—Lady Sylvia Ashley hobbled into court on crutches Monday to win a default divorce from her matinee idol husband, Clark Gable, because "He told me he didn't wish to be married to me or anyone else."

The honey blonde Lady Sylvia, still suffering from a broken foot which she received in an auto accident in Nassau four months ago, received a hefty property and alimony settlement but far short of the $1,000,000 she was reported to have sought.

Property, Percentage
Superior Judge Stanley Mosk awarded her $8,002.47 in community property. Additionally she gains 10 per cent of the actor's gross salary for the first year and 7 per cent a year from the next four years.

Although attorneys for both Lady Sylvia and Gable refused to disclose his income, Hollywood circles said his movie salary alone is about $17,500 a week which would give the British beauty an approximate $138,200.

Blind Broom Sale Committee Named

A five-man committee has been named to head the annual broom sale sponsored by the Medford Lions club and scheduled for Saturday, April 26, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., it was announced today by Hil Meyerle, chairman.

They are Robert Dames, publicity; Eston Humphrey, morning sales; Alva Perkins, afternoon sales; Gordon Mackenzie, signs and placards; and Oscar Gage, locations.

All of the brooms handled in the sale have been made at State-sponsored factory in Portland, where physically handicapped persons are employed. The project is in cooperation with Sam Evans, independent sales representative in Medford, with the club's profits being scheduled for use in work with the visually handicapped in Jackson county.

Dishwater Does Ducks Dirt
Hartford, Conn.—(U.P.)—Detergents may be fine for removing grease from dirty dishes, but they're making life tough for ducks. A sportsmen's group reports that dishwater, which finds its way into bays and inlets, reduces the oily coating of ducks, making their feathers waterlogged and giving them trouble swimming.

German Refugees Organize For Cross-Country Journey

Frankfurt, Germany — (U.P.)—An army of tens of thousands of German World War II refugees, embittered and hopeless after eight years of living in ramshackle state-run camps, is organizing for a mass cross-country trek this spring in search of new homes and jobs.

The march, planned for the end of April or early May, may develop into the greatest mass migration of refugees in Europe since the war. Its leaders claim that up to 300,000 refugees are preparing to join it in vast columns that will choke the country's highways.

They are the desperate "hard core" residue of nearly 9,000,000 refugee Germans driven at the war's end from their homes in Soviet-occupied Germany and the Sudeten area of Czechoslovakia and dumped on already overcrowded western Germany.

In Desolate Country
About 400,000 still are living rammed in wooden barracks and Nissen hut camps waiting for lagging resettlement measures by the West German government. Most of the camps are in desolate marshland country scattered over northern Germany up to the Danish frontier. Another 100,000 live in camps in Bavaria.

The trek leaders plan to lead the refugees into areas of western and southwestern Germany where the refugee population is relatively small.

They announced that thousands are signing up daily for the march and that only urgent resettlement measures by the Bonn government can stop it.

The biggest march columns are being organized in the refugee camps in Schleswig-Holstein and Lower Saxony, where 250,000 refugees still are housed in camps and where they comprise roughly one-third of the total population. Most were expelled from their homes in East Prussia and Pomerania as the Red army advanced into Germany in 1945.

Leader White-Haired
Their leader is Reinhard Noack, 54, white-haired former staff manager of a factory at Spandau, near Berlin, who has lived since the war with his family in an expellee camp just south of the Danish frontier.

In Bavaria, where tens of thousands of refugees are housed in camps in the desolate wooded mountain area near the Czech frontier, Rudolf Breske, an expellee from Danzig is organizing another great trek down towards the big cities of the plains.

Leaders claim that funds are pouring in from churches and charitable organizations and that the local farmers have promised to furnish carts, horses and bedding for the refugees if and when they take to the roads.

The refugees' plan is to camp in public squares and market places and to stay there until local authorities do something about finding them houses. If they are headed off by police at the entrance to a city they plan to move in by "infiltration" methods.
