Convention Reports Heard at Meeting Of Junior High PTA

Convention reports featured the last meeting of Junior High School Parent-Teacher association, held at the school. Four teachers spoke of the annual meeting of Oregon Education association, to which 10,000 teachers belong, and delegates to the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers also reported on the 1952 convention of that group.

Glenn Linn, principal, introduced the speakers. Mrs. Maxine Smith, teacher who helped plan the program for the OEA meeting, quoted particularly statistics given by Dr. John Bracken, Clayton, Miss., past president of the American Association of School Administrators. In the United States there are 95,000 teachers with less than two years of training, she quoted the speaker, and in Iowa more than one-half of the teachers have had less than 30 college hours of training beyond high school.

Mrs. H. W. Gustin reported on the convention speeches of Dr. Daniel A. Poling, author and editor of the Christian Herald, quoting him as saying it is the job of the teacher to develop conscience and impart knowledge. Teachers cannot be paid money for the sacrifices that good teachers make, she quoted Dr. Poling.

She quoted John Fisher of the Canadian Broadcasting company as saying that education is our first line of defense, and that education will not come into full flower until it is better supported.

Mrs. Maud Robinson told of the workshops and sectional meeting of OEA and quoted Dr. J. Cloyd Miller as having said that America needs to speak more than one language and advocating refresher courses in high school. She reported that Klamath Falls is now using for the first time a refresher mathematics course similar to Medford's remedial mathematics course in high school and stated that tests used here were circulated among convention mathematics teachers.

Mrs. Virginia Wait reported on the school lunch program, and told of visiting a remodeled school cafeteria.

Mrs. John Danford spoke of the state PTA meeting, saying the convention theme was "World Brotherhood," and that the convention program was on a high spiritual plane. She said speakers reminded the delegates that adults of the world are guiding the children to a world of peace or towards destruction.

Mrs. L. E. Gustison, president, reported on the PTA tuition scholarships plan, saying $10,000 had been given by the PTA for scholarships in order to promote interest in the teaching profession. She said candidates are carefully screened.

It was also announced that Medford had been selected for the 1953 convention city.

Officers Nominated By Gold Hill Lodge; Anniversary Observed

Gold Hill—First nomination of officers for the coming term was held by Amethyst Rebekah lodge at a meeting Wednesday night at the Odd Fellows lodge hall. Mrs. Cecil Johnson was nominated for noble grand to succeed Mrs. Maybelle Rains; Mrs. J. Les Graffis as vice grand; Mrs. Lester Parker, recording secretary; and Mrs. Daniel Stewart, treasurer.

In observance of the 133rd anniversary of the founding of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, a special program of entertainment was presented under the chairmanship of Mrs. Paul Thompson. Others taking part were Mrs. Frank Carter, Mrs. Paul Holderness, Mrs. Cecil Johnson, Mrs. James Clement, Mrs. John Novak, Mrs. Daniel Stewart and Mrs. Graffis.

It was requested that the entire Rebekah lodge take over sponsorship of the bi-weekly square dance classes, rather than just the Past Noble Grands club of the lodge.

Mrs. Rains appointed as the May refreshment committee for the lodge, Mrs. James Clement, chairman; Mrs. Hannah Routh, Mrs. John Novak and herself.

Mrs. Parker reported that she had visited Mrs. Katherine Kellogg, charter member, in Medford and had presented her the veteran membership jewel which was a gift of the lodge. The presentation had been planned for a previous lodge meeting, but Mrs. Kellogg has been unable to attend because of her health.

It was announced that $10.46 had been collected for the project fund of the Rebekah assembly president, Mrs. Mary S. Allen, and had been sent to her to go toward the purchase of a pastry table and cabinets for the Odd Fellows Home in Portland.

Members having birthdays in April were honored and refreshments were served by Mrs. Ferd Jones, assisted by Mrs. Ramon Bickel and Mrs. Lloyd Dusenberry.
